Raises Mixed Reactions And Emotions In Europe

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The image of the efficient American is as bright as ever in European eyes—but the image of the United States is clouded and confused.

The war in Vietnam, a summer of race riots and reports of an alarming crime rate have raised mixed reactions and emotions.

"You people have taken over the world leadership we once had and you're welcome to it, mate," a Cockney cabbie in London tells his American passenger.

A Gaullist Cabinet minister in Paris warns against "the Americanization of French life."

An Italian clerk in Rome says: "I feel sorry for the Americans and we owe them so much."

British officials feel the United States is preoccupied with promoting its own interests, notably in Asia where the chief challenge has arisen.

Economic Front

On the economic front, there is concern that huge U.S. companies will gain control of science-based industries that hold the key to West Europe's future.

Sir Paul Chambers, head of Britain's giant Imperial Chemical Industries and an advocate of British entry into the European Common Market, warned against U.S. domination becoming "a menace to the whole economy of Western Europe."

Britons still look at the United States as the land of opportunity. But there's still plenty of criticism.

One British reporter, after a 6,000-mile trip through the United States, reported that he found "confusion, irritation, bewilderment."

"Attitudes are hardening," he said. "There is less tolerance."

Nevertheless, more than 6,000 scientists, technologists and engineers—along with scores of doctors—left Britain last year for the United States for more money and better chances of promotion.

Cultural Wilderness

A government report, while expressing concern about the "brain drain," quoted one aeronautical engineer who emigrated as saying about Englishmen working with him: "Almost without doubt, all would prefer life in England. This is a cultural wilderness."

Ken Mills, 45-year-old aviation expert, emigrated to the United States last year, began making more money than ever before in his life, but still came home again. He told friends: "My younger son could not join us in America without the risk of being called up for Vietnam."

Dr. Joshua Bierer, one of Britain's outstanding psychiatrists, said: "Americans as leaders of the free world have developed symptoms of a guilt complex over their inability to cope with Vietnam and with the color problem and the breakdown of moral discipline at home."

Against Taking Sides

A recent public opinion poll showed 63 per cent of Britons questioned were against taking sides in any major world crisis that brought the threat of war between the United States and Russia.

But while British are looking more to Europe, the Guardian said in a recent editorial: "Our links with the United States must remain."

To Eileen Grant, 19-year-old stenographer, "Americans seem kind of different from us—terribly serious about some things that aren't important to us, like the fuss over the Beatles saying they were more popular than God. As if it really mattered."

American prestige in France is probably lower than it has ever been. The Frenchman seldom carries over his resentment against "America" to the individual "American."

President Charles de Gaulle is waging, with some success, a systematic campaign to undermine the moral credentials of the United States and pledging

Humphrey Views Viet Battle Site

Sees U.S. Artillery Hit Red Positions From His Plane

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Flying a quarter of a mile high between the range of Communist machine guns and missiles, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey surveyed the U.S. Marines' battleground along the demilitarized zone today. From his lumbering transport plane, he saw U.S. artillery hammering Red positions.

As the vice president's slow-flying C118 droned over the scarred terrain where 10,000 Marines have been wounded or killed this year, Humphrey said: "I saw the firing of cannons, and I could see a destroyer offshore."

Marine F4 Phantom and A6 Intruder jets flew cover above the transport while it traveled at 1,500 feet, out of range of machine guns and automatic weapons and below the 3,000-foot level at which planes become vulnerable to Communist missiles that may be positioned just north of the zone. U.S. headquarters reported today that a squadron of Phantoms attacked a suspected missile site just north of the DMZ Tuesday.

Humphrey, dressed in light blue slacks and a sports shirt, suggested landing at Dong Ha, the Marine base 17 miles south of the DMZ, so he could "take a little helicopter ride north."

"You're kidding, sir," one of the Secret Service men replied. The Marines had made elaborate preparations in case the vice president's plane went down. Four H3 helicopters, two helicopter gunships and an infantry force were on the alert at Dong Ha.

Humphrey ended his visit to South Vietnam for the inauguration of President Nguyen Van Thieu with a visit to the Marines at Da Nang before flying

Illinois Bank Robbery Loot Recovered

Posse Seizes 2 Suspects In Slaying Of 2 Officers

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP) — Two men wanted in a suburban Chicago bank robbery in which two policemen were slain were seized Tuesday night at a lake cottage used by one of them as a hideout 11 years ago.

A posse of federal, state and county police officers, acting on a tip, went to the cabin and arrested Clifton O. Daniels, 29, Wilmington, Ill., and Henry M. Gargano, 35. Gargano was found in bed, seriously wounded and "too weak to move."

Two women in the cabin at Fox Lake 12 miles southeast of this northern Indiana city also were arrested. Police identified them as Mary F. Cook, 30, and Annette Gargano Leonardo, 29, both of Lemont, Ill.

Daniels and Gargano were charged in the $83,783 holdup Friday of a Northlake, Ill., bank. The FBI said most of the loot was recovered in the cottage.

A gun battle at the bank between police and the three masked robbers killed officers John J. Nagle Jr., 31, and Anthony P. Perri, 41. Two other policemen were wounded along with Ronald D. Raine, 35, one of the robbers who was charged with two counts of murder.

About 17 officers went to the lake cottage. Most summer cottages at the resort were vacant.

FBI agent Harold A. Berger of South Bend, who led the raid, said the cabin was owned by Gargano's grandfather and that Gargano "used it as a hideout in 1956 after a bank robbery in Francesville, Ind."

Berger said lights were seen inside. Using a bullhorn, he ordered the occupants to come out with their hands up. The two women came out first and related that Gargano was wounded.

Daniels backed out as instructed.

FUGITIVE'S GIRL FRIEND. Mary Cook, in custody at LaPorte county (Ind.) sheriff's office, answers questions after being captured with fugitives Tuesday in Fox Lake, Ind. Miss Cook, along with Mrs. Antoinette Gargano, was taken into custody with two desperadoes hunted for four days in the killings of two policemen in the bank robbery getaway at Northlake, Ill. A heavily-armed posse seized Henry M. Gargano, 35, and Clifton O. Daniels, 29. The FBI identified Mrs. Gargano Leonardo as a sister of one of the fugitives. Miss Cook was described as a "girl friend" of Gargano. (UPI Telephoto)

365 Reds Reported Killed In Attempts To Capture Town

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong mortarmen carried the attack on the Vietnamese district headquarters at Loc Ninh into the fourth day today but left the National Day parade in Saigon alone.

The 200-round barrage fired at one of the American battalions defending Loc Ninh wounded only one man. A total of 365 Communists have been reported killed in attempts this week to overrun the town 72 miles north of Saigon, apparently for a propaganda victory to take some bloom off the inauguration of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Allied casualties at Loc Ninh so far were reported to be seven Americans and 18 South Vietnamese killed, and 21 Americans and 64 South Vietnamese wounded. B52 bombers dropped 300,000 pounds of explosives today on suspected Communist camps and supply areas.

Ground fighting was generally light across the country, but troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division reported killing 22 Viet Cong in a fierce eight-hour fight Tuesday only 19 miles north of Saigon. Six Americans were reported killed and 11 wounded.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey meanwhile inspected the demilitarized zone from a C118 transport that lumbered over the U.S. Marines' war-scarred battlefront at an altitude of 1,500 feet. Hours before Humphrey's plane droned over the DMZ, Marine fighter-

Liquidating Major Financial Interests

Reuther Prepares To Pull His UAW Out Of AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther appears to be liquidating major financial interests in the AFL-CIO in preparation for pulling his 1.5 million member United Auto Workers out of the labor federation, informed sources say.

The AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department, Reuther's last remaining power base within the federation, is rapidly and deliberately spending itself out of money, it was reported.

Jack Conway, executive director of the Industrial Union Department, denied any such significance could be attached to the money problem, but confirmed that more than $1 million has been spent out of cash reserves in the past 10 months. This was more than half the department's total cash.

"It's nothing serious," said Conway, adding that much of the money had been spent supporting organizing drives among teachers, farm workers and Southern textile workers and in helping other unions.

But another labor source said: "It could mean that if Reuther pulls out of the AFL-CIO, he would leave the Industrial Union Department empty-handed."

Reuther has been attacking the leadership of AFL-CIO President George Meany for more than a year and making threatening gestures to secede from the big labor federation the two men founded 12 years ago.

The Auto Workers union has long been the major financial backer of the 60-union Industrial Union Department that embraces some 6 million of the AFL-CIO's total 14 million members.

Reuther quit as a vice president of the AFL-CIO nine months ago and resigned call other posts except the presidency of the Industrial Union Department.

"It's not as if he were spending other people's money," said one source, adding that, in effect, the Industrial Union Department was getting rid of money largely contributed by the Auto Workers.

"And it's not being wasted," this source said, pointing out the money was being spent helping other unions and on community action programs aimed at solving big-city slum problems. These are two of the areas on which Reuther has severely criticized Meany for not being "dynamic" enough.

Conway, while denying the financial straits had anything to do with the Reuther-Meany dispute, said the Industrial Union Department's cash reserves had dwindled from "slightly over $2 million" to "somewhere around $1 million" in the past year.

Other sources said the department's net worth had plummeted from $2,313,761.58 on Dec. 30, 1966, to "in the neighborhood of $800,000" now, a drop of more than $1.5 million in 10 months.

The situation has nothing to do with the AFL-CIO's own separate cash position, which stood at about $5.7 million in the last annual report July 30. This was an increase of more than $500,000 during a year when the Industrial Union Department's reserves had already dropped by more than $600,000.

Before Congress Goes Home For The Year

LBJ Prods Democratic Leaders To Push 20 Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders have been prodded anew by President Johnson to push through 20 administration measures before Congress goes home for the year.

The prod came at a White House meeting Tuesday night between Johnson and the Democratic leadership only hours after the emergence of another likely Senate-House controversy that could take weeks to untangle.

Along with his proposed surcharge on income taxes, Johnson listed Social Security revision among the priority items he wants passed.

Earlier in the day the Senate Finance Committee was reported to have accepted administration calls for a 15 per cent across-the-board boost in Social Security benefits and a $70 minimum monthly benefit.

That decision, reached in closed session, would put the Senate version at loggerheads with a House-passed Social Security bill that would limit to 12½ per cent the across-the-board hikes and to $50 the minimum benefit, now $44.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Finance Committee expressed confidence the measure would be acted on this year despite persistent reports of a strong move to block action until the next session.

After the White House meeting, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Johnson described as a "must" approval of his 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal.

Mansfield said Sunday he saw little chance the tax boost—now bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee—would be considered this session.

United Fund Reaches 90% Of 1967 Goal

The East Liverpool Area United Fund campaign has passed the 90 per cent level toward the 1967 goal of $125,000, John Starkey, chairman of the drive, announced today.

Collections and pledges currently stand at $113,100, Starkey said.

"An encouraging outlook for achieving the goal stems from the fact there are 450 solicitations still not heard from out of the more than 1,100 in the campaign, "Starkey reported.

He said efforts are continuing to get reports in from the remaining donors not on the report forms, and if all measure up to slight increases over last year's "Fair Share," the campaign will go over the top.

Some 15 community service agencies are assisted with funds from the drive which began Oct. 9, with the main effort ended Oct. 21.

In Preparing For 1968 Election

Democrats May Carry Viet Issue To Party Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic critics of President Johnson's Vietnam policy suggest the kind of war debate which has raged in the Senate be carried on in party councils as Democrats prepare for the 1968 White House campaign.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said Tuesday the process he envisions could lead to contests over foreign policy pronouncements in the Democratic platform—and perhaps over the presidential nomination itself.

"You have to anticipate ultimately that there may be a challenge to the President," McCarthy said.

McCarthy said in-party debate over Vietnam would be politically better for the Democrats than "to pretend a unity which is not genuine."

Should Johnson, as expected, seek a second full term in the White House, it would appear virtually impossible for any challenger to wrest the nomination from him.

McCarthy acknowledged that, but said the process of challenge could itself have some impact on administration policy.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee said open discussion of war policy in the months before the Democratic national convention would be helpful to Johnson.

Fulbright said polls indicate a widespread public belief that the nation is not getting the full story on Vietnam, and pre-campaign Democratic discussion of the issue would help overcome that.

Construction Worker Killed In Weirton Fall

Burrell Cecil Porter, 41, of Warwood was dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital Tuesday at 3 p.m. after a fall from a platform at the Weirton Steel Co. "mill of the future."

Mr. Porter died of multiple injuries, hospital spokesmen said. He was employed by Bechtal Construction Co. Authorities said Mr. Porter was working on a beam near the roof of the mill and fell nearly 50 feet. Work on the project was halted for the remainder of the day.

Charles Marchese, project superintendent, said the ironworker, was working on rigging under the new mill's roof when he either slipped or lost his balance. Marchese said it was the first such accident on the project.

Burglars Hit Two Taverns In Wellsville

Burglars entered two taverns in Wellsville early this morning, but were thwarted in an attempt at a market.

Money, whisky and cigarettes were obtained in enterings at the Star - Lite Cafe, 1307 Main St., and the West End Bar, 1747 Main St. Both taverns are owned by Angelo Infanti, who discovered the entries this morning and reported them to the Wellsville police.

Twelve fifths of whisky and $25 in cash were taken at the Star-Lite Cafe, with entry gained through a back door.

Burglars took 20 cartons of cigarettes and $15 in cash from the West End Bar. Police said that juke boxes, cigarette and bowling machines had been emptied. Entrance was made through a side window at the West End Bar.

Police also reported a lock had been jammed at Faloon's Market at 1017 Commerce St., but no entry was made.

SALEM — Power in an area near the heart of downtown Salem was disrupted for nearly eight hours this morning after a tractor - trailer went out of control and smashed into a utility pole on N. Lincoln Ave.

The trucker, Dale G. Morrell, 36, of Indiana Ave., Chester, forfeited a $15 bond in mayor's court on a charge of speed in excess of road conditions.

The tractor, owned by Dale Burton of 316 Cherry St., Lisbon, was demolished.

Police said Morell was driving south on N. Lincoln (Route 62) when he lost control on slippery pavement, leaving the street and striking a tree and pole.

He was released from Salem City Hospital after being treated for lacerations of the scalp.

Economist Optimistic On Keeping It Alive

'Boom' In Its 81st Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economic expansion moved today into its 81st month—longest in history if it lasts through November—and the government's top economist says chances of keeping it alive indefinitely are "greatly improved."

But his optimism, added Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, hinges in large part on the future of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Ackley said the nation now has the knowledge and tools "which greatly improve our chances of sustaining a healthy expansion for an indefinite period."

But he warned that Americans must be willing to use such tools, and said at this time that means approval of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge and cuts in nonessential spending.

"We have learned well enough how to stimulate the economy when it is threatened by slack," Ackley said in a statement Tuesday. "We also must show that we have the self-discipline to apply necessary restraint when the economy is threatened by overheating."

As of Tuesday, the economy completed 80 months of expansion—matching the length of the boom that accompanied World War II.

The current boom began in February 1961, the month after the late President John F. Kennedy was inaugurated. But it hasn't coasted along without an occasional push. Three tax cuts coaxed it forward at critical periods and now the administration wants a tax increase, saying it's needed to stem inflation.

Wood recently came out loser in a disagreement with freshman Roy Prescott of Jerome, Idaho who felt there were too many exams.

Prescott beat the sporty professor two out of three games so there will be fewer examinations in Wood's classes from now on.

Liquidating Major Financial Interests

Reuther Prepares To Pull His UAW Out Of AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther appears to be liquidating major financial interests in the AFL-CIO in preparation for pulling his 1.5 million member United Auto Workers out of the labor federation, informed sources say.

The AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department, Reuther's last remaining power base within the federation, is rapidly and deliberately spending itself out of money, it was reported.

Jack Conway, executive director of the Industrial Union Department, denied any such significance could be attached to the money problem, but confirmed that more than $1 million has been spent out of cash reserves in the past 10 months. This was more than half the department's total cash.

"It's nothing serious," said Conway, adding that much of the money had been spent supporting organizing drives among teachers, farm workers and Southern textile workers and in helping other unions.

But another labor source said: "It could mean that if Reuther pulls out of the AFL-CIO, he would leave the Industrial Union Department empty-handed."

Reuther has been attacking the leadership of AFL-CIO President George Meany for more than a year and making threatening gestures to secede from the big labor federation the two men founded 12 years ago.

The Auto Workers union has long been the major financial backer of the 60-union Industrial Union Department that embraces some 6 million of the AFL-CIO's total 14 million members.

Reuther quit as a vice president of the AFL-CIO nine months ago and resigned call other posts except the presidency of the Industrial Union Department.

"It's not as if he were spending other people's money," said one source, adding that, in effect, the Industrial Union Department was getting rid of money largely contributed by the Auto Workers.

"And it's not being wasted," this source said, pointing out the money was being spent helping other unions and on community action programs aimed at solving big-city slum problems. These are two of the areas on which Reuther has severely criticized Meany for not being "dynamic" enough.

Conway, while denying the financial straits had anything to do with the Reuther-Meany dispute, said the Industrial Union Department's cash reserves had dwindled from "slightly over $2 million" to "somewhere around $1 million" in the past year.

Other sources said the department's net worth had plummeted from $2,313,761.58 on Dec. 30, 1966, to "in the neighborhood of $800,000" now, a drop of more than $1.5 million in 10 months.

The situation has nothing to do with the AFL-CIO's own separate cash position, which stood at about $5.7 million in the last annual report July 30. This was an increase of more than $500,000 during a year when the Industrial Union Department's reserves had already dropped by more than $600,000.

Before Congress Goes Home For The Year

LBJ Prods Democratic Leaders To Push 20 Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders have been prodded anew by President Johnson to push through 20 administration measures before Congress goes home for the year.

The prod came at a White House meeting Tuesday night between Johnson and the Democratic leadership only hours after the emergence of another likely Senate-House controversy that could take weeks to untangle.

Along with his proposed surcharge on income taxes, Johnson listed Social Security revision among the priority items he wants passed.

Earlier in the day the Senate Finance Committee was reported to have accepted administration calls for a 15 per cent across-the-board boost in Social Security benefits and a $70 minimum monthly benefit.

That decision, reached in closed session, would put the Senate version at loggerheads with a House-passed Social Security bill that would limit to 12½ per cent the across-the-board hikes and to $50 the minimum benefit, now $44.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Finance Committee expressed confidence the measure would be acted on this year despite persistent reports of a strong move to block action until the next session.

After the White House meeting, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Johnson described as a "must" approval of his 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal.

Mansfield said Sunday he saw little chance the tax boost—now bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee—would be considered this session.

United Fund Reaches 90% Of 1967 Goal

The East Liverpool Area United Fund campaign has passed the 90 per cent level toward the 1967 goal of $125,000, John Starkey, chairman of the drive, announced today.

Collections and pledges currently stand at $113,100, Starkey said.

"An encouraging outlook for achieving the goal stems from the fact there are 450 solicitations still not heard from out of the more than 1,100 in the campaign, "Starkey reported.

He said efforts are continuing to get reports in from the remaining donors not on the report forms, and if all measure up to slight increases over last year's "Fair Share," the campaign will go over the top.

Some 15 community service agencies are assisted with funds from the drive which began Oct. 9, with the main effort ended Oct. 21.

In Preparing For 1968 Election

Democrats May Carry Viet Issue To Party Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic critics of President Johnson's Vietnam policy suggest the kind of war debate which has raged in the Senate be carried on in party councils as Democrats prepare for the 1968 White House campaign.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said Tuesday the process he envisions could lead to contests over foreign policy pronouncements in the Democratic platform—and perhaps over the presidential nomination itself.

"You have to anticipate ultimately that there may be a challenge to the President," McCarthy said.

McCarthy said in-party debate over Vietnam would be politically better for the Democrats than "to pretend a unity which is not genuine."

Should Johnson, as expected, seek a second full term in the White House, it would appear virtually impossible for any challenger to wrest the nomination from him.

McCarthy acknowledged that, but said the process of challenge could itself have some impact on administration policy.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee said open discussion of war policy in the months before the Democratic national convention would be helpful to Johnson.

Fulbright said polls indicate a widespread public belief that the nation is not getting the full story on Vietnam, and pre-campaign Democratic discussion of the issue would help overcome that.

Construction Worker Killed In Weirton Fall

Burrell Cecil Porter, 41, of Warwood was dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital Tuesday at 3 p.m. after a fall from a platform at the Weirton Steel Co. "mill of the future."

Mr. Porter died of multiple injuries, hospital spokesmen said. He was employed by Bechtal Construction Co. Authorities said Mr. Porter was working on a beam near the roof of the mill and fell nearly 50 feet. Work on the project was halted for the remainder of the day.

Charles Marchese, project superintendent, said the ironworker, was working on rigging under the new mill's roof when he either slipped or lost his balance. Marchese said it was the first such accident on the project.

Burglars Hit Two Taverns In Wellsville

Burglars entered two taverns in Wellsville early this morning, but were thwarted in an attempt at a market.

Money, whisky and cigarettes were obtained in enterings at the Star - Lite Cafe, 1307 Main St., and the West End Bar, 1747 Main St. Both taverns are owned by Angelo Infanti, who discovered the entries this morning and reported them to the Wellsville police.

Twelve fifths of whisky and $25 in cash were taken at the Star Lite Cafe, with entry gained through a back door.

Burglars took 20 cartons of cigarettes and $15 in cash from the West End Bar. Police said that juke boxes, cigarette and bowling machines had been emptied. Entrance was made through a side window at the West End Bar.

Police also reported a lock had been jammed at Faloon's Market at 1017 Commerce St., but no entry was made.

Salem Power Cut Off When Rig Runs Wild

SALEM — Power in an area near the heart of downtown Salem was disrupted for nearly eight hours this morning after a tractor - trailer went out of control and smashed into a utility pole on N. Lincoln Ave.

The trucker, Dale G. Morrell, 36, of Indiana Ave., Chester, forfeited a $15 bond in mayor's court on a charge of speed in excess of road conditions.

The tractor, owned by Dale Burton of 316 Cherry St., Lisbon, was demolished.

Police said Morell was driving south on N. Lincoln (Route 62) when he lost control on slippery pavement, leaving the street and striking a tree and pole.

He was released from Salem City Hospital after being treated for lacerations of the scalp.

Economist Optimistic On Keeping It Alive

'Boom' In Its 81st Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economic expansion moved today into its 81st month—longest in history if it lasts through November—and the government's top economist says chances of keeping it alive indefinitely are "greatly improved."

But his optimism, added Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, hinges in large part on the future of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Ackley said the nation now has the knowledge and tools "which greatly improve our chances of sustaining a healthy expansion for an indefinite period."

But he warned that Americans must be willing to use such tools, and said at this time that means approval of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge and cuts in nonessential spending.

"We have learned well enough how to stimulate the economy when it is threatened by slack," Ackley said in a statement Tuesday. "We also must show that we have the self-discipline to apply necessary restraint when the economy is threatened by overheating."

As of Tuesday, the economy completed 80 months of expansion—matching the length of the boom that accompanied World War II.

The current boom began in February 1961, the month after the late President John F. Kennedy was inaugurated. But it hasn't coasted along without an occasional push. Three tax cuts coaxed it forward at critical periods and now the administration wants a tax increase, saying it's needed to stem inflation.

Sporty Prof Fails 'Test'

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Professor Joseph Wood of Brigham Young University has an unusual way of settling student grievances.

The history instructor challenges the dissenter to a tennis game. The winner also wins the argument.

Wood recently came out loser in a disagreement with freshman Roy Prescott of Jerome, Idaho who felt there were too many exams.

Prescott beat the sporty professor two out of three games so there will be fewer examinations in Wood's classes from now on.

Members also asked if the equipment is the correct type.

Hundreds Roam Lisbon District For Halloween

LISBON — Hundreds of Halloweeners roamed the residential districts Tuesday night collecting treats.

Older ones, past the treat stage, festooned wires and trees with toilet tissue. Rain soaked the garlands and left sodden remnants hanging out of reach.

Police caught up with several groups and confiscated enough tisse and soap to supply the jail for a long time. "We're going to see the mayor about this," the youths complained.

Someone bombarded the village hall entrance with eggs and tomatoes.

The sheriff's office had several calls about Halloween pranks, but there were no reports of major vandalism. One deputy reported he picked up seven suspects and directed the re-erection of an outhouse near Franklin Square.

All In Thieu's Untried Hands

What would have happened if enemy mortar shells had killed Vice President Humphrey in Saigon is too terrible to contemplate.

Vice President Humphrey was in Saigon for the inauguration of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as president of South Vietnam. After years of combat, the expenditure of billions of dollars, the loss of tens of thousands of lives and wholesale devastation, the "enemy" in South Vietnam is still secure in the capital city lobbing mortar shells at will.

President Thieu can do nothing about it. The United States, his protector and only visible means of political and economic support, can do nothing.

The fact the enemy is still "within the gates" is the story of the war.

The generals who have been running South Vietnam, including Lt. Gen. Thieu and Air Vice Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky, could do nothing.

After enough effort, materiel and manpower to win any other kind of war, they can do nothing because this is not a war that can be won like other wars.

The United States has made a commitment to accomplish the impossible — to subdue a pugnacious faction in a hostile population in a part of the world where it can count on dependents but cannot count on friends.

Militarists claim they can do this by bombing everybody into submission. That would be no solution.

The alternative is to create an indigenous government capable of commanding so much confidence that everybody in South Vietnam will want to be loyal to it. The United States hopes this may be the historic accomplishment of President Thieu.

But hoping is not accomplishing.

President Thieu also can do the accomplishing. The great U.S. crusade against Communist expansionism in Southeast Asia is in his hands now.

The United States will fight on the ground, in the air and on the ocean. Its militarists can offer nothing but a war of attrition in a part of the world where life is cheap.

President Thieu must demonstrate to the South Vietnamese and the "enemies" in their midst that he offers a way of life and a method of government so superior to anything ever known in Vietnam before that they should cherish it and become a viable republic.

It is an experiment in ideological transformation.

One wonders if President Thieu and his associates are ready for the transformation from force to persuasion—from lobbing mortar shells at the opposition to debating them.

Or, equally to the point, is the opposition willing to settle for less than total victory—and if it isn't where does that leave the United States and its commitment?

3 County Bargains

Columbiana County voters are being asked to give their support in Tuesday's general election for three "bargain" services which have been an important part of our community structure for some time.

Three proposed levy renewals are on the ballot — a four - tenths of a mill for tuberculosis control and care, a one - tenth of a mill for the county's Mental Health Clinic, and a fifty - five onehundredths of a mill for child welfare.

Vital testing for tuberculosis victims along with treatment and clinic care are provided by the TB funds.

Important therapy, counseling and other services are offered county residents through the expanded mental health clinic at Lisbon where increasing numbers of emotional, delinquency, neurotic and psychotic problems are being handled.

Every citizen's vote is needed for the continuance of these beneficial programs which cost so little but mean so much, not only to individuals but to all of us, directly and indirectly.

Dueling What Comes Naturally

The pressure of the presidency weighs heavily on officeholders in every country. But in some of them the pressure takes on a unique nature.

Take Uruguay, for instance. Duels are legal in that Latin American country.

So President Oscar Gestido has had to take a temporary leave of absence from office to duel with his former finance minister and his foreign minister, who have issued challenges.

It must be tough to arrange a schedule that includes entertaining foreign dignitaries, implementing domestic programs, fighting off coups, seeking foreign aid and fighting a duel here and there.

Long-range planning could be regarded either as superflous, or a declaration of optimism.

On the plus side, dueling adds zest to the daily grind. A president starts each day wondering who will issue the first challenge.

This means of settling an issue is infinitely less expensive and faster than an election. It also is better than a coup, because it is legal.

The practice makes journalists truthful when they write about how one politician "cut up" another one, or "buried" his opponent.

President Johnson has his share of burdens, but he can be thankful his "sharp" differences of opinion with others are only verbal.

Otherwise he might have a "pistol" of a long waiting list of prospective duelers at the end of their "ropes" with "axes" to grind and "points" to hammer home.

Purely Personal Observations

Many arguments about politics and politicians can be stopped cold by asking the party of the second part what improvement he has in mind and what person he suggests as an alternative to the so-and-so in office.

My first automotive love affair was an Apperson Jackrabbit. The next was a Reo Flying Cloud. Then came one of the earlier Mercurys. At the moment, it is with a reduced-size car with full-size fittings. Trade name withheld.

The lawn grass we householders treasure above all other things looks best in spring and fall, when the weather does not permit us to enjoy it, except to admire it briefly between showers.

I would like to know about weed seeds that remain dormant in the ground for years then germinate and grow in profusion when the right environment occurs. How many seeds of this kind are in ordinary soil and how long do they last?

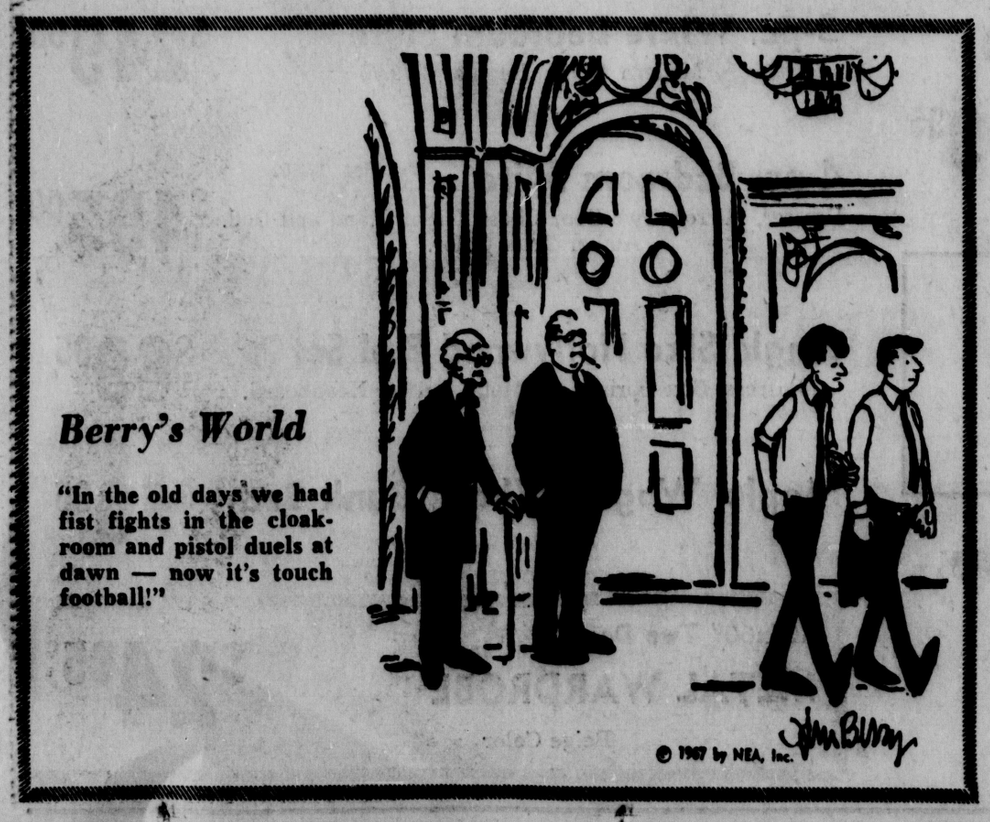

Autumn is the sweetest-smelling season of the year. Its fragrance is a blend of smoke, last roses of summer, sweet grass and Canadian heather, with a faint suggestion of arctic ice and Rocky Mountain mist.

I don't want to make trouble for the girl in the red Corvair, but her car has no front license plate — not that it matters to me but it is supposed to matter to minions of the law.

My favorite example of giving a dog a bad name is foreign aid, which enables the great good government to get rid of surplus. Call the same thing "dumping" and the dog has a bad name.

I think the most precarious auto driving condition is caused by wet leaves in an autumn storm. I fear this more than sleet and snow, because everybody knows how hazardous sleet and snow make driving conditions.

VICTOR RIESEL

Growing Mutual Aid Pacts

WASHINGTON — Leaders of the $90 billion building and construction industry recently decided that since there is insurance against the common cold there must be insurance against the common strike—which they caught exactly 977 times in 1966 alone.

Victor Riesel

So they contacted colleagues in other fields. They discovered that, though there's been little publicity, there's a lot of strike insurance around.

Swiftly, as walkouts grow more massive, strike insurance is becoming quite the vogue. There's coverage all the way from the Hawaiian sugar fields to the big Eastern ports; from railroads and airlines to tire corporations and other mass production companies which just won't talk about it because they consider it "inflammatory" and provoking to the unions.

There's straight insurance—such as in the newspaper field—and mutual assistance pacts, such as in "airlines."

But whatever the fashion, it's designed to take the bite out of the strike.

Deep in their executive suites, many a big shipping firm is now considering an offer from British underwriters against the risk of a sprawling Atlantic and Gulf Coast loneshoremen's strike early next year. Many insiders believe that the docks certainly will be as frozen as a Grandma Moses winter scene when the contracts expire.

THE BRITISH have been offering policies—at a stiff premium—to shippers here and anywhere in the free world, which would cover them up to 42 days if the dockwallopers strike, and if the crews walk off. The owners can take it any way—coverage for a strike on board or a strike on shore; coverage even if the seamen quit on a single vessel or a lone pier. There is a three-day "deductible" period, but these days need not be consecutive.

Actually the railroads have been the pioneers in the insured hedging against a strike. For more than a decade now many of the Class A lines have been covered by a Lloyds of London type of policy. It's their business and the lines don't do much talking. But hundreds of millions of dollars have been involved.

Next came the flying machines. The jet crowd looked into strike insurance and decided on a do-it-yourself policy. Seven of the major national and international commercial airline carriers worked up a mutual aid pact. They are up against some mighty militant unions—personified mostly by a soft-spoken Roy Siemiller, one of America's hardest bargainers.

WHEN SIEMILLER'S International Assn. of Machinists (AFL-CIO) hit the five big carriers for 43 days in the summer of '66, the airlines lost over $103 million. But their mutual aid pact called for the return to the stricken carriers of "windfall" cash picked up from the overflow customers by the lines which operated during the stoppage. When it was all over, the carriers which had not been struck "returned" some $44 million to the five picketed airlines. It did not quite cover the loss. But $44 million is better than nothing at all.

Siemiller, with that unruffled twinkle in his eye, zeroed in on them. "A strikebreaking device" is what he called the mutual aid pact. And he's going into the federal courts to demand it be judged illegal.

Then last spring five big rubber companies decided to back each other up. Their pact called for the helping each other financially if any one of them were hit by the United Rubber Workers—as they were for some months. This union, too, wants the courts to declare the mutual assistant pact illegal.

Truckers have tried insurance. And there is word that there is a mutual aid pact in the auto industry. Certainly some executives of the Big Three car companies have conferred outside Detroit, just as officials of the Industrial Union Dept. (AFL-CIO), headed by Walter Reuther, confer on "coordinated" strikes such as the nonferrous (copper) stoppage. Report is that the auto firms agreed on a general policy of not taking advantage of any one firm which is struck by the Detroit "redhead."

And that's what the Associated General Contractors now want in addition to straight term strike insurance. They are made up mostly of small firms. And they want all business to come to the aid of any business struck anywhere. Solidarity of the employer class now that the workers of our world have united!

That Tonkin Resolution

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

That loud noise in the Senate is from the barn door that slammed when the horse trotted away.

In this case the barn door was the overwhelming approval given the President — in the Tonkin Gulf resolution of 1964 — to use whatever force he thought necessary to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia. The vote was 88 to 2.

The horse that got loose is the war in Vietnam. Now a horde of senators are unhappy about this dragged - out war which they authorized if President Johnson thought it necessary.

They could have had no doubt in 1964 that the resolution might lead the United States into war. That it could do just that was made clear to them by Sen. J. W. Fulbrigh, D-Ark., the man who captained the measure through to approval.

He told them it could happen before they voted. But Fulbright, who has been all over the lot on how much power a president should have in foreign affairs, is now for curbing the president.

THE CONSTITUTION has never given a president a completely free hand in the foreign field. But about the only real restriction it puts on him is this: Any treaty he makes with a foreign power must be approved by two-thirds of the Senate.

Dealing with the Senate this way was often painful. To make life easier for themselves presidents eventually began making executive agreements with other countries. They had the effect of treaties but didn't need a two-thirds Senate vote. But when it came to using U.S. forces overseas for one reason or another, presidents often got congressional approval. Often they didn't. The armed forces have been used 137 times without a formal declaration of war and in most cases without any say by Congress.

Johnson didn't ask Congress for an okay when he sent troops into the Dominican Republic's revolution in 1965 but he did get congressional approval, through the Tonkin resolution, before using troops in Vietnam.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has proposed his own resolution which he wants it to approve. This one would say a "national commitment" to another country by a president must be approved by Congress as a treaty or in some other declaration.

But, as noted, Johnson asked precisely for such approval before the Vietnam war began. Yet, what is a "national commitment"? Those words are made of rubber. They would be used to apply to almost anything a president might undertake with a foreign power.

As the war began to seem bogged down, Fulbright and others who had approved the Tonkin resolution became uneasy and critical of Johnson. One of the most memorable complaints came from Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J.

CASE, WHO voted for the Tonkin resolution, said Johnson had misused it because he "had taken advantage of the restraint and responsibility of Congress." He called this "highly irresponsible" on Johnson's part.

Whatever resolution the Senate approves, it will be no more than an expression of how the Senate would like the president to act. It doesn't have the effect of law and any president could ignore it.

One way the Senate could really put the screws on Johnson would be to rescind the Tonkin resolution approved three years ago. But even Fulbright isn't suggesting that and, if he did, it would probably get no place.

1st Amendment Still Stands

Congress under the Constitution is permitted to pass no law that abridges freedom of speech or freedom of the press.

Demonstrators in large numbers exercised their freedom of speech a week ago around government buildings in Washington and were given protection by federal, state and local authorities.

Some members of Congress, however, seem to have forgotten that freedom of the press is also guaranteed by the First Amendment.

The House of Representatives has passed and there is under consideration in the Senate a proposal to put a special charge on mailings of a publication above 500,000 copies.

Placing appropriate charges on all publications for transportation through the mails is a sound practice.

THEY SHOULD be expected to pay the cost of delivery and help offset expenses of the Post Office Department.

But no explanation has yet been offered as to why only those publications having a mail circulation in excess of a set figure should be penalized, instead of the same rate being applied uniformly to all publications delivered by mail.

The U.S. Supreme Court in 1936 ruled that a levy of this kind is unconstitutional. The judgment was given in the case of a Louisiana statute which imposed a license tax for the privilege of engaging in the business of selling advertising. But it applied only to publishers of newspapers and magazines with a weekly circulation of more than 20,000 copies.

The high court said the state law imposing the tax was "unconstitutional under the due process of law clause because it abridges freedom of the press." Justice Sutherland, who wrote the opinion, said:

"It is not intended by anything we have said to suggest that the owners of newspapers are immune from any of the ordinary forms of taxation for support of the government. But this is not an ordinary form of tax, but one single in kind, with a long history of hostile misuse against the freedom of the press. . . .

"The tax here involved is bad not because it takes money from the pockets of the appellees. If that were all, a wholly different question would be presented. It is bad because, in the light of its history and of its present setting, it is seen to be a deliberate and calculated device in the guise of a tax to limit the circulation of information to which the public is entitled in virtue of the constitutional guaranties. A free press stands as one of the great interpreters between the government and the people. To allow it to be fettered is to fetter ourselves. . . .

"The form in which the tax is imposed is in itself suspicious. It is not measured or limited by the volume of advertisements. It is measured alone by the extent of the circulation of the publication in which the advertisements are carried, with the plain purpose of penalizing the publishers and curtailing the circulation of a selected group of newspapers."

THE POSTAL BILL being considered at present by the Senate would impose, in addition to a higher rate for all publications — newspapers and magazines — a supplementary charge for each copy mailed in excess of 500,000.

It takes a good many years for a publication to attain that amount of circulation, so the "surcharge" amounts to a discriminatory penalty imposed upon growth and efficiency.

Congress could apply higher mail rates to all publications uniformly, there might be some protests from those affected, but there certainly could be no objection raised from a constitutional standpoint.

It is the use of governmental power to discriminate between large and small publications which has evoked criticism.

The mail service performed by the government is identical for all publications, irrespective of how many copies are delivered.

If the principle of unequal rates were upheld, it could mean that companies doing a large business in a given industry could be required to pay a special tax from which their competitors would be exempt.

The press, however, does have recourse to the first amendment, which, in effect, prohibits any interference with or restraint upon "information growth."

Ali In Thieu's Untried Hands

What would have happened if enemy mortar shells had killed Vice President Humphrey in Saigon is too terrible to contemplate.

Vice President Humphrey was in Saigon for the inauguration of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as president of South Vietnam. After years of combat, the expenditure of billions of dollars, the loss of tens of thousands of lives and wholesale devastation, the "enemy" in South Vietnam is still secure in the capital city lobbing mortar shells at will.

President Thieu can do nothing about it. The United States, his protector and only visible means of political and economic support, can do nothing.

The fact the enemy is still "within the gates" is the story of the war.

The generals who have been running South Vietnam, including Lt. Gen. Thieu and Air Vice Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky, could do nothing.

After enough effort, materiel and manpower to win any other kind of war, they can do nothing because this is not a war that can be won like other wars.

The United States has made a commitment to accomplish the impossible — to subdue a pugnacious faction in a hostile population in a part of the world where it can count on dependents but cannot count on friends.

Militarists claim they can do this by bombing everybody into submission. That would be no solution.

The alternative is to create an indigenous government capable of commanding so much confidence that everybody in South Vietnam will want to be loyal to it. The United States hopes this may be the historic accomplishment of President Thieu.

But hoping is not accomplishing.

President Thieu also can do the accomplishing. The great U.S. crusade against Communist expansionism in Southeast Asia is in his hands now.

The United States will fight on the ground, in the air and on the ocean. Its militarists can offer nothing but a war of attrition in a part of the world where life is cheap.

President Thieu must demonstrate to the South Vietnamese and the "enemies" in their midst that he offers a way of life and a method of government so superior to anything ever known in Vietnam before that they should cherish it and become a viable republic.

It is an experiment in ideological transformation.

One wonders if President Thieu and his associates are ready for the transformation from force to persuasion—from lobbing mortar shells at the opposition to debating them.

Or, equally to the point, is the opposition willing to settle for less than total victory—and if it isn't where does that leave the United States and its commitment?

3 County Bargains

Columbiana County voters are being asked to give their support in Tuesday's general election for three "bargain" services which have been an important part of our community structure for some time.

Three proposed levy renewals are on the ballot — a four - tenths of a mill for tuberculosis control and care, a one - tenth of a mill for the county's Mental Health Clinic, and a fifty - five onehundredths of a mill for child welfare.

Vital testing for tuberculosis victims along with treatment and clinic care are provided by the TB funds.

Important therapy, counseling and other services are offered county residents through the expanded mental health clinic at Lisbon where increasing numbers of emotional, delinquency, neurotic and psychotic problems are being handled.

The child welfare program of the county is the source of funds for the care of foster home children, institutional help for others, operation of the Kyes Receiving Home at East Palestine and other child assistance.

Every citizen's vote is needed for the continuance of these beneficial programs which cost so little but mean so much, not only to individuals but to all of us, directly and indirectly.

Europe Sees U.S. Image As Clouded And Confused

to keep France independent of "American hegemony."

The Vietnam war has provided De Gaulle his biggest weapon. The overwhelming majority of Frenchmen—remembering their defeat in Indochina when they went it alone—are against the war and automatically refer to "American aggression."

The Frenchman, if he is not a Communist, will usually say at some point in talking with an American: "If you hadn't abandoned us in 1954 you wouldn't have this problem."

But De Gaulle's political opponents sometimes mock his policy of "independence" from the United States. They point to government encouragement of U.S. investment in French industry, which generally has meant more jobs for Frenchmen.

West Germany has taken a more independent political line since Kurt Georg Kiesinger became chancellor last December at the head of a coalition with the Socialists.

Diplomats in Bonn, acknowledging that relations with Washington have changed, emphasize that they have not necessarily deteriorated.

"Before Kiesinger we used to take it for granted that there would be no objections but perhaps the present relationship is healthier," said one.

Criticism Dies Down

Criticism of Americans taking over German plants—a hot issue a year or so ago—has died down. This is partly because during the recent business recession any investment was welcomed in capital-short Germany.

Italians have long envied the American way of life—and still do. Now they generally view the United States as a country in trouble.

It is not clear to many of them how the Americans got into Vietnam and why they do not get out. And they read with horror about race riots—a problem they've never had to face.

"I wonder why a Czech, a German or an Italian is integrated into the American society and a Negro isn't," said one shopkeeper.

While forever grateful for Marshall Plan aid that rescued them from ruin after World War II, the Italians are showing increasing economic independence. Italy has been looking for—and finding—markets in Eastern Europe and even in Red China.

Image Takes Battering

In Scandinavia, the American image is still high but takes some battering from the man in the street because of Vietnam and the race riots.

While Sweden's Socialist government of Premier Tage Erlander maintains a neutral position on Vietnam, some of his ministers have condemned the American bombings of the North.

The Labor-owned Stockholm evening tabloid Aftonbladet, Sweden's third largest paper, has waged an anti-American campaign unprecedented in the Swedish press.

Its American correspondent and its editorials paint a picture of the United States as a lawless, violent, corrupt and race-hating society led by warmongers.

In Norway students have staged anti-Vietnam demonstrations. But opinion polls show the majority of Norwegians back U.S. policy and 50 per cent fear Red China would overrun the rest of Asia if the Americans pull out of Vietnam.

Norwegians Critical

Norwegians are more critical about the racial situation in the United States. The liberal Oslo newspaper Dagbladet said editorially: "There can be no democracy in a country in which a large portion of the population is not enjoying their rightful status as equal individuals."

In Denmark, Premier Jens Otto Krag's Socialist government is advocating a negotiated settlement but concedes there can be no unilateral American withdrawal.

A Swiss businessman summed up the general view in that country: "I don't envy the Americans. Everybody seems to say they are wrong in fighting the war. But if they failed to help South Vietnam that would have been wrong as well. The race riots and the whole complex question are the greatest threat to the American image abroad."

Behind the Iron Curtain, where the official line usually portrays America as a decadent imperialist power, there is appreciation of some aspects of the American way of life among the people—mostly the younger ones.

U.S. Popular In Poland

Americans are popular in Poland despite the Communist government's propaganda campaign against the United States. But many Poles are puzzled and disturbed about Vietnam and ask American visitors: "If your position is correct why doesn't America, with all its power, go in and finish the job in one day instead of dragging it out?"

In Yugoslavia, while President Tito's government condemns U.S. policy in Vietnam, the "American style" is popular. Most of the foreign films shown are American; Yugoslav youth dance to American music, and American newspapers and magazines are sold on newsstands.

Most Russians, from the Moscow taxi driver to the Leningrad worker, reveal in conversation that they know almost nothing about the real America.

One of the first questions Russians ask American tourists is: "How much money do you make?" This is followed by "Do you have a car?" and "Does your wife work?"

Young Russians are devoted to American jazz, however. And even Communist bureaucrats grudgingly concede respect for American technology.

Group Hears Poem Of Marine

A poem by Roger Bacon, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wade Bacon, who is serving with the Marines in Vietnam, provided the thought for the day when the Lisbon Senior Citizens met Monday. It was read by Mrs. Velva Hively, president, for the 54 members and guests present.

It was announced that Mrs. Maude Lodge of N. Market St., a member of the Senior Citizens, is a patient at Salem City Hospital, having suffered a broken elbow in a fall at home. Ford Recalling 745,000 Autos; Steering Defects

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. says it is recalling 745,000 cars because of possible defects in their steering systems.

Among the vehicles being recalled, Ford said, are 447,000 Mustang 1967 models. The firm said 267,000 of the Mustangs have the type steering systems in which defects have been discovered, but all 447,000 must be recalled to locate which ones have the suspect system.

The other cars being recalled are 298,000 Falcon, Fairlane and Thunderbird cars built in 1966 and 1967.

The Falcons, Fairlanes and Thunderbirds are being recalled because of "a small number of reported loose or disengaged steering wheels."

The Mustang defect involves "the possibility that the reinforcing rods in the plastic steering wheel spokes could separate" causing an uneven load which could lead to steering malfunction, Ford said.

Rhodes To Open 3 New Highways Today

Later ceremonies were in Lorain County for a new 4.5-mile section of Ohio 254 and later at Mansfield for a one-mile stretch of Ohio 430.

Weather Report Heartens Brush Fire Fighters

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — An encouraging weather forecast heartened crews today trying to surround brush and timber fires that have burned 140,000 acres in Southern California.

Four deaths are attributed to the fires. Structural damage has exceeded $4 million.

Rising humidity and an influx of cool, marine air were expected to aid hundreds of weary firefighters.

The fires, erupting Sunday, were whipped by dry winds gusting up to 100 miles an hour as humidity dropped in some areas to one per cent. But the wind died down to breezes Tuesday.

Most of the blazes were reported near containment. But more than 1,100 men were battling a 10,000-acre fire out of control on the steep, timbered slopes of North Peak in San Diego County. A state forestry official said the fire was not threatening inhabited areas but that it was "a long way from containment."

St. Louis, Mo., one of the crossroads of the United States, was under control of the French and Spanish before it became American and distinctively Southern.

Three Ohio Marines Victims In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)— Three more Marines from Ohio have died recently in Vietnam, the Defense Department announced Tuesday.

Birmingham Voters Elect GOP Mayor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Birmingham voters have elected a Republican mayor in a legally nonpartisan race.

No party labels were allowed on the ballot Tuesday but a breakdown of vote totals showed 54-year-old George Seibels scored heavily in traditional upper income, white collar areas where Republicans have their greatest strength in Birmingham.

The councilman outdrew his Democratic opponent, George Young, 27,709 votes to 25,338 in a race which drew less than half of Birmingham's 122,000 voters out into a steady autumn drizzle.

Young received the bulk of the Negro vote and more or less split the blue collar support with Seibels. He had the support of the Birmingham labor council and at least one Negro political group.

The campaign was not waged along party lines and neither candidate made an issue of his party affiliation. In fact, both denied any wish that such matters be considered by voters.

Seibels is apparently the first Republican to hold office in Birmingham. Political observers can't remember any other.

Group Conducts Patrols To Curb Area Pranksters

The Penova Citizens Band Radio Club assisted in curbing Halloween vandalism by patrolling area communities and informing police of any rowdyism.

Plans for the checks by mobile units were made when the club met Sunday night at its quarters on Route 45, Wellsville.

Dave Laneve presided when George Barlon of East Liverpool and Jean Newlin of Wellsville were received as new members. The group gave permission to rent the hall to an adult for teen-age dances Saturday nights.

A Halloween party followed the meeting, with Laneve presenting prizes to Tommy Barber, Tina Newlin, Noreen, Janet, Jimmie, June and Junior Potts, Olive Potts, Jim Potts, Edna Kearns, Charles, Edna and Ott Potts.

Refreshments in keeping with the season were served by Bob Chisler. Ann Green handled the registration.

Officers will be nominated at the next meeting Nov. 12.

Barbershoppers Given Report On District Event

A report of the competition held last weekend in Cleveland was heard during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Emmanuel Church.

Glenn Woods, director, announced the local chorus finished in the upper fourth of the Johnny Appleseed District.

The three top choruses were the Buckeye Chapter from Columbus, first; the Western Gateway Chapter of Cincinnati, second, and the Pittsburgh Chapter, third.

Winning quartets were The Travelers, first, and The Point Four, second, both from Pittsburgh. The winning choruses and quartets are eligible for international competition in July at Pittsburgh.

James Raffle, president, announced guest night will be observed Nov. 13, with each member to bring at least one prospective member.

Woods outlined plans for the show to be held in April.

Refreshments were served by Raffle.

Officers will be elected next Monday.

Probation Asked After Guilty Plea

LISBON — William J. Mort, 18, of Youngstown pleaded guilty to two burglaries Tuesday in Common Pleas Court and requested probation.

In jail at Youngstown when Columbiana County grand jury defendants were arraigned in September, Mort was arraigned yesterday before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The grand jury charged Mort and James E. Ingram, 21, also of Youngstown, with March 22 burglaries at Carter's Market and Jan's Restaurant, both on Route 7 near Middleton.

Following Mort's pleas, Ingram changed his pleas from not guilty to guilty and requested probation.

Judge Sharp ordered pre-sentence investigations for both and released them under bond of $1,000 each.

Event Attended By Toastmasters

A delegation from the East Liverpool Toastmasters Club will attend tonight's area table-topics and evaluator contests at the Millsop Community Center in Weirton.

The event will begin with dinner at 6:30.

Plans for a youth leadership program are being made by the local group, which will meet again next Wednesday, with Leslie Jones toastmaster.

Clifford Lynch, principal at East Liverpool High School, and John Dorich of the Steubenville Toastmasters Club, area governor, were guests at last week's meeting.

Stokes Leads Taft In Pre-Voting Poll

CLEVELAND (AP) — Democrat Carl B. Stokes holds a very narrow edge over Republican Seth C. Taft in Cleveland's mayoral race, according to a pre-election poll by the Plain Dealer.

The newspaper said a poll of 1,893 voters indicated 50.14 per cent favor Stokes and 49.86 favor Taft.

"The white community has mostly rallied behind Taft," said the Plain Dealer, adding that this was surprising since Republicans "seldom receive much support" in this predominantly Democratic city.

Stokes, a Negro state representative, maintains about the same level of support from the white community as he had in the primary.

Birmingham Voters Elect GOP Mayor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Birmingham voters have elected a Republican mayor in a legally nonpartisan race.

No party labels were allowed on the ballot Tuesday but a breakdown of vote totals showed 54-year-old George Seibels scored heavily in traditional upper income, white collar areas where Republicans have their greatest strength in Birmingham.

The councilman outdrew his Democratic opponent, George Young, 27,709 votes to 25,338 in a race which drew less than half of Birmingham's 122,000 voters out into a steady autumn drizzle.

Young received the bulk of the Negro vote and more or less split the blue collar support with Seibels. He had the support of the Birmingham labor council and at least one Negro political group.

The campaign was not waged along party lines and neither candidate made an issue of his party affiliation. In fact, both denied any wish that such matters be considered by voters.

Seibels is apparently the first Republican to hold office in Birmingham. Political observers can't remember any other.

Group Conducts Patrols To Curb Area Pranksters

The Penova Citizens Band Radio Club assisted in curbing Halloween vandalism by patrolling area communities and informing police of any rowdyism.

Plans for the checks by mobile units were made when the club met Sunday night at its quarters on Route 45, Wellsville.

Dave Laneve presided when George Barlon of East Liverpool and Jean Newlin of Wellsville were received as new members. The group gave permission to rent the hall to an adult for teen-age dances Saturday nights.

A Halloween party followed the meeting, with Laneve presenting prizes to Tommy Barber, Tina Newlin, Noreen, Janet, Jimmie, June and Junior Potts, Olive Potts, Jim Potts, Edna Kearns, Charles, Edna and Ott Potts.

Refreshments in keeping with the season were served by Bob Chisler. Ann Green handled the registration.

Officers will be nominated at the next meeting Nov. 12.

Barbershoppers Given Report On District Event

A report of the competition held last weekend in Cleveland was heard during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Emmanuel Church.

Glenn Woods, director, announced the local chorus finished in the upper fourth of the Johnny Appleseed District.

The three top choruses were the Buckeye Chapter from Columbus, first; the Western Gateway Chapter of Cincinnati, second, and the Pittsburgh Chapter, third.

Winning quartets were The Travelers, first, and The Point Four, second, both from Pittsburgh. The winning choruses and quartets are eligible for international competition in July at Pittsburgh.

James Raffle, president, announced guest night will be observed Nov. 13, with each member to bring at least one prospective member.

Woods outlined plans for the show to be held in April.

Refreshments were served by Raffle.

Officers will be elected next Monday.

Probation Asked After Guilty Plea

LISBON — William J. Mort, 18, of Youngstown pleaded guilty to two burglaries Tuesday in Common Pleas Court and requested probation.

In jail at Youngstown when Columbiana County grand jury defendants were arraigned in September, Mort was arraigned yesterday before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The grand jury charged Mort and James E. Ingram, 21, also of Youngstown, with March 22 burglaries at Carter's Market and Jan's Restaurant, both on Route 7 near Middleton.

Following Mort's pleas, Ingram changed his pleas from not guilty to guilty and requested probation.

Judge Sharp ordered pre-sentence investigations for both and released them under bond of $1,000 each.

Lower Gives Rotarians Inside Look At Russia

An inside look at Communism was offered by Floyd Lower of Lisbon when he addressed the Rotary Club Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Lower, a former Columbiana County extension agent and a field man for the Department of Agriculture, recently returned from a three-week tour of Europe and Russia under the "People - To - People" program sponsored by the Department of Agriculture.

HE TOLD the Rotarians that he believes Russia in a sense is "sowing the seeds of its own destruction, as far as Communism is concerned, by having compulsory education."

Explaining further, he pointed out that "people are becoming more educated as a result and, as they do, are demanding a better life—a life they don't have under Communism."

"The main idea of the tour," according to Lower, "is for people of the same occupation, in my case farming, to travel to different countries and meet other people in the same field. It is through this mutual understanding that we hope to help accomplish world peace."

Lower said the foreign people with whom he has come in contact are friendly and helpful, in contrast to frequent reports to the contrary.

In answer to a question from one of the Rotarians, Lower commented that "newspapers and other median do not represent what is actually true in Europe; they glorify the bad and the good goes unnoticed."

LOWER SAID the lack of incentive in Russia is especially prevalent in the collective farms, which he said are very poor.

However, according to Lower, the small gardens owned by the people themselves are especially good.

Lower told the members that there was a surprising growth in apartment buildings since he last had visited there two years ago.

He said that in Moscow alone within the next six years virtually everyone residing in the city will live in apartments.

George A. Shaw, publisher of The Review, was program chairman. Frank C. Dawson presided.

Bid Received On Rest Area

The Johnson Construction Co. of Steubenville has submitted an apparent low bid of $189,997 for the construction of a raodside rest area at the junction of Routes 213 and 7 in Jefferson County on a portion of the former site of the Children's Home at Yellow Creek.

The original estimate on the project was $170,400. Contracts on the project aren't expected to be awarded for at least a week to 10 days.

The bid was among a number opened by the Ohio Highway Department at Columbus Tuesday afternoon on various projects.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads will finance the total cost of the project as part of the federal beautification program being sponsored by Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

The land to be used is the triangular area lying between Routes 7 and 213, with the railroad serving as the third side and south boundary.

Instances are known of teak beams having lasted more than 1,000 years in good condition, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Lancaster Band Due Bowl Trip Despite Warning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Lancaster High School band apparently will go to the Orange Bowl Festival at Miami, Fla. despite a slap on the wrist from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

J. E. Brown, Lancaster school superintendent, said today school officials decided to go ahead with the trip after the association warned the action would place the school on the "warning" list.

The school has been in no trouble in the past and therefore the warning would not jeopardize its membership, they explained.

Raymond J. Silver, Ohio chairman of the Association, gave the warning at an education meeting in Columbus Tuesday. He said he didn't know why it always is the same people who make such trips and asked, "What about the youngsters in the Math Club?"

Brown pointed out that no school will be missed and that the trip depends on the success of a fund-raising drive.

Rally Closed By Witnesses

Thre three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Southern Local High School over the weekend closed with Walter R. Wissman, district supervisor, addressing a capacity crowd of 1,323. His subject was "Will God Intervene in Man's Affairs'"

The program included demonstrations, school sessions and panel discussions.

The gymnasium was used for the meeting place, but due to the overflow crowd the auditorium also was placed into service.

In his remarks at the conclusion of the assembly, Wissman revealed that the school had run out of water due to the heavy demand and praised school officials, other personnel and the Highlandtown Volunteer Fire Department, which hauled water, for cooperating in the matter.

Annual Dinner Set By Midland Church Women

The third annual dinner for women of the Midland Presentation Church will be held Nov. 12 at the Crucible Management Club in Industry by the Women's Guild.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. John G. Sabovik, former assistant at Presentation, now assistant at St. Domenic's in Donora and a member of the faculty of Senior Religion of the Mon Valley Catholic High School at Monongahela.

The committee for reservations and program includes Mrs. James Green, Mrs. William Komara, Mrs. John Kundick and Mrs. Nick Stevenson. Reservations will be accepted through Nov. 10.

Transportation will be provided from the church to the club. The program includes cocktails at 6, with dinner at 7.

Fire Levels Area Building

LISBON — A fire, probably started by Halloweeners, destroyed a 14-by-16-foot one-story frame building northwest of West Point about 9:15 p. m. Tuesday.

West Point volunteer firemen responded to a call that "a house is on fire" and found the fire burning furiously, fed by a propane gas tank on an outside wall.

They said the line to the tank had melted and the flaming gas shot halfway across the building. Chairs, tables, beds and other stored articles were destroyed. There was no damage to the floor, all that was left except the debris and some unburned 2-by-4's.

Firemen said the building is near a summer home owned by an unidentified man in Beaver. An outhouse near the shed was upset. The property is near the Buckeye Coal tipple about one mile north of the junction of Routes 30 and 45 at West Point.

Commissioners' Objections Overruled In Permit Action

LISBON — The Ohio Board of Liquor Control has overruled the objections of Columbiana County commissioners to a D-2 permit for the Spring Valley Diner in West Township.

It is processing the application of Virginia Faust of Kensington RD 1.

Commissioners received notice last August that Mrs. Faust, formerly of East Palestine, had applied for a D-2 permit for the diner on Route 30. They referred the notice to West Township trustees for their reaction.

The trustees said they are opposed to a permit since the township voted dry some 30 years ago. Fifty residents signed a statement of opposition. Commissioners included these papers in their resolution of objection forwarded to the state board.

The county received advance notice of a hearing Oct. 18 at Columbus. They were told their objections should be on the matter of the location or the character of the applicant. Neither the commissioners nor West Township residents attended. Since the statute imposes the burden of proof on the objector, the commissioners' objection was overruled and dismissed.

In an earlier letter, Allen D. Martin, chief of the permit division, told the commissioners:

Please be advised that the residents of West Township voted against repeal in 1933 and in 1936 and 1939 against 3.2 beer; thus the question of the sale of 6 per cent beer and wine for non-and-off-premises consumption has never been voted on. Therefore, the application is being processed."

Commissioners Monday notified the state board they have no objections to Jack Finley McKee's application for D-1, D-2 and D-3 permits for the Midway at New Waterford.

Deputies Probe Thefts, Damage Of School Buses

Columbiana County sheriff's deputies are continuing the investigation of vandalism of eight Beaver Local School District buses which resulted in late schedules of student transportation this morning.

Air was let out of tires of five buses at the garage at the high school and three at the Calcutta School and a large window at the Calcutta School was broken.

The vandals took bus fire extinguishers and fuses after squirting extinguisher fluid inside the buses. The interior of the buses had to be cleaned and valve stems obtained so air could be placed in tires, Supt. Roy Cashdollar said.

Woman Hurt In Fall, 3 Others Are Treated

A Wellsville woman injured in a fall while dismounting from a bus Tuesday was admitted to City Hospital, where three others were treated.

Mrs. Edna Alton of 626 Main St., Wellsville, is "fairly good" with a scalp laceration sustained in the fall.

Treated were Kirk Rohrbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rohrbaugh of Stagecoach Rd., a laceration of the left thumb in an auto door; Katherine Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cramer of 1080 Mapletree St., a sprain of the right ankle in a fall from a porch while Halloweening.

Clifford Kidder of 1820 St. Clair Ave., employed by the American Vitrified Co., a laceration of the right hand on a sewer pipe at work.

The gymnasium was used for the meeting place, but due to the overflow crowd the auditorium also was placed into service.

In his remarks at the conclusion of the assembly, Wissman revealed that the school had run out of water due to the heavy demand and praised school officials, other personnel and the Highlandtown Volunteer Fire Department, which hauled water, for cooperating in the matter.

Fire Levels Area Building

LISBON — A fire, probably started by Halloweeners, destroyed a 14-by-16-foot one-story frame building northwest of West Point about 9:15 p. m. Tuesday.

West Point volunteer firemen responded to a call that "a house is on fire" and found the fire burning furiously, fed by a propane gas tank on an outside wall.

They said the line to the tank had melted and the flaming gas shot halfway across the building. Chairs, tables, beds and other stored articles were destroyed. There was no damage to the floor, all that was left except the debris and some unburned 2-by-4's.

Firemen said the building is near a summer home owned by an unidentified man in Beaver. An outhouse near the shed was upset. The property is near the Buckeye Coal tipple about one mile north of the junction of Routes 30 and 45 at West Point.

Commissioners' Objections Overruled In Permit Action

LISBON — The Ohio Board of Liquor Control has overruled the objections of Columbiana County commissioners to a D-2 permit for the Spring Valley Diner in West Township.

It is processing the application of Virginia Faust of Kensington RD 1.

Commissioners received notice last August that Mrs. Faust, formerly of East Palestine, had applied for a D-2 permit for the diner on Route 30. They referred the notice to West Township trustees for their reaction.

The trustees said they are opposed to a permit since the township voted dry some 30 years ago. Fifty residents signed a statement of opposition. Commissioners included these papers in their resolution of objection forwarded to the state board.

The county received advance notice of a hearing Oct. 18 at Columbus. They were told their objections should be on the matter of the location or the character of the applicant. Neither the commissioners nor West Township residents attended. Since the statute imposes the burden of proof on the objector, the commissioners' objection was overruled and dismissed.

In an earlier letter, Allen D. Martin, chief of the permit division, told the commissioners:

Please be advised that the residents of West Township voted against repeal in 1933 and in 1936 and 1939 against 3.2 beer; thus the question of the sale of 6 per cent beer and wine for non-and-off-premises consumption has never been voted on. Therefore, the application is being processed."

Commissioners Monday notified the state board they have no objections to Jack Finley McKee's application for D-1, D-2 and D-3 permits for the Midway at New Waterford.

Deputies Probe Thefts, Damage Of School Buses

Columbiana County sheriff's deputies are continuing the investigation of vandalism of eight Beaver Local School District buses which resulted in late schedules of student transportation this morning.

Air was let out of tires of five buses at the garage at the high school and three at the Calcutta School and a large window at the Calcutta School was broken.

The vandals took bus fire extinguishers and fuses after squirting extinguisher fluid inside the buses. The interior of the buses had to be cleaned and valve stems obtained so air could be placed in tires, Supt. Roy Cashdollar said.

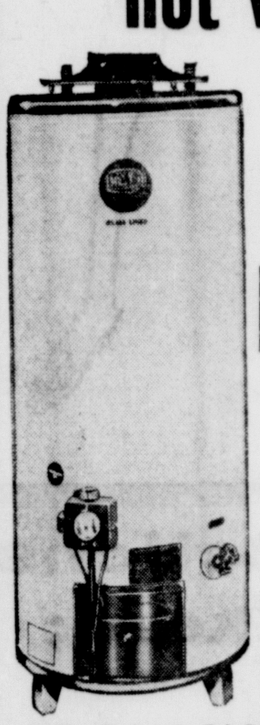

Woman Hurt In Fall, 3 Others Are Treated

A Wellsville woman injured in a fall while dismounting from a bus Tuesday was admitted to City Hospital, where three others were treated.

Mrs. Edna Alton of 626 Main St., Wellsville, is "fairly good" with a scalp laceration sustained in the fall.

Treated were Kirk Rohrbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rohrbaugh of Stagecoach Rd., a laceration of the left thumb in an auto door; Katherine Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cramer of 1080 Mapletree St., a sprain of the right ankle in a fall from a porch while Halloweening.

Clifford Kidder of 1829 St. Clair Ave., employed by the American Vitrified Co., a laceration of the right hand on a sewer pipe at work.

Local Church Women Plan For World Community Day

The nationwide observance of World Community Day by some thousands of church women will be marked Friday at 7:30 at the First Methodist Church.

In announcing local plans under sponsorship of Church Women United, Mrs. Albert McLain, chairman, declared, "As crisis succeeds crisis around the globe, church women as well as women of no church are increasingly seeking as to how we can obtain a genuine world community."

Toward this end, Mrs. McLain noted that the theme of the observance is "Who shall separate us?" taken from the Bible Scripture in Romans.

"Women have a special contribution to make toward peace," she continued. "In order to be effective, however, they must become better informed, expose themselves to the points of view of people of other countries and ideologies, use their citizen power to influence our nation's policymakers, serve as agents of reconciliation, and work ceaselessly to strengthen the United Nations as a force for achieving peace."

The Rev. Richard Wallarab, assistant pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, will give the address.

Mrs. E. H. Harris will offer a vocal solo. Mrs. L. Dan Richards will be organist.

The presentation of the project will be handled by Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr., president. Throughout the year church women work on material aid projects as part of the World Community Day effort. The special project this year is the making of layettes and children's clothing for use in Vietnam.

Those who do not wish to sew may make their contribution through the purchase of a $3 gift certificate which will enable Church World Service to obtain a blanket, a school kit or five yards of fabric to send overseas to areas of critical need, Mrs. Dunlop said.

The offering will go to two major intercontinental projects —first, Christian Causeways, direction Latin America, a continuation to the causeway to Africa, and second, the training of ministers' wives of the African Independent Church in South Africa.

Although the local service is sponsored by Church Women United, everyone is invited to attend, both men and women, Mrs. Dunlop said.

bombers attacked a suspected surface-to-air missile site just north of the zone, but Humphrey's plane was 1,500 feet below effective SAM range.

Humphrey also visited U.S. units at Da Nang and Chu Lai. The U.S. Command disclosed that 30 to 40 Viet Cong attacked an Army helicopter compound at Chu Lai Tuesday night to plant explosive charges, but the command said the attack apparently had no connection with the vice president's visit. Ten Americans were reported wounded and damage to aircraft and equipment was reported light. There was no report of enemy casualties.

U.S. Marine jets also attacked North Vietnamese artillery positions in and above the DMZ and ranged up to Hanoi to plaster the Canal des Rapides highway bridge five miles northeast of the Communist capital's center. It was the eighth straight day of U.S. air raids on Hanoi.

Hanoi Radio claimed U.S. air attacks on the capital in the "past few days" have killed or wounded more than 200 civilians and burned or destroyed more than 150 houses.

Although the Viet Cong fired four mortar shells into the grounds of the government palace in Saigon Tuesday night during an inaugural reception given by President Thieu, the regime's mammoth National Day parade through the heart of Saigon today went off without a hitch. Last year the Viet Cong shelled the parade from outside the city, killed eight persons and wounded 45.

The parade today, which concluded the inauguration program, showed off airborne, artillery and mobile units, new weapons and two companies of uniformed armed forces girls who marched jauntily past the reviewing stand on high heels.

Still Weak, Dazed From Wound

I Didn't Have Chance To Escape, Bride Says

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 19-year bride held captive for 44 hours by an ex-boyfriend in his attic apartment said Tuesday that they both slept briefly on the bedroom floor but there was no chance for her to escape.

Still weak and dazed from a bullet wound in the chest, Lida Caldwell talked with two University Heights policemen at Doctors Hospital, where she was reported in satisfactory condition.

She was shot shortly after noon Monday by Robert Batch, 23, ending an ordeal that began when she and her husband returned Saturday afternoon from their wedding in Detroit. Batch killed himself with a bullet in the heart.

Police Lt. James Holecek, one of the policemen who talked with the young woman, said "she had no doubt that she was going to be shot."

She told the policemen that Batch talked of killing her and then shooting the waiting policemen as they entered the room.

Mrs. Caldwell said that even before police arrived at the apartment in University Heights Sunday morning Batch had talked about killing her, although she was free to move around.

She became a shield during the more than 27 hours that police surrounded the house while trying to get Batch to surrender.

University Heights Police Chief Donald J. Stehlik said Mrs. Caldwell told him that she pushed down on the gun just as Batch fired the bullet that grazed her heart.

"That undoubtedly saved her life," the chief said.

Mrs. Caldwell also talked by telephone Tuesday with her husband Charles, who is recovering from a gunshot wound of the cheek in St. Vincent Charity Hospital.

He was shot by Batch, who was waiting for the young couple when they arrived at their honeymoon suite Saturday afternoon. Batch then took Lida to his apartment.

"I asked her how she felt, and she said okay — that he didn't hurt her too bad," Caldwell said. "Then she asked about me.

"She didn't cry at all. It made me proud of her. She's still standing up to this."

Caldwell said he had a fight with Batch about two weeks ago. He said he had met Lida after her classes at Collinwood High School and Batch joined them and tried to pull the girl into his car.

Some Street Repairs Set After Protest

In a followup to last week's protests by a group of women residents, minor repairs are being made to roads in the Lawrenceville - Johnsonville area.

Walter Batallo, superintendent of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission, said the roads will not be widened in the immediate future, but maintenance, including patching holes, is being carried out on side streets and on the Johnsonville Rd. He said guardrails also are being erected on some stretches of the Johnsonville Rd.

The women stopped a school bus and were arrested when they declared the highways unfit for bus travel.

The mothers were especially angered by the fact that buses used the intersection of the Johnsonville Rd. with Route 30 at Taylor's Bend, scene of frequent accidents.

The women said patching has been completed on Tyrone Rd. and other side streets and fill dirt was placed around a bridge on the Johnsonville Rd., but nothing has been done to the Lawrenceville Rd.

Ratallo said any widening of the two stretches will have to be approved by the SRC's Charleston office.

Parents Held In Children's Poison Deaths

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — The parents of seven small children who died last week of parathion poisoning were in jail today after taking lie detector tests which Desoto County Judge Gordon Hays said showed the father had "guilty knowledge of the poisoning."

James Richardson, 32, was originally booked into Desoto County jail Tuesday night on a charge of first degree murder but later warrants were issued charging him and his wife, Annie Mae, 29, with child neglect.

Hays said, "We're going to issue murder warrants tomorrow (Wednesday)." The judge said he decided to wait until Charlie Smith, a Richardson neighbor could undergo a lie detector test this morning.

Richardson and his wife voluntarily took the lie tests Tuesday while interviews were conducted by Sheriff Frank E. Cline, State Atty. Frank Schaub and investigator James Foy.

"The polygraph tests showed Richardson had guilty knowledge of the poisoning of the seven children," Hays said.

Results of polygraph tests are not admissible as evidence in Florida courts.

The judge also said laboratory tests showed the children received the parathion in their food. Hays said tests showed traces of the poison on utensils found in the Richardson kitchen.

Six children died Wednesday and the seventh perished the next morning. All were stricken after lunching on plates of grits, rice, beans and hog's head.

Richardson and his wife were in the citrus groves picking oranges when they were informed of the tragedy.

Labor Unrest, Rising Costs, Decreased Volume

Steel Industry To Chalk Off '67 As Disappointing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The profit - troubled steel industry, racked by labor unrest, rising costs and decreased volume, is ready to chalk off 1967 as a disappointing year.

Steelmakers in the third quarter turned in earnings reports off as much as 58 per cent from last year. Two producers operated in the red; and only one major firm showed a gain.

Profits for the first nine months also skidded, but not as sharply as in the third quarter. Steelmakers had predicted 1967 would be a year in which improved technology would begin paying bigger dividends, but other factors wrecked the hopes.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer, reported Tuesday that third quarter profits were off more than 40 per cent from that of a year ago.

Of the so-called Big Five, only fourth - ranked National Steel Corp. showed an increase—11 per cent. Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 producer, dipped 50 per cent, while fifth-ranked Jones & Laughlin had the sharpest loss—58 per cent.

Pittsburgh Steel and Wheeling Steel both lost money.

In reporting U.S. Steel's lowest figures since the 1962 third quarter, board chairman Roger M. Blough said the dip in income "stemmed in large part from lower consumption of steel and from liquidation of customer inventories" along with rising labor and material costs "without compensating increases in prices or man-hour shifts."

U.S. Steel's income for the three months ended Sept. 30 was $36.2 million, or 67 cents a share, compared with $61,635,150, or $1.13 a share, for the same period in 1966. Sales were $1,012,606,972 compared with $1,214,516,256 a year earlier.

Other major producers blamed the slump on the two-month steel haulers' strike, which cut into operations and shipments, and the United Auto Workers' strike against the Ford Motor Co. Also cited was the growing flow of imported steel cutting into domestic markets.

Steel observers say one way out of the cost-price squeeze would be a price hike. But they quickly point out this would probably kill any chances of Congress passing an import quota on foreign steel.

"The timing of a price hike might not be appropriate," said an industry source. "There is some sentiment in Congress for the quota now under consideration despite the Johnson Administration's opposition, and any price increase would have a serious effect."

There was speculation that the industry would hike sheet and strip prices, which accounts for 36 per cent of production and is used in automobiles and a wide range of consumer durables.

Sheet and strip is the only major product area not affected by price increases this year.

Since January, the industry has raised prices on products accounting for about 45 per cent of the industry's business. A round of price increases in August and September drew only a mild rebuff from Washington, but a government spokesman warned, "The administration won't be keeping its cool if sheet and strip prices go up, too."

Steelmakers are looking to the fourth quarter for improvement. They figure it will continue at least through the first half of 1968 as customers start building inventories to hedge against a possible strike. Contracts with the United Steelworkers Union expire Aug. 1.

Cusick Asks New Trustee Term In Madison Contest

His opponents are George E. Crews of the Scotch Settlement, a chipper at the Macintosh - Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co.; S. Leslie Jones of Apples Corners, employed in the conditioning department of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.; Carl R. Adney of Alderlick Rd., a boilermaker at Crucible, and Ralph J. Smith of Rock Camp, employed by the Columbiana Pump Co.

Seeking to unseat Regis Scharf of U. S. Route 30, present clerk, is Glenn R. Poynter of State Route 45. Scharf, clerk for 16 years, is a layout man in the machine shop at Crucible. Poynter is a clerk at Crucible.

Verdict Awaited In Estate Action

LISBON — A jury verdict is expected today in a civil action against the estate of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Speaker of Lisbon.

George Morris Ketchum of Diamond RD 1, formerly of Lisbon, seeks payment for services performed for Mrs. Speaker and her son Charles from 1950 through 1961.

Witnesses said the son is mentally retarded and needs constant supervision and control. He is about 35 and is in a special home.

$73.9 Million Quarter Loss, Ford Reports

DETROIT (AP) — While the United Auto Workers union warned General Motors it would authorize strikes to prevent stockpiling of new cars through overtime work, strikebound Ford Motor Co. announced losses of $73,900,000 in the third quarter of 1967.

The Ford losses, amounting to 68 cents a share, were larger than the firm's profits of $65,800,000 or 60 cents a share in the third quarter of 1966.

Board Chairman Henry Ford II and President Arjay Miller, in a joint statement, blamed the losses on the strike, which began Sept. 7 when the old contract expired before the company and union agreed on a new three-year contract.

A new contract since has been negotiated but the strike technically is still on because several at-the-plant local contracts remain in dispute. Settlement at a key parts plant in Canton, Ohio, Tuesday reduced to 17 the number of local disputes still unsettled. These include key stamping plants at Monroe and Woodhaven, both near Detroit.

Meanwhile, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said he had advised GM of the union's plans to permit strikes at some plants if the nation's No. 1 automaker prepares for a possible companywide walkout by scheduling too much overtime.

Woodcock said the UAW position was made known at a meeting with GM bargainers.

30-Day Sentence Set For Larceny

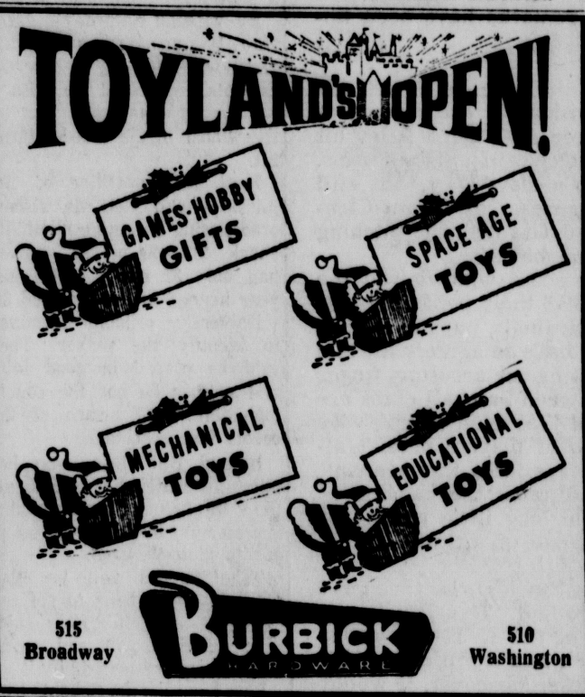

LISBON — George A. Greer, 56, of 361½ Main St., Wellsville, is in County Jail here serving a 30-day sentence for petty larceny.

Labor Unrest, Rising Costs, Decreased Volume

Steel Industry To Chalk Off '67 As Disappointing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The profit - troubled steel industry, racked by labor unrest, rising costs and decreased volume, is ready to chalk off 1967 as a disappointing year.

Steelmakers in the third quarter turned in earnings reports off as much as 58 per cent from last year. Two producers operated in the red; and only one major firm showed a gain.

Profits for the first nine months also skidded, but not as sharply as in the third quarter. Steelmakers had predicted 1967 would be a year in which improved technology would begin paying bigger dividends, but other factors wrecked the hopes.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer, reported Tuesday that third quarter profits were off more than 40 per cent from that of a year ago.

Of the so-called Big Five, only fourth - ranked National Steel Corp. showed an increase—11 per cent. Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 producer, dipped 50 per cent, while fifth-ranked Jones & Laughlin had the sharpest loss—58 per cent.

Pittsburgh Steel and Wheeling Steel both lost money.

In reporting U.S. Steel's lowest figures since the 1962 third quarter, board chairman Roger M. Blough said the dip in income "stemmed in large part from lower consumption of steel and from liquidation of customer inventories" along with rising labor and material costs "without compensating increases in prices or man-hour shifts."

U.S. Steel's income for the three months ended Sept. 30 was $36.2 million, or 67 cents a share, compared with $61,635,150, or $1.13 a share, for the same period in 1966. Sales were $1,012,606,972 compared with $1,214,516,256 a year earlier.

Other major producers blamed the slump on the two-month steel haulers' strike, which cut into operations and shipments, and the United Auto Workers' strike against the Ford Motor Co. Also cited was the growing flow of imported steel cutting into domestic markets.

Steel observers say one way out of the cost-price squeeze would be a price hike. But they quickly point out this would probably kill any chances of Congress passing an import quota on foreign steel.

"The timing of a price hike might not be appropriate," said an industry source. "There is some sentiment in Congress for the quota now under consideration despite the Johnson Administration's opposition, and any price increase would have a serious effect."

There was speculation that the industry would hike sheet and strip prices, which accounts for 36 per cent of production and is used in automobiles and a wide range of consumer durables.

Sheet and strip is the only major product area not affected by price increases this year.

Since January, the industry has raised prices on products accounting for about 45 per cent of the industry's business. A round of price increases in August and September drew only a mild rebuff from Washington, but a government spokesman warned, "The administration won't be keeping its cool if sheet and strip prices go up, too."

Steelmakers are looking to the fourth quarter for improvement. They figure it will continue at least through the first half of 1968 as customers start building inventories to hedge against a possible strike. Contracts with the United Steelworkers Union expire Aug. 1.

Cusick Asks New Trustee Term In Madison Contest

His opponents are George E. Crews of the Scotch Settlement, a chipper at the Macintosh - Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co.; S. Leslie Jones of Apples Corners, employed in the conditioning department of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.; Carl R. Adney of Alderlick Rd., a boilermaker at Crucible, and Ralph J. Smith of Rock Camp, employed by the Columbiana Pump Co.

Seeking to unseat Regis Scharf of U. S. Route 30, present clerk, is Glenn R. Poynter of State Route 45. Scharf, clerk for 16 years, is a layout man in the machine shop at Crucible. Poynter is a clerk at Crucible.

Kent State Discovers Ineligible Player, May Forfeit 2

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

A fellow called up the other day (he didn't give his name, they seldom do) and complained that this column was knocking Pennsylvania sports.

I assured him that I was from Pennsylvania, and all for the Pittsburgh teams, and that people in Ohio were complaining that I was writing too much about Pennsylvania. In writing for a paper that has circulation in three states, you can't please all of the people all of the time. Especially when East Liverpool, in Ohio, is located in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area. I think that more people in East Liverpool are interested in the Pittsburgh teams than in the Cleveland teams. At least the circulation of Pittsburgh papers here is more than all other out-of-town newspapers combined.

After thinking a bit after the phone call, which wasn't very specific, I can see on what it was based. I have said things that might be termed disparaging about the Pirates, Steelers, Penguins, Pipers and Pitt since the column began. But I don't think any of the remarks have been unjustified.

THE PIRATES were the favorite to win the pennant in 1967, but finished in sixth place at .500. Four regulars hit over .300. Gene Alley hit .287 and Bill Mazeroski drove in a lot of runs. Willie Stargell got off to a slow start, but still ended with respectable figures. Only Donn Clendenon had a really off year. Granted, the pitching was bad, but it wasn't that bad.

An American League scout who viewed the Pirates this season said that their personnel was every bit as good as the Cardinals, but the Pirates didn't play as a team. We have to agree with this observation, without pointing an accusing finger anywhere. Differences between baseball clubs are in many instances so small that teamwork is very important. The best group of players doesn't always, or even nearly always, win the pennant, the best team does. The Pirates are capable of winning the pennant with very little change of personnel, but quite a change of attitude.

ROOTING FOR the Steelers is the most thankless task in pro football. The Pittsburgh entry, a charter member of the NFL, has never won a divisional title, much less a pro championship. It has rarely come close. Moreover, it would be less frustrating if the Steelers were smashed by their opponents instead of finding a new way to lose in the closing seconds every week. However, it must be pointed out that the Steelers, 2-5 on the season, are only two games out of the lead in the Century Division.

Certain players on the Penguins were knocked, and Coach Red Sullivan (without help from me, I'm sure) now has these players on the bench and the Penguins are doing better.

The Pipers, as a team, were never knocked at all. Their lack of publicity releases was (and still is) bemoaned, and the swipes taken at pro basketball as a whole don't mean I'm against the Pipers in particular.

PITT FOOTBALL is a victim of an academic squeeze. Entrance requirements are tightening up, but the schedule isn't getting any easier. Almost everyone who saw Pitt play against West Virginia or Miami has said they never saw a worse team in college football. Coach Dave Hart himself says it will be 1969 before the Panthers will have a winning season. Pitt has had good teams in the past, and probably will again. We're glad there is not so much emphasis on football that players are hypnotized at $400 each (like at UCLA) or that the coach spends three nights a week in a hotel away from his family to concentrate on football (like at USC).

So I hope that the Steelers, Pipers, Penguins and Pirates all have championship years. But we won't stop writing about them if they lose. If only winners got space, the sports pages would be rather blank.

Ohio U. May Be In Race Again

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This is title week in the Mid-American Conference.

Three — and possibly four teams — are involved in games that will decide the winner.

The Bobcats of Ohio University may have joined the title race due to a report from Kent State University Tuesday night that it had discovered an ineligible player on its football squad.

Kent, with a 1-4 MAC record, now has offered to forfeit its victory over the Bobcats and another to non-conference Northern Illinois. There was no immediate response from either school.

If Ohio University accepts the forfeit, the Bobcats' conference record would be 3-1, putting them one game behind Western, Toledo and Miami, all 4-1.

Ohio entertains Western Michigan at Athens Saturday while Toledo invades Oxford for a showdown clash with Miami.

By winning Saturday's game with Western and a Nov. 11 clash with Bowling Green, the Bobcats could end up with a 5-1 record, matching that of the winner of the Toledo-Miami tilt.

Kent State's Office of Admissions and Records discovered during a routine eligibility check that the player involved had only 32 credit hours last year instead of the required 36.

University officials declined to identify the player. They said he played in good faith and neither he nor the coaching staff were aware of the credit hour shortage.

Rotund Bill Hess, who has painfully watched his Bobcats play through a heart-breaking season, says his team will go all out to stop Western.

"The Broncs will be high mentally but I hope to get my club just as high," Hess said. "We want to win and we're battling for respectability."

Hess has seen the Bobcats post a disappointing 3 - 4 campaign after an auspicious start that saw back-to-back MAC triumphs over Toledo and Marshall. Then came a one touchdown loss to Kent State, a surprise 15-point decision over Kansas, a bitter three-point defeat at the hands of Dayton last week.

"The turning point for us was the tough loss to Miami," Hess said. "If we won, we'd be playing for the championship this weekend."

Hess said you can't pick a favorite in the Miami - Toledo game. "The way the season has gone, any team in the league, except Marshall, has had a run at it.

"Toledo beat Kent in the last minute. Miami beat Bowling Green in the last two minutes and Miami whipped us in the last two minutes."

Hess paid tribute to the Rockets' outstanding quarterback, John Schneider.

"Both teams are very even. Both have good, strong defenses. If there is an edge it goes to Toledo offensively because the Rockets have a more balanced attack with Schneider's passing and running."

Schneider needed only 41 seconds to take his club 60 yards in the final minute for a 14-13 victory over Kent last Saturday.

The Rockets have a lot at stake in this one. If they can top Miami, it would mean their first title ever. It also would be their sixth straight success of the season.

Only one team in Toledo's 50-year football history has ever won six straight--the 1947 squad en route to a 9-2 record.

In other MAC action Saturday, Bowling Green plays at Marshall and Kent is home to Louisville.

Liz Young Points For U.S. Equestrian Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Liz Young, a blonde, 18-year-old sophomore at Southern Illinois University, has one main ambition in life right now, she said firmly today.

"I want to make the United States Equestrian team," she announced. "I am taking the present semester off from college to concentrate on my riding. I haven't set any time limit for myself. I'll just keep plugging along until I make it."

All the U.S. Equestrian team brass was on hand at the opening of the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night and their eyes almost popped when Miss Young piloted Snow Cap, her 6-year-old grey gelding to victory in first open jumper class.

Snow Cap was one of a dozen mounts to go clean in the first round. In the jumpoff, she was up against the likes of Nanticoke, a former open jumper champion at the National, In My Cap and Gustavas, all ridden by Rod Jenkins, a professional from Orange, Va.

Snow Cap was last out of the gate in the jumpoff. Five other horses had gone clean. Nanticoke's clocking of :37.8 was the one she had to beat—and with a clean run. Beat it she did in :37.5 without a fault.

"Very impressive, indeed," mused U.S. Equestrian Coach, Bert De Nemethy, who watched the action from the sidelines.

De Nemethy's riders, meanwhile, confounded the experts by winning the first two international classes, the West Point Trophy in the afternoon and the Democrat Trophy in the night session which officially opened the 84th edition of the ancient show.

Mrs. Mary Chapot of Wallpack, N.J., riding Manon, captured the West Point event with four of the first five finishers all from the United States. Night Spree, under Neal Shapiro of Old Brookville, N.Y., took the Democrat Trophy after a jumpoff with his teammate, Carol Hofmann of North Beach, N.J.

Hawks Rolling Along With Beaty Top Scorer

By The Associated Press

Zelmo Beaty is off to one of his best starts in the National Basketball Association. So are the St. Louis Hawks.

The Hawks made it nine victories in 10 starts by defeating Baltimore 114-103 Tuesday night with Beaty showing the way with 28 points. The victory strengthened the Hawks' hold on first place in the Western Division.

Seattle beat Chicago 114-104 and San Francisco whipped New York 108-103 in the other scheduled NBA games.

Kentucky beat New Jersey 107-104, Minnesota overpowered Houston 108-91 and Anaheim edged Oakland 126-123 in the American Basketball Association.

Beaty, a 1962 Little All-America with Prairie View, is the No. 1 scorer for the Hawks. He tallied six straight points in the last period to erase a Baltimore lead and put the Hawks comfortably ahead on their home court.

Walt Hazzard, former UCLA star, led Seattle to its home court victory over Chicago with 34 points. Six of them came in a row with the Sonics ahead 105-100 to put the game out of reach of the Bulls. It was the ninth straight defeat for the winless Bulls.

San Francisco won its fifth in a row and handed New York its sixth straight defeat. Nate Thurmond, with 26 points and 27 rebounds, paced the Warriors.

Dick Barnett, with 19 points, was high scorer for New York.

Super-Sub Alex Hawkins Again Pacing Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alex Hawkins has become a starter at end on the Baltimore Colts. But the old hawk has no illusions of grandeur.

"I'll be just as happy to be back up as long as we win," said the nine-year veteran of the National Football League. "I don't mind being a substitute as long as I think I can help."

Hawkins has done that. As a substitute for a substitute, he has caught passes for two touchdowns which have helped keep the Colts the only undefeated team in professional football.

One was in a 24-24 tie against the Los Angeles Rams with only five days of practice after his return to the Colts from the Atlanta Falcons where he went last year in the NFL expansion. The other was Sunday at Washington where he led all receivers by gaining 95 yards in Baltimore's 17-13 victory.

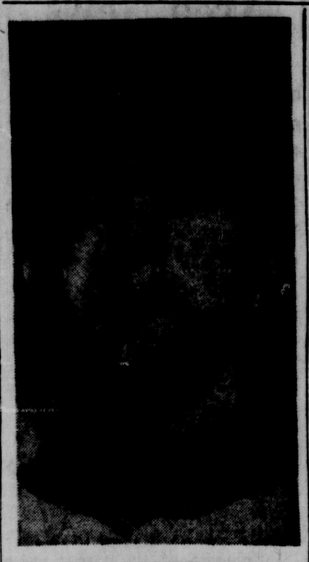

He started the game because Ray Perkins, already listed as a sub for Raymond Berry, was bothered with a pulled leg muscle.

For most of his seven previous seasons with the Colts Hawkins labored on the specialty teams—punts and kickoffs. Even there, though, he gained fame as Captain Who—a nickname acquired when he was introduced in pregame ceremonies along with the offensive and defensive captains of the Colts.

When Hawkins was reclaimed from the discard list this season, it naturally was assumed he would be limited to appearances on the specialty teams. Coach Don Shula was of the same mind, but said that Jim Welch had done such a good job as specialty captain he would retain the title.

But the hawk will get it after all. Welch suffered a back injury Sunday and will be out of action for several weeks.

MIKE MCCORMICK

Cy Young Award To McCormick

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP)— Lefty Mike McCormick, baseball's Comeback Player of the Year, is the happy winner of the Cy Young Award as the National League's outstanding pitcher of 1967.

"I think this is the realization of every pitcher's dream," Mike exclaimed at his home in Mountain View, some 40 miles south of Candlestick Park, where he performs his heroics for the San Francisco Giants.

"It certainly is the cake-icing of my playing year.

"In all honesty, my family and I are very elated.

"It's the highest award a pitcher can get. There's not much more I can say."

The award was voted Tuesday by the Baseball Writers Association of America, and McCormick got 18 of the 20 votes cast by the writers — two from each league city. Fergus Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs and Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies got one vote each.

McCormick's magnificent 22-10 record was tops in the league and led the Giants to a strong second-place finish in the pennant race.

At the age of 29, and once considered washed up, he pitched 14 complete games, worked 262 innings, and had an earned-run average of 2.85.

Daniels Hits 5,000-Yard Milestone

NEW YORK (AP) — A 94-yard performance against San Diego last Sunday gave Oakland's Clem Daniels a career rushing total of 5,508, making him the first man in the American Football League to reach the 5,000-mark.

But, AFL statistics show today, Daniels, with 482, is still far behind defending rushing champion Jim Nance of Boston for the season.

Nance leads the rushers with 714 yards while Mike Garrett of Kansas City is third with 479. Houston's Hoyle Granger, with 425, slipped from second to fourth.

Len Dawson of Kansas City continues as the leading passer, but San Diego's Lance Alworth has replaced Hewritt Dixon of Oakland as the top pass receiver. Alworth, last year's titlist, caught 10 passes against Oakland and has 41 for the season.

Dixon is tied with Don Maynard of New York for second, each with 36.

Another Jet, Emerson Boozer, maintained his huge scoring lead, scoring his 13th touchdown for a total of 78 points. Teammate Jim Turner is a distant second with 56 points.

Miller Farr and Jim Norton, both of Houston, share the pass interception lead with six steals each while Denver's Bob Scarpitto is the top punter with a 47.7 average.

Don Shy Of Steelers NFL Back Of Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Don Shy knows how it feels to be a potential goat one minute and a football hero the next.

When the former track star fumbled a New Orleans punt in the fourth quarter Sunday, horns began to sprout. But Shy quickly recovered and, five plays later, scooted 33 yards for Pittsburgh's winning touchdown.

Shy's feat of gaining 108 yards on only 10 carries in the Steelers' 14-10 victory over the Saints, earned him The Associated Press' recognition as Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The Steelers' No. 2 draft choice (they had traded away No. 1) was a great track star at San Diego State where he competed as a hurdler and also in the decathlon.

Shy started the season as the Steelers' third halfback behind Cannonball Butler and Dick Hoak but has moved up when opportunities developed through injuries and his own ability.

Speaking to staffer Ben Thomas after the game in New Orleans, Shy said, "That was the first time I ever handled a punt." (He fumbled but recovered on the Saints' 48 midway in the last quarter.)

Shy passed on the credit for the winning touchdown run to his blockers. "We trapped the end and I got two great blocks," he said, "one from Earl Gros and another downfield from Roy Jefferson."

Shy got into the game after Butler was injured in the second quarter. He had run only 17 times for 55 yards before Sunday's game but wound up the top rusher of the day.

He ranks seventh in the league in kickoff returns. His brother, Les, is a running back with the Dallas Cowboys.

Traditional Games Upset Correct Grid Selections

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — The time for traditional games is approaching and it also appears traditional that a forecaster can guess right on only about three-fourths of the games. Last week's average was .742, lifting the season's figure to .718.

Southern California over California: The Trojans get the chance to show that they have more than Orange Juice Simpson in their lineup. Off their respective games with Washington, Southern California should win by three touchdowns.

UCLA over Oregon State: Gary Beban will produce another of his extra special, peachy miracles and UCLA will go on to defeat the team that spilled Purdue.

Tennessee over Tampa: The only excuse for this one is that they are dedicating a new stadium at Tampa.

North Carolina State over Virginia: NC State has won seven straight this season by allowing each of its opponents a single touchdown while getting three in each game. The margin shouldn't be changed much.

Houston over Georgia; Warren McVea is the biggest thing to hit Houston since the Astrodome. Georgia suffers its second defeat of the season.

Purdue over Illinois: Everybody scores on Purdue but very few score enough to beat the Boilermakers.

Indiana over Wisconsin: That Harry Gonso of the Hoosiers just loves to run and run. The impotent Badger defense should give him the chance.

Wyoming over San Jose: Jerry DePoyster is rated the best field goal kicker in college football.

Colorado over Oklahoma: The Sooners have come fast since their loss to Texas but are they fast enough to catch Wilmer Cooks?

Notre Dame over Navy: The Terry Hanratty to Jim Seymour battery is sound again and the 270-pound Kevin Hardy is about ready to throw his weight around again.

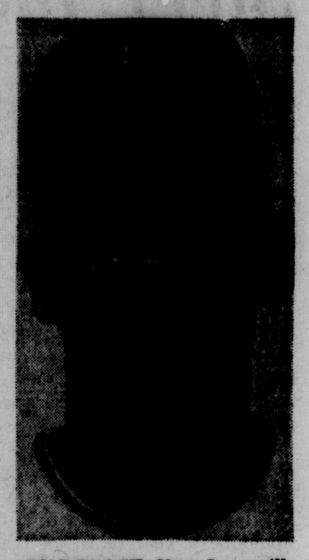

Alabama over Mississippi State: There are too few Mississippi Staters to contain the Crimson Tide once it starts to roll.

Dartmouth over Yale: Yale's chances are centered on quarterback Brian Dowling and he isn't sound. Dartmouth proud of its defense.

Toledo U.'s Schneider MAC Back Of Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Toledo quarterback John Schneider, cited for his brilliant performance in a 14-13 victory Saturday over Kent State, has been named Mid-American Conference Back of the Week.

Lineman of the Week honors were shared by Toledo linebacker Tom Beutler and split end Marty Barski of Western Michigan.

LA Kings Smashed By NY Rangers

LOS ANGELES AP) — The Los Angeles Kings brazenly romped unbeaten in their first five games in the National Hockey League.

But the expansion club was soundly initiated Tuesday night.

The rough New York Rangers with a 6-1 victory handed Los Angeles its third loss. The Kings have two draws.

The Kings moved to a 1-0 lead after 1:31 of the opening period Tuesday night but from there on New York goalie Ed Giacomin was tough.

The Rangers tied it 1-1 in the second period, and Vic Hadfield and Reg Fleming scored back-to-back goals within 24 seconds. Rod Gilbert capped the New York scoring with his 100th goal in the final minutes of the game.

Kent State Discovers Ineligible Player, May Forfeit 2

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

A fellow called up the other day (he didn't give his name, they seldom do) and complained that this column was knocking Pennsylvania sports.

I assured him that I was from Pennsylvania, and all for the Pittsburgh teams, and that people in Ohio were complaining that I was writing too much about Pennsylvania. In writing for a paper that has circulation in three states, you can't please all of the people all of the time. Especially when East Liverpool, in Ohio, is located in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area. I think that more people in East Liverpool are interested in the Pittsburgh teams than in the Cleveland teams. At least the circulation of Pittsburgh papers here is more than all other out-of-town newspapers combined.

After thinking a bit after the phone call, which wasn't very specific, I can see on what it was based. I have said things that might be termed disparaging about the Pirates, Steelers, Penguins, Pipers and Pitt since the column began. But I don't think any of the remarks have been unjustified.

THE PIRATES were the favorite to win the pennant in 1967, but finished in sixth place at .500. Four regulars hit over .300. Gene Alley hit .287 and Bill Mazeroski drove in a lot of runs. Willie Stargell got off to a slow start, but still ended with respectable figures. Only Donn Clendenon had a really off year. Granted, the pitching was bad, but it wasn't that bad.

An American League scout who viewed the Pirates this season said that their personnel was every bit as good as the Cardinals, but the Pirates didn't play as a team. We have to agree with this observation, without pointing an accusing finger anywhere. Differences between baseball clubs are in many instances so small that teamwork is very important. The best group of players doesn't always, or even nearly always, win the pennant, the best team does. The Pirates are capable of winning the pennant with very little change of personnel, but quite a change of attitude.

ROOTING FOR the Steelers is the most thankless task in pro football. The Pittsburgh entry, a charter member of the NFL, has never won a divisional title, much less a pro championship. It has rarely come close. Moreover, it would be less frustrating if the Steelers were smashed by their opponents instead of finding a new way to lose in the closing seconds every week. However, it must be pointed out that the Steelers, 2-5 on the season, are only two games out of the lead in the Century Division.

Certain players on the Penguins were knocked, and Coach Red Sullivan (without help from me, I'm sure) now has these players on the bench and the Penguins are doing better.

The Pipers, as a team, were never knocked at all. Their lack of publicity releases was (and still is) bemoaned, and the swipes taken at pro basketball as a whole don't mean I'm against the Pipers in particular.

PITT FOOTBALL is a victim of an academic squeeze. Entrance requirements are tightening up, but the schedule isn't getting any easier. Almost everyone who saw Pitt play against West Virginia or Miami has said they never saw a worse team in college football. Coach Dave Hart himself says it will be 1969 before the Panthers will have a winning season. Pitt has had good teams in the past, and probably will again. We're glad there is not so much emphasis on football that players are hypnotized at $400 each (like at UCLA) or that the coach spends three nights a week in a hotel away from his family to concentrate on football (like at USC).

So I hope that the Steelers, Pipers, Penguins and Pirates all have championship years. But we won't stop writing about them if they lose. If only winners got space, the sports pages would be rather blank.

Ohio U. May Be In Race Again

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This is title week in the Mid-American Conference.

Three — and possibly four teams — are involved in games that will decide the winner.

The Bobcats of Ohio University may have joined the title race due to a report from Kent State University Tuesday night that it had discovered an ineligible player on its football squad.

Kent, with a 1-4 MAC record, now has offered to forfeit its victory over the Bobcats and another to non-conference Northern Illinois. There was no immediate response from either school.

If Ohio University accepts the forfeit, the Bobcats' conference record would be 3-1, putting them one game behind Western, Toledo and Miami, all 4-1.

Ohio entertains Western Michigan at Athens Saturday while Toledo invades Oxford for a showdown clash with Miami.

By winning Saturday's game with Western and a Nov. 11 clash with Bowling Green, the Bobcats could end up with a 5-1 record, matching that of the winner of the Toledo-Miami tilt.

Kent State's Office of Admissions and Records discovered during a routine eligibility check that the player involved had only 32 credit hours last year instead of the required 36.

University officials declined to identify the player. They said he played in good faith and neither he nor the coaching staff were aware of the credit hour shortage.

Rotund Bill Hess, who has painfully watched his Bobcats play through a heart-breaking season, says his team will go all out to stop Western.

"The Broncs will be high mentally but I hope to get my club just as high," Hess said. "We want to win and we're battling for respectability."

Hess has seen the Bobcats post a disappointing 3 - 4 campaign after an auspicious start that saw back-to-back MAC triumphs over Toledo and Marshall. Then came a one touchdown loss to Kent State, a surprise 15-point decision over Kansas, a bitter three-point defeat at the hands of Dayton last week.

"The turning point for us was the tough loss to Miami," Hess said. "If we won, we'd be playing for the championship this weekend."

Hess said you can't pick a favorite in the Miami - Toledo game. "The way the season has gone, any team in the league, except Marshall, has had a run at it.

"Toledo beat Kent in the last minute. Miami beat Bowling Green in the last two minutes and Miami whipped us in the last two minutes."

Hess paid tribute to the Rockets' outstanding quarterback, John Schneider.

"Both teams are very even. Both have good, strong defenses. If there is an edge it goes to Toledo offensively because the Rockets have a more balanced attack with Schneider's passing and running."

Schneider needed only 41 seconds to take his club 60 yards in the final minute for a 14-13 victory over Kent last Saturday.

The Rockets have a lot at stake in this one. If they can top Miami, it would mean their first title ever. It also would be their sixth straight success of the season.

Only one team in Toledo's 50-year football history has ever won six straight--the 1947 squad en route to a 9-2 record.

In other MAC action Saturday, Bowling Green plays at Marshall and Kent is home to Louisville.

MIKE MCCORMICK

Cy Young Award To McCormick

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP)— Lefty Mike McCormick, baseball's Comeback Player of the Year, is the happy winner of the Cy Young Award as the National League's outstanding pitcher of 1967.

"I think this is the realization of every pitcher's dream," Mike exclaimed at his home in Mountain View, some 40 miles south of Candlestick Park, where he performs his heroics for the San Francisco Giants.

"It certainly is the cake-icing of my playing year.

"In all honesty, my family and I are very elated.

"It's the highest award a pitcher can get. There's not much more I can say."

The award was voted Tuesday by the Baseball Writers Association of America, and McCormick got 18 of the 20 votes cast by the writers — two from each league city. Fergus Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs and Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies got one vote each.

McCormick's magnificent 22-10 record was tops in the league and led the Giants to a strong second-place finish in the pennant race.

Liz Young Points For U.S. Equestrian Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Liz Young, a blonde, 18-year-old sophomore at Southern Illinois University, has one main ambition in life right now, she said firmly today.

"I want to make the United States Equestrian team," she announced. "I am taking the present semester off from college to concentrate on my riding. I haven't set any time limit for myself. I'll just keep plugging along until I make it."

All the U.S. Equestrian team brass was on hand at the opening of the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night and their eyes almost popped when Miss Young piloted Snow Cap, her 6-year-old grey gelding to victory in first open jumper class.

Snow Cap was one of a dozen mounts to go clean in the first round. In the jumpoff, she was up against the likes of Nanticoke, a former open jumper champion at the National, In My Cap and Gustavas, all ridden by Rod Jenkins, a professional from Orange, Va.

Snow Cap was last out of the gate in the jumpoff. Five other horses had gone clean. Nanticoke's clocking of :37.8 was the one she had to beat—and with a clean run. Beat it she did in :37.5 without a fault.

"Very impressive, indeed," mused U.S. Equestrian Coach, Bert De Nemethy, who watched the action from the sidelines.

De Nemethy's riders, meanwhile, confounded the experts by winning the first two international classes, the West Point Trophy in the afternoon and the Democrat Trophy in the night session which officially opened the 84th edition of the ancient show.

Mrs. Mary Chapot of Wallpack, N.J., riding Manon, captured the West Point event with four of the first five finishers all from the United States. Night Spree, under Neal Shapiro of Old Brookville, N.Y., took the Democrat Trophy after a jumpoff with his teammate, Carol Hofmann of North Beach, N.J.

Hawks Rolling Along With Beaty Top Scorer

By The Associated Press

Zelmo Beaty is off to one of his best starts in the National Basketball Association. So are the St. Louis Hawks.

The Hawks made it nine victories in 10 starts by defeating Baltimore 114-103 Tuesday night with Beaty showing the way with 28 points. The victory strengthened the Hawks' hold on first place in the Western Division.

Seattle beat Chicago 114-104 and San Francisco whipped New York 108-103 in the other scheduled NBA games.

Kentucky beat New Jersey 107-104, Minnesota overpowered Houston 108-91 and Anaheim edged Oakland 126-123 in the American Basketball Association.

Beaty, a 1962 Little All-America with Prairie View, is the No. 1 scorer for the Hawks. He tallied six straight points in the last period to erase a Baltimore lead and put the Hawks comfortably ahead on their home court.

Walt Hazzard, former UCLA star, led Seattle to its home court victory over Chicago with 34 points. Six of them came in a row with the Sonics ahead 105-100 to put the game out of reach of the Bulls. It was the ninth straight defeat for the winless Bulls.

San Francisco won its fifth in a row and handed New York its sixth straight defeat. Nate Thurmond, with 26 points and 27 rebounds, paced the Warriors.

Dick Barnett, with 19 points, was high scorer for New York.

Super-Sub Alex Hawkins Again Pacing Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alex Hawkins has become a starter at end on the Baltimore Colts. But the old hawk has no illusions of grandeur.

"I'll be just as happy to be back up as long as we win," said the nine-year veteran of the National Football League. "I don't mind being a substitute as long as I think I can help."

Hawkins has done that. As a substitute for a substitute, he has caught passes for two touchdowns which have helped keep the Colts the only undefeated team in professional football.

One was in a 24-24 tie against the Los Angeles Rams with only five days of practice after his return to the Colts from the Atlanta Falcons where he went last year in the NFL expansion. The other was Sunday at Washington where he led all receivers by gaining 95 yards in Baltimore's 17-13 victory.

He started the game because Ray Perkins, already listed as a sub for Raymond Berry, was bothered with a pulled leg muscle.

For most of his seven previous seasons with the Colts Hawkins labored on the specialty teams—punts and kickoffs. Even there, though, he gained fame as Captain Who—a nickname acquired when he was introduced in pregame ceremonies along with the offensive and defensive captains of the Colts.

When Hawkins was reclaimed from the discard list this season, it naturally was assumed he would be limited to appearances on the specialty teams. Coach Don Shula was of the same mind, but said that Jim Welch had done such a good job as specialty captain he would retain the title.

But the hawk will get it after all. Welch suffered a back injury Sunday and will be out of action for several weeks.

McVay Gains In Total Offense Chase

The top two performers in total offense for East Liverpool did not make any total offense yardage Friday, so Earl Diddle held on to his lead.

Mike McVay, making his first start at quarterback, moved into second place, ahead of Sam Scott. Diddle played at flanker and caught three passes, but didn't run or throw the ball. Scott appeared only on kickoff returns and didn't handle the ball all night. He retained his rushing lead, 142 yards ahead of Bill Jones, who vaulted from fourth to second with a 129-yard performance.

McVay moved into second in passing, but slipped a notch in pass receiving, as Bruce Christian passed him.. Jim Musuraca increased his lead in the latter department.

The Potters continue to enjoy a comfortable lead in team statistics over their opponents.

Pep Rally Scheduled

The Boosters Club will sponsor a pep rally for the East Liverpool High football team tomorrow night at 7:30 at the parking lot behind Westgate Junior High school.

Members of the team and coaching staff will be on hand to say a few words. Friday night is the last home game for the Potters, when they entertain Cleveland St. Joseph's at 7:45 at Patterson Field. Adults are encouraged to come to the pep rally.

CHOPS UP OPPONENTS. Jade Butcher, Indiana University sophomore, has been named UPI lineman of the week. A split end, Butcher caught 5 passes for 174 yards and 2 touchdowns in the Hoosiers' 42-7 win over Arizona. (UPI Telephoto)

Frank's Status, As Usual, Doubtful

Browns Practicing Without Injured Ryan

CLEVELAND (AP)— Cleveland Browns Coach Blanton Collier and his staff face a familiar problem this week: Will Frank Ryan be ready to play at Pittsburgh Sunday, and, if not, who will be the Browns' passer

Ryan, who has averaged an injury a week since the season started, suffered a deep muscle bruise in the 38-34 loss to the New York Giants.

"I can't tell you if Ryan will be able to play Sunday," Dr. Vic Ippolito, team physician, said Tuesday. "I just don't know."

He indicated the decision will come later this week.

If Ryan doesn't make it, Dick Shiner probably will start, Collier said. But the coach is getting Gary Lane ready too and remarked that both his backup quarterbacks are "ready to go."

"We've been doing this all year," Collier told newsmen attending his weekly luncheon briefing.

The coach said Ryan was feeling much better Tuesday and has "the physical courage to play with injuries." But the decision whether Frank plays will be based strictly on what the doctor says, Collier declared.

Noting that the Browns committed several errors against the Giants, Collier said, "You can't do that in the National Football League and win."

The Browns "did not play a good football game," the coach said. "I can't say if we lack the killer instinct, as Jim Kanicki says. We momentarily let down and tried to come back. It's tough to do."

Tommy Nobis Defensive NFL Player

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hulking linebacker Tommy Nobis is doing "a lot more thinking" on the field this year, and it's beginning to pay off for him and the Atlanta Falcons.

The payoff for the Falcons was their first victory of the season last Sunday, 21-20 over Minnesota. For Nobis, the personal dividends included his selection as The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 238-pound Texan nabbed two Viking passes for interceptions, setting up one touchdown and scoring another.

The red-haired, freckle-faced Nobis, quick despite his bullish build but with no illusions of great speed, picked off a pass by Joe Kapp of the Vikings in the second quarter and returned it to the Vikings' 23. Four plays later, Randy Johnson passed to Tommy McDonald for a touchdown.

In the final quarter, Minnesota's Ron VanderKelen threw hurriedly, and the ball hit Karl Rubke's helmet, bouncing about 30 feet in the air.

Paul Flatley of the Vikings and Nobis clawed at the ball, but both fell with Nobis claiming the ball while flat on his back. Hauling himself up rapidly, he rambled 41 yards, taking one defender with him into the end zone for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

It was only his third pass interception as a pro and his first touchdown since he played quarterback as a sophomore in high school.

His hectic dash to the goal brought the usual kidding. "That field sure was long," said the sign a teammate taped on his locker.

"You were so slow they had started the instant replay on television before you scored," his father, Tommy Sr., quipped.

"I think this guy is the greatest middle linebacker in football," Falcons Coach Norb Hecker said. "His development has exceeded our wildest dreams."

Purdue coach Jack Mollenkopf has coached the Boilermaker football team the last 11 seasons.

A. Palmer Practices In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Practice for the $100,000 Hawaii Open Golf Tournament has begun and the magic name Arnold Palmer already has golf fans buzzing.

As Palmer and Doug Sanders shot a practice round together on the 7,000-yard, par 72 Waialae course, a huge throng followed. Most were Palmer fans but a large contingent wore signs with Sanders' name.

Sanders had about a 67 and Palmer about a 70 as both golfers picked up short putts.

Steve Spray, the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, unknown who was second last week in the rich Sahara Invitational Golf Tourney, shot a practice round without a soul around.

The Sahara winner, Jack Nicklaus, is not entered in the Hawaii tourney.

Also on hand for the event are Gay Brewer and Billy Casper.

Stone Tops College Grid Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Six backs, headed by Terry Stone of New Mexico, are bunched within 94 yards in total offense among major college football players, NCAA statistics revealed today.

Stone has passed and ran for 1,416 yards but is followed closely by Mike Phipps of Purdue, Jimmy Poole of Davidson, Roy Winters of West Texas State, Sal Olivas of New Mexico State and Paul Toscano of Wyoming.

Only once before in the 31 years that national records have been kept has the total offense race been so close.

Stone also leads in passing while O. J. Simpson maintained his rushing lead with 1,050 yards.

Purdue's Leroy Keys has scored the most points, 72; Ace Hendricks of New Mexico leads pass receivers with 525 catches and Steve Haterius of West Texas State tops defensive players with eight pass interceptions.

Navy's John Cartwright College Back Of Week

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Cartwright and his 40 thieves have lived up to their calling again.

"The only thing I thought about, with the score 20-12 in Pitt's favor in the last quarter, was that we had enough time to come back," said the Navy quarterback. "We had done it against Penn State in less time and at Michigan with about the same amount on the clock."

So Cartwright, who had passed for one touchdown and run for another earlier, hurled Navy downfield and ran over from five yards out. He then passed them downfield again to set up John Church's field goal from the 22 with four minutes left for a 22-21 victory over Pittsburgh, last Saturday.

It's that kind of performance that has given Cartwright and his teammates their nickname at Annapolis.

In all, Cartwright completed 16 of 26 passes for 207 yards and ran 17 times for another 65, a showing that earned him honors as The Associated Press College football Back of the Week.

Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder, whose club lost earlier to Navy, describes the 21-year-old senior as having the "poise of a burglar" who means more to Navy than Gary Beban does to UCLA.

Navy Coach Bill Elias calls Cartwright "the best quarterback in the country.

"You can talk about your Bebans, Hanrattys (Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame) and all of them," Elias says, "but Cartwright is tops. He can do it all and has this fall. He has the poise under pressure to wait for his receivers to come open and the ability to damage the opposition with his running if they don't.

"At the rate he's going, he'll break the total offense record set by All-America Roger Staubach in 1963."

New Jersey, Minnesota Rally To Win In ABA

By The Associated Press

The Kentucky Colonels and the Houston Mavericks were overcome — by hot streaks, not by emotion.

The Colonels led by 15 points late in the third quarter but lost 107-104 to the New Jersey Americans and the Mavericks opened up a 26-10 first-period lead but fell 108-91 before the Minnesota Muskies Tuesday night in the American Basketball Association.

In the only other ABA game, the Anaheim Amigos turned back Oakland 126-123 despite a single-game scoring record of 49 points by the Oaks' Lavern Tart.

St. Louis beat Baltimore 114-103, San Francisco defeated New York 108-103 and Seattle downed Chicago 114-104 in the National Basketball Association.

New Jersey fought back to tie Kentucky 104-104 with 1:47 left and then won it on three fouls shots by Howard Bayne. Darel Carier led Kentucky with 38 points. Dan Anderson paced New Jersey with 25.

A 38-point second quarter turned the tide for Minnesota, which was led by el Daniels' 36 points and Terry Kunze's 24. Art Becker scored 25 for Houston.

Tart hit on 15 of 28 shots from the field and 19 of 22 from the free throw line in a losing cause for Oakland. John Fairchild and Les Selvage topped Anaheim with 26 points each.

Giants Top NFL Offense Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's offense still is the best in the National Football League, Green Bay's defense is the best and the Sunday scoreboard proves the point.

The Giants, who rolled to a 38-34 victory over Cleveland's powerful Browns, have been averaging 392 yards per game.

Green Bay, which has limited the opposition to an average of 212 yards a day, was stung by the St. Louis attack of Jim Hart but still managed to beat the Cardinals 31-23 Monday night with their defense.

The Los Angeles Rams are tops in running with 159.5 yards a game.

Baltimore's passing attack rolls up 279 yards a game although it has produced only 12 touchdowns passing as compared to the Giants' total of 18.

That stingy Packer defense is first in total yardage allowed and also in pass defense. However, the Cards shot a few holes in that pass umbrella and gained 289 yards in one game through the air. Green Bay's average against passers still is only 90 yards per game. The Rams have the best defensive rushing average, 75 yards per game.

St. Louis has had its passer caught only five times, (three by Green Bay Monday night) and San Francisco has smeared the enemy passer 22 times although it had trouble protecting its own John Brodie against Detroit last Sunday.

McVay Gains In Total Offense Chase

The top two performers in total offense for East Liverpool did not make any total offense yardage Friday, so Earl Diddle held on to his lead.

Mike McVay, making his first start at quarterback, moved into second place, ahead of Sam Scott. Diddle played at flanker and caught three passes, but didn't run or throw the ball. Scott appeared only on kickoff returns and didn't handle the ball all night. He retained his rushing lead, 142 yards ahead of Bill Jones, who vaulted from fourth to second with a 129-yard performance.

McVay moved into second in passing, but slipped a notch in pass receiving, as Bruce Christian passed him.. Jim Musuraca increased his lead in the latter department.

The Potters continue to enjoy a comfortable lead in team statistics over their opponents.

It's that kind of performance that has given Cartwright and his teammates their nickname at Annapolis.

In all, Cartwright completed 16 of 26 passes for 207 yards and ran 17 times for another 65, a showing that earned him honors as The Associated Press College football Back of the Week.

Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder, whose club lost earlier to Navy, describes the 21-year-old senior as having the "poise of a burglar" who means more to Navy than Gary Beban does to UCLA.

Navy Coach Bill Elias calls Cartwright "the best quarterback in the country.

"You can talk about your Bebans, Hanrattys (Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame) and all of them," Elias says, "but Cartwright is tops. He can do it all and has this fall. He has the poise under pressure to wait for his receivers to come open and the ability to damage the opposition with his running if they don't.

"At the rate he's going, he'll break the total offense record set by All-America Roger Staubach in 1963."

New Jersey, Minnesota Rally To Win In ABA

By The Associated Press

The Kentucky Colonels and the Houston Mavericks were overcome — by hot streaks, not by emotion.

The Colonels led by 15 points late in the third quarter but lost 107-104 to the New Jersey Americans and the Mavericks opened up a 26-10 first-period lead but fell 108-91 before the Minnesota Muskies Tuesday night in the American Basketball Association.

In the only other ABA game, the Anaheim Amigos turned back Oakland 126-123 despite a single-game scoring record of 49 points by the Oaks' Lavern Tart.

St. Louis beat Baltimore 114-103, San Francisco defeated New York 108-103 and Seattle downed Chicago 114-104 in the National Basketball Association.

New Jersey fought back to tie Kentucky 104-104 with 1:47 left and then won it on three fouls shots by Howard Bayne. Darel Carier led Kentucky with 38 points. Dan Anderson paced New Jersey with 25.

A 38-point second quarter turned the tide for Minnesota, which was led by el Daniels' 36 points and Terry Kunze's 24. Art Becker scored 25 for Houston.

Tart hit on 15 of 28 shots from the field and 19 of 22 from the free throw line in a losing cause for Oakland. John Fairchild and Les Selvage topped Anaheim with 26 points each.

Giants Top NFL Offense Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's offense still is the best in the National Football League, Green Bay's defense is the best and the Sunday scoreboard proves the point.

The Giants, who rolled to a 38-34 victory over Cleveland's powerful Browns, have been averaging 392 yards per game.

Green Bay, which has limited the opposition to an average of 212 yards a day, was stung by the St. Louis attack of Jim Hart but still managed to beat the Cardinals 31-23 Monday night with their defense.

The Los Angeles Rams are tops in running with 159.5 yards a game.

Baltimore's passing attack rolls up 279 yards a game although it has produced only 12 touchdowns passing as compared to the Giants' total of 18.

That stingy Packer defense is first in total yardage allowed and also in pass defense. However, the Cards shot a few holes in that pass umbrella and gained 289 yards in one game through the air. Green Bay's average against passers still is only 90 yards per game. The Rams have the best defensive rushing average, 75 yards per game.

St. Louis has had its passer caught only five times, (three by Green Bay Monday night) and San Francisco has smeared the enemy passer 22 times although it had trouble protecting its own John Brodie against Detroit last Sunday.

UCLA Pins Rose Hopes On Kicker Andrusyshyn

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Zenon Andrusyshyn is one of Canada's finest javelin throwers and he came to UCLA on a track scholarship.

So, in this off-season, Zenon is something of a sensation as a place kicker on the Bruin football team and a very important young man in the team's Rose Bowl campaign. The showdown for the bowl game may come Nov. 18 when Zenon and his fellow Bruins face unbeaten Southern California's Trojans.

Football writers from up and down the west coast, visiting the Los Angeles campus before the season opened, were astonished when the dark-haired, strapping sophomore began to bombard the uprights, kicking soccer - style.

The series began at the 25—35 with the goal posts set back 10 yards — and the kicks gradually were moved back. He was successful in two of three attempts at 57 yards.

He then moved back and sent one in from 63 yards.

After pracing at last 30 minutes, he called it quits.

By the time the entire Bruin squad was lined up to watch and cheer.

During another practice session, Zenon booted his longest field goal — a kick that measured 65 yards.

But, said one critic, this was only practice. What about a real game, with the rush on?

Zenon answered that in his first varsity game, before 66,000 fans in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, against a strong Tennessee team.

UCLA won, 20-16, and Andrusyshyn more than provided the winning margin with two field goals, 37 and 27 yards, and two conversions, for eight points.

In the next two games he booted in two per game, the longest 39.

After five games this 20-year-old phenom was the nation's second best kick-scorer with 41 points, two back of West Virginia's junior, Ken Juskowich of Bethel Park, Pa. Zenon had booted 17 of 19 conversions and made good on eight of 16 field goal attempts. In overall scoring he ranked ninth.

How did it all happen?

Last spring Andrysyshyn was bothered by a sore elbow and couldn't compete in either the javelin or discus events.

Zenon's attention idly turned to spring football practice on a field near the track facility. He wasn't particularly impressed with the Bruin's place kickers, and decided to give it a try himself.

At first, Zenon was dissatisfied because he couldn't seem to succeed from 45 yards.

Only then did he discover that these strange Americans used a kicking tee. That was all he needed to give him the range, and with steady practice, improve his accuracy.

"I began playing soccer when I was seven years old," says Zenon, who was born of Ukranian descent and attended Oakville-Trafalgar high in Oakville, Ont., Canada. "I gave up soccer because I was too slow."

Zenon, who is 6-2 and weighs 205 pounds, became interested in track when he read news reports of Rafer Johnson, the world's former decathlon champion.

UCLA track coach, Jim Bush, heard of the young man and recruited him to enroll at UCLA. The fact that Johnson had starred for UCLA helped Zenon decide on the school.

"The main thing in kicking field goals or conversions," says Zenon,, "is concentration. With people diving and jumping around, you must keep your eyes on the ball and not on them."

Professional football in the future? The Olympic Games as a competitor for Canada next year? Zenon says pro football is too far away to think about and he'll wait until next fall to make up his mind about either the Olympics in Mexico or football for UCLA.

Lakewood Police Without Lead In Woman's Murder

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lakewood police said Tuesday night they had no leads and no suspects in the killing of 52-year-old Helen Tietjen, who was stabbed, shot and beaten in her Gold Coast apartment in the suburb.

Mrs. Tietjen's body was found in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor of her 11th-floor suite at the Envoy apartment building by her daughter, Nancy, 22, when she came home late Monday.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said an autopsy showed that Mrs. Tietjan died of a blow on the right side of the head and a stab wound in the back that pierced a lung.

He said the victim also had been stabbed 20 or 30 times and shot once in the back.

Mrs. Tietjen was divorced 16 years ago from Paul L. Tietjen, a Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. vice president. He came to Cleveland from Pittsburgh Tuesday and police conferred with him, hoping he could give them some information that would help in solving the slaying.

Police declined to discuss their conversation with Tietjen, who has remarried.

Capt. Richard Keller, head of Lakewood's detective bureau, said police are working on the theory that Mrs. Tietjen knew her killer. He said there was no sign of forcible entry to the apartment.

UCLA Pins Rose Hopes On Kicker Andrusyshyn

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Zenon Andrusyshyn is one of Canada's finest javelin throwers and he came to UCLA on a track scholarship.

So, in this off-season, Zenon is something of a sensation as a place kicker on the Bruin football team and a very important young man in the team's Rose Bowl campaign. The showdown for the bowl game may come Nov. 18 when Zenon and his fellow Bruins face unbeaten Southern California's Trojans.

Football writers from up and down the west coast, visiting the Los Angeles campus before the season opened, were astonished when the dark-haired, strapping sophomore began to bombard the uprights, kicking soccer - style.

The series began at the 25—35 with the goal posts set back 10 yards — and the kicks gradually were moved back. He was successful in two of three attempts at 57 yards.

He then moved back and sent one in from 63 yards.

After pracing at last 30 minutes, he called it quits.

By the time the entire Bruin squad was lined up to watch and cheer.

During another practice session, Zenon booted his longest field goal — a kick that measured 65 yards.

But, said one critic, this was only practice. What about a real game, with the rush on?

Zenon answered that in his first varsity game, before 66,000 fans in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, against a strong Tennessee team.

UCLA won, 20-16, and Andrusyshyn more than provided the winning margin with two field goals, 37 and 27 yards, and two conversions, for eight points.

In the next two games he booted in two per game, the longest 39.

After five games this 20-year-old phenom was the nation's second best kick-scorer with 41 points, two back of West Virginia's junior, Ken Juskowich of Bethel Park, Pa. Zenon had booted 17 of 19 conversions and made good on eight of 16 field goal attempts. In overall scoring he ranked ninth.

How did it all happen?

Last spring Andrysyshyn was bothered by a sore elbow and couldn't compete in either the javelin or discus events.

Zenon's attention idly turned to spring football practice on a field near the track facility. He wasn't particularly impressed with the Bruin's place kickers, and decided to give it a try himself.

At first, Zenon was dissatisfied because he couldn't seem to succeed from 45 yards.

Only then did he discover that these strange Americans used a kicking tee. That was all he needed to give him the range, and with steady practice, improve his accuracy.

"I began playing soccer when I was seven years old," says Zenon, who was born of Ukranian descent and attended Oakville-Trafalgar high in Oakville, Ont., Canada. "I gave up soccer because I was too slow."

Zenon, who is 6-2 and weighs 205 pounds, became interested in track when he read news reports of Rafer Johnson, the world's former decathlon champion.

UCLA track coach, Jim Bush, heard of the young man and recruited him to enroll at UCLA. The fact that Johnson had starred for UCLA helped Zenon decide on the school.

"The main thing in kicking field goals or conversions," says Zenon,, "is concentration. With people diving and jumping around, you must keep your eyes on the ball and not on them."

Professional football in the future? The Olympic Games as a competitor for Canada next year? Zenon says pro football is too far away to think about and he'll wait until next fall to make up his mind about either the Olympics in Mexico or football for UCLA.

Lakewood Police Without Lead In Woman's Murder

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lakewood police said Tuesday night they had no leads and no suspects in the killing of 52-year-old Helen Tietjen, who was stabbed, shot and beaten in her Gold Coast apartment in the suburb.

Mrs. Tietjen's body was found in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor of her 11th-floor suite at the Envoy apartment building by her daughter, Nancy, 22, when she came home late Monday.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said an autopsy showed that Mrs. Tietjan died of a blow on the right side of the head and a stab wound in the back that pierced a lung.

He said the victim also had been stabbed 20 or 30 times and shot once in the back.

Mrs. Tietjen was divorced 16 years ago from Paul L. Tietjen, a Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. vice president. He came to Cleveland from Pittsburgh Tuesday and police conferred with him, hoping he could give them some information that would help in solving the slaying.

Police declined to discuss their conversation with Tietjen, who has remarried.

Capt. Richard Keller, head of Lakewood's detective bureau, said police are working on the theory that Mrs. Tietjen knew her killer. He said there was no sign of forcible entry to the apartment.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is 22, in excellent health and is expecting our first child in about six months. Everything was fine until her mother began to scare her to death with stories about labor.

She told my wife that her own labor was so excruciating that she lost her voice for two days because she screamed so much. She also told her she had bitten her lips so hard that the cuts didn't heal for three weeks.

Last night my mother-in-law talked my wife into having a caesarean instead of a natural birth. My own mother says my mother-in-law is crazy and that she should stop filling my wife's head with rubbish. My wife says if she can escape the agonies of labor by having a caesarean, why not? I don't know what to say. — EXPECTANT FATHER.

Dear Ex: A caesarean is a major operation and no obstetrician will perform it unless there's a medical reason. Merely to escape labor is not a medical reason.

Mother-in-law is a generation or two behind the times. Ask your wife's doctor to tell her about the help that will be available during labor. She needs reassurance, not horror stories.

After Thought

Dear Ann: Two years ago, when I was 12, I wrote you a letter and asked how to be popular. I felt like the ugliest and dumbest person in the whole world.

When I received your answer I was really mad at you. Your reply was so cornball that I wanted to write again and ask you to send me a nickel because I felt I had wasted the stamp.

Two weeks later I found your letter stuck in a book. (I thought I had thrown it out.) I read it again. You wrote, "The way to have a friend is to BE one. If you want to be interesting to others you must be INTERESTED in others — and show it." Suddenly I wasn't mad any more. It made sense. I decided to try it.

I forced myself to smile and speak to people I had ignored for years. I discovered a lot of nifty kids all over the place. I thought, "Gee, they've changed." But I came to realize that I was the one who had changed. Pretty soon I wasn't thinking about my ugliness and my dumbness any more. I was thinking about how neat it was to be friendly. After awhile I didn't feel ugly or dumb anymore.

So now, I'm writing to say "thank you" and to ask you to print my letter. If it worked for me it can work for others. When I get a few dollars ahead I'm going to send you a nice gift to show my appreciation. You changed my life.—THE NEW ME.

Dear New You: Your letter was a beautiful expression of appreciation and I'm grateful. As for a gift — I never discourage giving because I know that giving does as much for the giver as for the receiver. So, if you want to do something nice for me, put a couple of dollars in an envelope and send it to your local Heart Fund.

Confidentially

TO TOO MUCH ME: A diet may solve part of the problem but don't expect firacles. Bone structure is sometimes a factor.

Pope Leaves His Bed To Bless Thousands

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI left his bed today and appeared at his window to bless a crowd of thousands assembled in St. Peter's Square for All Saint's Day.

The 70-year-old pontiff has been confined to bed since Saturday night after suffering a relapse. But his temperature returned to normal Tuesday, and his doctors permitted him to go to the window on his third-floor apartment today for the special occasion.

The 70-year-old pontiff now is resting and being treated with antibiotics to build up his strength for an operation to correct an enlarged prostate. This is blamed for the urinary infection from which the Pope has suffered since Sept. 4.

Vatican sources say the operation has been tentatively scheduled for around Nov. 10.

Truck Crash Injures Man

A 41-year-old East Liverpool man was treated at City Hospital early Tuesday night for minor injuries suffered when a truck in which he was riding overturned after the driver attempted to halt the vehicle by turning it toward a hillside when the brakes failed as it descended a Ray St. grade.

Frank Yost of 1015 Bradshaw Ave. suffered minor cuts on the arms and hands and possible neck injuries when he was thrown clear of the 1954 model truck operated by Earl E. Hayman, 42, of Aberdeen, Md., police said. The mishap was timed at 6:27 p. m. on Ray St. 100 feet west of St. Clair Ave.

Hayman told police he halted at the top of Ray St. to pick up a passenger and the brakes failed as he started down the hill. He said he tried to stop the truck by turning it toward the hillside, but the vehicle ran up the grade and then overturned onto its left side. Yost was taken to the hospital in a cruiser by Patrolman Charles Coen.

The mishap damaged the entire side of the truck. It is registerd to Hayman at 319½ Broadway, police said.

A 21-year-old Cleveland man was charged with reckless driving after his 1961 sedan crashed into guardrails on W. 3rd St. 200 feet west of the W. 8th St. Freeway ramp Tuesday at 9:49 p. m.

Freddy J. Bryant of Cleveland told police he was traveling west on the Freeway at 55 miles an hour when he lost control of the vehicle. The car skidded approximately 200 feet, turned completely around, and then struck the guardrails. The car is registered to Freda Moore of New Haven, Conn. The crash damaged the left front fender and tire and the left rear fender, officers said.

Meanwhile, Patrica K. Frost, 22, of 311 Jefferson St. told police a hit - skip car damaged the left rear fender of her 1964 four - door sedan Tuesday as she backed out of a parking space on the city - owned metered lot on E. 4th St. She gave police a description of the other car and its driver.

The woman said the vehicle pulled onto the lot, striking her auto.

Charges Denied Boy Lost Weight In Institutions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A Dayton couple's charge that their young son lost 65 pounds while confined in state institutions was met with skepticism and denials Tuesday by Ohio Mental Hygiene and Corrections Director Martin A. Janis.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Forsha charged Monday that their 18-year-old son Stanley lost 65 pounds during stays at Orient State Institute and the Gallipolis State Institute.

Janis said the boy weighed only 79¾ pounds when first placed in a state institution after spending time in a private nursing home.

Janis said the boy was retarded and paralyzed and that records showed the parents had never visited. "This might have added to the problem," Janis said.

In Educational Experiment

End Teacher Aide Course

TAKING PART IN THE COUNTY teacher aide course are Joseph Caprossi, instructor; Raeanna Hobart and Hazel Burnip, students from Lisbon, and Don Roberts, director of the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic, who has been lending a helping hand.

Twenty - five Columbiana County women have been involved the last three weeks in an experimental program that could be "the thing of the future" in an educational sense.

They were chosen by the Ohio State Employment Service to take part in the first teachers' aide project in the state of Ohio.

The purpose is to enable teachers to have more time for their primary task—that of improving the quality, quantity and variety of learning by pupils — while at the same time assuring that necessary routine, supervisory, and materials handling tasks are performed effectively, under teacher guidance, by trained, competent, responsible personnel. The aides customarily will perform duties of a non - instructional nature, but which may at times involve direct contact with the students.

SINCE THE program is new, instructors have only a general idea of what the duties of these aides will be. However, they have been trained in all phases of school duties.

For example, their duties might include the supervision of bus - loading areas; conducting of opening exercises, collecting of fees; oral reading to children at play or recess; scoring and writing tests, and acting as library assistants.

Joseph Caprossi, English teacher at Wellsville, has been the principal instructor for the group, which began a 90-hour course Oct. 16 that will end this Friday.

The aides met at McDonald Elementary School in Wellsville every afternoon at 2 o'clock and worked until 8:30.

AFTER THE course has been completed, the women will be given a final test and then will be certified as being capable of assisting in public schools.

Aides are: Judith Cook, Willie Fitch, Margaret Gilbert, Jo Ann Hilliard, Carol Pearson, Betty Short and Evelyn Talbott of East Liverpool; Elizabeth Anderson and Betty Spaite of Columbiana; Violet Cipolloni, Charlene Coleman, Viola Harris, Janet Kevan, Violet Osborne, Josephine Sgro and Bertha Wright of Wellsville; Hazel Burnip and Raeanna Hobart of Lisbon; Audrey Dangelo, Donna Hogue and Francis Leffler of Salineville; Cleta Colella and Frances McCall of New Waterford; Jackie Burch of Salem, and Maureen Lawrence of Hammondsville.

Pay Too Much For Small Items

'Think Small,' House Unit Urges On Defense Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Think small" is the message a House subcommimttee is trying get across to Defense Department buyers who acknowledge their attention wanders when the dollar volume drops.

With mounting dismay, the subcommittee heard Tuesday the details on a number of purchases in which the government paid far more than the going price for small lots of items needed by the military services.

"This is a sick day," said Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y. "It's a sick system," echoed Chairman Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., of the Armed Services subcommittee exploring procurement practices.

One of the main troubles, readily admitted Defense Department witnesses, is that the people doing the buying in the "small purchase" units don't know what they're buying or what it should cost.

"We've gone from 91,000 transactions to 201,000 and from 500 people to 1,000 in the last five years," said a department official, "and I defy anyone to find that many people qualified in procurement."

He said another problem is that a department that spends $45 billion a year on procurement has a hard time adapting itself to the purchase of 64 couplings at $46.75 each.

"We've never spent much time pricing items in this area," agreed Col. Stanley Allen, director of procurement for the San Antonio Air Materiel Area. "It's a matter of emphasis and manpower."

But subcommittee members indicated they viewed it as a matter of wasting taxpayer money, noting that the couplings for which the government paid $46.75 each were listed in the company's catalog at $16.75.

"We had no knowledge there was a catalog available," said Col. Allen.

"What did you do to look for another source?" asked Pike.

"In essence," replied the colonel, "nothing."

Adorning the hearing room was a display board with examples of other purchases by the government: A plastic dial listing at $1.62 for which $275 was paid; a 50-cent shaft for which $25.55 was paid, and a $23 wrench for which $123 was paid.

Personalities In The News

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A telephone bomb threat disrupted an assembly at Pensacola Junior College Tuesday but the principal speaker, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, finished his speech outside.

Some 1,000 students had assembled in an auditorium to hear Taylor talk on this country's involvement in Vietnam when school officials received the anonymous call.

The audience was evacuated about 25 minutes into Taylor's speech but he finished when they gathered behind the building.

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will visit the United States and Canada in January in connection with the publication of the second volume of his memoirs. Then he will go by ship for a 10-day visit to Australia.

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. John V. Spachner has been given the City Medallion for Public Service in recognition of her fund-raising efforts that led to the renovation of the old Auditorium Theatre.

The presentation took place Tuesday night during dedication ceremonies at the theater before a white-tie audience of 4,000 persons who paid $10 to $250 a ticket.

They applauded at length when Mrs. Spachner was introduced.

WESTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Col. Francis S. Gabreski, 48, the nation's top living air ace, has been presented the Legion of Merit, the nation's highest noncombat award.

He was given the medal Tuesday during ceremonies marking his retirement as commander of the 52nd Fighter Wing at Suffolk County Air Force Base.

Gabreski, who leaves for a public relations post with an aircraft corporation, is credited with downing 37½ enemy planes during World War II and the Korean war.

Moore, 31, Youngest Judge In Licking County's History

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Robert J. Moore didn't think it was possible, but he has a brand new courtroom to prove he became a judge at the age of 31.

Moore, a bachelor, began hearing his first cases Tuesday as Newark municipal judge, the youngest judge in the history of Licking County and the first to fill the bench in Newark's new $1.5 million City Hall.

"Being a judge is something that has always been in the back of my mind, but I didn't think it was possible to obtain the position at this age," said the Columbus native, a 1962 graduate of Ohio State University's law school.

Moore was appointed by Gov. James A. Rhodes to serve through 1968. He was the only Republican attorney to seek party endorsement for the job.

The new judge planned one session in the old courtroom before moving to the court's new quarters, which features a semicircular style that allows the judge to face both witnesses and jury.

"People may have some question in their minds—but I have no question in mine as to age being a factor," Moore says.

"I feel this is a job for a younger person who is able to approach this position with new enthusiasm and ideas. A court of this kind which is in daily session with criminal matters in the mornings and a backlog of civil cases to be heard in the afternoon is for a younger man," he said.

Moore succeeds the late Forrest B. Ashcraft on the municipal bench. Judge Creed J. Lester of Mount Vernon had been acting municipal judge since early October.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Moore of Hallisdayburg, Pa., Moore is the first judge and first attorney in his family. His father is a Pennsylvania Railroad electrician.

The Veterans Administration is the largest single employer of nurses in the United States. About 15,000 of the approximately 500,000 professional nurses in the nation work in this capacity, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Canadian Figure Dies

OTTAWA (AP)—Adam Hartley Zimmerman, 65, chairman of Canada's Defense Research Board from 1956 until last March, died Monday. Before joining the research board in 1951, Zimmerman had worked with various government defense agencies. He was awarded the Order of the British Empire for his work during World War II.

Gerardus Mercator, Flemish geographer, made the first map showing division between North and South America.

End Teacher Aide Course

TAKING PART IN THE COUNTY teacher aide course are Joseph Caprossi, instructor; Raeanna Hobart and Hazel Burnip, students from Lisbon, and Don Roberts, director of the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic, who has been lending a helping hand.

Twenty - five Columbiana County women have been involved the last three weeks in an experimental program that could be "the thing of the future" in an educational sense.

They were chosen by the Ohio State Employment Service to take part in the first teachers' aide project in the state of Ohio.

The purpose is to enable teachers to have more time for their primary task—that of improving the quality, quantity and variety of learning by pupils — while at the same time assuring that necessary routine, supervisory, and materials handling tasks are performed effectively, under teacher guidance, by trained, competent, responsible personnel. The aides customarily will perform duties of a non - instructional nature, but which may at times involve direct contact with the students.

SINCE THE program is new, instructors have only a general idea of what the duties of these aides will be. However, they have been trained in all phases of school duties.

For example, their duties might include the supervision of bus - loading areas; conducting of opening exercises, collecting of fees; oral reading to children at play or recess; scoring and writing tests, and acting as library assistants.

Joseph Caprossi, English teacher at Wellsville, has been the principal instructor for the group, which began a 90-hour course Oct. 16 that will end this Friday.

The aides met at McDonald Elementary School in Wellsville every afternoon at 2 o'clock and worked until 8:30.

AFTER THE course has been completed, the women will be given a final test and then will be certified as being capable of assisting in public schools.

Aides are: Judith Cook, Willie Fitch, Margaret Gilbert, Jo Ann Hilliard, Carol Pearson, Betty Short and Evelyn Talbott of East Liverpool; Elizabeth Anderson and Betty Spaite of Columbiana; Violet Cipolloni, Charlene Coleman, Viola Harris, Janet Kevan, Violet Osborne, Josephine Sgro and Bertha Wright of Wellsville; Hazel Burnip and Raeanna Hobart of Lisbon; Audrey Dangelo, Donna Hogue and Francis Leffler of Salineville; Cleta Colella and Frances McCall of New Waterford; Jackie Burch of Salem, and Maureen Lawrence of Hammondsville.

Pay Too Much For Small Items

'Think Small,' House Unit Urges On Defense Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Think small" is the message a House subcommimttee is trying get across to Defense Department buyers who acknowledge their attention wanders when the dollar volume drops.

With mounting dismay, the subcommittee heard Tuesday the details on a number of purchases in which the government paid far more than the going price for small lots of items needed by the military services.

"This is a sick day," said Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y. "It's a sick system," echoed Chairman Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., of the Armed Services subcommittee exploring procurement practices.

One of the main troubles, readily admitted Defense Department witnesses, is that the people doing the buying in the "small purchase" units don't know what they're buying or what it should cost.

"We've gone from 91,000 transactions to 201,000 and from 500 people to 1,000 in the last five years," said a department official, "and I defy anyone to find that many people qualified in procurement."

He said another problem is that a department that spends $45 billion a year on procurement has a hard time adapting itself to the purchase of 64 couplings at $46.75 each.

"We've never spent much time pricing items in this area," agreed Col. Stanley Allen, director of procurement for the San Antonio Air Materiel Area. "It's a matter of emphasis and manpower."

But subcommittee members indicated they viewed it as a matter of wasting taxpayer money, noting that the couplings for which the government paid $46.75 each were listed in the company's catalog at $16.75.

"We had no knowledge there was a catalog available," said Col. Allen.

"What did you do to look for another source?" asked Pike.

"In essence," replied the colonel, "nothing."

Adorning the hearing room was a display board with examples of other purchases by the government: A plastic dial listing at $1.62 for which $275 was paid; a 50-cent shaft for which $25.55 was paid, and a $23 wrench for which $123 was paid.

Personalities In The News

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A telephone bomb threat disrupted an assembly at Pensacola Junior College Tuesday but the principal speaker, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, finished his speech outside.

Some 1,000 students had assembled in an auditorium to hear Taylor talk on this country's involvement in Vietnam when school officials received the anonymous call.

The audience was evacuated about 25 minutes into Taylor's speech but he finished when they gathered behind the building.

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will visit the United States and Canada in January in connection with the publication of the second volume of his memoirs. Then he will go by ship for a 10-day visit to Australia.

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. John V. Spachner has been given the City Medallion for Public Service in recognition of her fund-raising efforts that led to the renovation of the old Auditorium Theatre.

The presentation took place Tuesday night during dedication ceremonies at the theater before a white-tie audience of 4,000 persons who paid $10 to $250 a ticket.

They applauded at length when Mrs. Spachner was introduced.

WESTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Col. Francis S. Gabreski, 48, the nation's top living air ace, has been presented the Legion of Merit, the nation's highest noncombat award.

He was given the medal Tuesday during ceremonies marking his retirement as commander of the 52nd Fighter Wing at Suffolk County Air Force Base.

Gabreski, who leaves for a public relations post with an aircraft corporation, is credited with downing 37½ enemy planes during World War II and the Korean war.

Canadian Figure Dies

OTTAWA (AP)—Adam Hartley Zimmerman, 65, chairman of Canada's Defense Research Board from 1956 until last March, died Monday. Before joining the research board in 1951, Zimmerman had worked with various government defense agencies. He was awarded the Order of the British Empire for his work during World War II.

Gerardus Mercator, Flemish geographer, made the first map showing division between North and South America.

Moore, 31, Youngest Judge In Licking County's History

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Robert J. Moore didn't think it was possible, but he has a brand new courtroom to prove he became a judge at the age of 31.

Moore, a bachelor, began hearing his first cases Tuesday as Newark municipal judge, the youngest judge in the history of Licking County and the first to fill the bench in Newark's new $1.5 million City Hall.

"Being a judge is something that has always been in the back of my mind, but I didn't think it was possible to obtain the position at this age," said the Columbus native, a 1962 graduate of Ohio State University's law school.

Moore was appointed by Gov. James A. Rhodes to serve through 1968. He was the only Republican attorney to seek party endorsement for the job.

The new judge planned one session in the old courtroom before moving to the court's new quarters, which features a semicircular style that allows the judge to face both witnesses and jury.

"People may have some question in their minds—but I have no question in mine as to age being a factor," Moore says.

"I feel this is a job for a younger person who is able to approach this position with new enthusiasm and ideas. A court of this kind which is in daily session with criminal matters in the mornings and a backlog of civil cases to be heard in the afternoon is for a younger man," he said.

Moore succeeds the late Forrest B. Ashcraft on the municipal bench. Judge Creed J. Lester of Mount Vernon had been acting municipal judge since early October.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Moore of Hallisdayburg, Pa., Moore is the first judge and first attorney in his family. His father is a Pennsylvania Railroad electrician.

The Veterans Administration is the largest single employer of nurses in the United States. About 15,000 of the approximately 500,000 professional nurses in the nation work in this capacity, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

FOODLAND GIVES AWAY ONE STAMP THIS WEEK!

How come? Because several Tri-State food chains (including Foodland) are all claiming "lower prices". And that even confused us! Until we checked the totals. Any store can have "lower prices" on an item here and an item there—or even a whole group of items—and raise the prices on the rest to compensate. So the only true measure of "lower prices" is the total on your register tape. Which brings us to our big free offer: If you've never shopped Foodland before, try us this week. Load up on the weekly groceries then see if the bottom line on your checkout tape isn't a darn sight lower than at the store you've been shopping.
Then' if you'll be so kind, write your report on a postcard available at any Foodland checkout. It's addressed to our headquarters—with a free stamp on it. And when Foodland gives away stamps (even one to a customer) you'd better run—not walk—to get yours!

Reagan Denies Pearson Charge About Ex-Aides

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has denied a report by syndicated columnist Drew Pearson that two former members of Reagan's staff 'were engaged in homosexual activities."

"He's lying," Reagan told his regular weekly news conference Tuesday. Once he pounded the speaking rostrum with his fist.

"I'm not going to dignify Drew Pearson by even attempting to answer anything as scurrilous and as ridiculous as this report."

In a statement issued in Washington, D.C., Pearson said "the facts in this case are incontrovertible and he knows it."

The column was published in some newspapers Tuesday but others did not print it. Pearson did not name anyone to whom he referred. At Reagan's news conference, which lasted 15 minutes, no one was named.

Reagan said, "I think this sort of thing goes along with the game of politics. Fortunately, this is one place where the business I was in does give me a little conditioning for the present occupation because it also sort of went along with show business."

Senators Tackle Restraint Issue About President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators grapple today with the tenuous constitutional question of how far they can go in trying to restrain a president in the use of the U.S. military in international crises.

With reportedly little agreement among them, members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee search in closed session for language to express the desire of Congress to exert some prior influence over commitments such as those made in Vietnam.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., originally proposed putting the Senate on record as feeling a "national commitment" to another nation must rest on a treaty or a legislative declaration approved by Congress.

But that seemed to some members to infringe on the constitutional powers of the commander in chief and a watering down process was begun.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a committee member who said he was not satisfied with Fulbright's proposal, predicted the panel may come up eventually with a statement calling for congressional action before U.S. troops could be sent to defend another country.

what kind of coffeemaker do you use?

It really doesn't matter.

Any coffeemaker can give you a good cup of coffee,
providing you use a fine fresh coffee
that is ground exactly right for your coffeemaker.

We've always known that the correct grind
is important to coffee flavor.
That's why, years ago, we developed Custom-Grinding.
That's why we don't have just one or two grinds
but seven different grinds...
to fit any coffeemaker,
including electric percolators, of course;
(Ask for medium-fine grind for electrics).

Custom-Grinding means a little extra work for us
and a little extra time for you.
(It takes 15 seconds to grind a pound).
But what a difference in flavor
those few seconds make.

You know, there's only one reason we insist
on selling custom-ground bean coffees...

Reagan Denies Pearson Charge About Ex-Aides

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has denied a report by syndicated columnist Drew Pearson that two former members of Reagan's staff 'were engaged in homosexual activities."

"He's lying," Reagan told his regular weekly news conference Tuesday. Once he pounded the speaking rostrum with his fist.

"I'm not going to dignify Drew Pearson by even attempting to answer anything as scurrilous and as ridiculous as this report."

In a statement issued in Washington, D.C., Pearson said "the facts in this case are incontrovertible and he knows it."

The column was published in some newspapers Tuesday but others did not print it. Pearson did not name anyone to whom he referred. At Reagan's news conference, which lasted 15 minutes, no one was named.

Reagan said, "I think this sort of thing goes along with the game of politics. Fortunately, this is one place where the business I was in does give me a little conditioning for the present occupation because it also sort of went along with show business."

Senators Tackle Restraint Issue About President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators grapple today with the tenuous constitutional question of how far they can go in trying to restrain a president in the use of the U.S. military in international crises.

With reportedly little agreement among them, members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee search in closed session for language to express the desire of Congress to exert some prior influence over commitments such as those made in Vietnam.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., originally proposed putting the Senate on record as feeling a "national commitment" to another nation must rest on a treaty or a legislative declaration approved by Congress.

But that seemed to some members to infringe on the constitutional powers of the commander in chief and a watering down process was begun.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a committee member who said he was not satisfied with Fulbright's proposal, predicted the panel may come up eventually with a statement calling for congressional action before U.S. troops could be sent to defend another country.

Clark, of Vocaville, Calif., was ordered held for expulsion from Britain.

what kind of coffeemaker do you use?

It really doesn't matter.

Any coffeemaker can give you a good cup of coffee.
providing you use a fine fresh coffee
that is ground exactly right for your coffeemaker.

We've always known that the correct grind
is important to coffee flavor.
That's why, years ago, we developed Custom-Grinding.
That's why we don't have just one or two grinds
but seven different grinds...
to fit any coffeemaker,
including electric percolators, of course;
(Ask for medium-fine grind for electrics).

Custom-Grinding means a little extra work for us
and a little extra time for you.
(It takes 15 seconds to grind a pound).
But what a difference in flavor
those few seconds make.

You know, there's only one reason we insist
on selling custom-ground bean coffees...
WE CARE.

Board Takes Varied Action

The Hancock County Board of Education hired three teachers, one of them for a study hall at Weir High School, accepted the resignations of three others and employed three sweepers Monday night.

The board also received a report on the Weir High study hall situation from Thomas Shields, curriculum coordinator.

Hired were Mary Jane Davies, Liberty School; Mrs. Ruth B. McIntyre, Broadview School, and Eli Dragisich, Weir High study hall.

Resignations were submitted by Trudy Rowson, Newell Jefferson School, and Nancy Lynch, Broadview School.

A leave of absence was granted John Fratto, Oak Glen math teacher, who will be inducted into the Army.

Employed as sweepers at Weir High School were Mary E. Lipinski and Theresa Dorich, both at $1.25 an hour. Hired as a sweeper at Weir Junior High was Willie R. Curenton.

In other action, the board approved the hiring of Hugh Manley for teaching adjusted physical education.

Members requested a study of problems at Weir High study hall during the last meeting after receiving the resignations of two of three instructors who held the post.

According to Shields, the situation has improved. He said the resignations were due to the fact one instructor was unable to enforce discipline and the other was "too harsh."

Shields said the discipline problem was compounded by disgruntled students who had lost their release time. He added the matter has been clarified.

Also approved was the initiation of a flexible, experimental and demonstrative remedial education program for participants in the Hancock - Brooke Neighborhood Youth Corps. The director will be W. Boyd Culley.

Prize winners at Saturday night's masquerade ball were announced when Wellsville American Legion Post 70 met Monday night.

Ken Hoover, second vice commander, said prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Enochs, David Rife and Robert Tolson.

The Kenny Nichols Band will perform at a dance this Saturday at the post home.

Harry Excell, adjutant, said a membership of 232 has been realized, with 37 more needed to reach the quota. Sam Maylone, finance officer, submitted a report.

Red, white and blue lights have been installed on the front of the building as part of the beautification project. Mel Gitschier, Wally Tipton and Bill Bratt are doing the work. Stainless steel frames will be placed around the stone inserts and a 5-foot-tall emblem, described as "the largest handcarved emblem for the American Legion," will be installed this week. A storeroom also will be completed this week.

Francis House, who will conduct an Americanism and government test the first week of December, said test papers have been ordered.

Lunch was served by Rife and Ralph Kelley.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p.m.

Jury Awards $13,071 In Beaver Car Mishap

A verdict against an East Liverpool man was returned by a Beaver County jury at Beaver in a civil suit Tuesday afternoon.

Stanley Guzyk of Economy was awarded $11,071 in his action against Robert Bird of East Liverpool. Guzyk brought the claim against Bird in behalf of his minor son, Mark. The child was awarded $2,000.

The suit stemmed from an accident Feb. 20, 1963, in which Mark, then 8, was struck by a car while crossing a street in Baden.

The court approved an agreement reached between John Cangelier of Pittsburgh and James LaMantia of Midland Heights. LaMantia agreed to pay $4,000 to the Pittsburgh man in a suit also filed as the result of an accident.

Hearing Continued In Wellsville Case

An East Liverpool motorist pleaded not guilty this morning before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Albert George appeared in court on a charge signed by Robert Halfhill of Wellsville stemming from an accident in the Cemetery Hill Tuesday.

Mayor Daugherty continued the hearing until next Wednesday.

Jury Awards $13,071 In Beaver Car Mishap

A verdict against an East Liverpool man was returned by a Beaver County jury at Beaver in a civil suit Tuesday afternoon.

Stanley Guzyk of Economy was awarded $11,071 in his action against Robert Bird of East Liverpool. Guzyk brought the claim against Bird in behalf of his minor son, Mark. The child was awarded $2,000.

The suit stemmed from an accident Feb. 20, 1963, in which Mark, then 8, was struck by a car while crossing a street in Baden.

The court approved an agreement reached between John Cangelier of Pittsburgh and James LaMantia of Midland Heights. LaMantia agreed to pay $4,000 to the Pittsburgh man in a suit also filed as the result of an accident.

Hearing Continued In Wellsville Case

An East Liverpool motorist pleaded not guilty this morning before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Albert George appeared in court on a charge signed by Robert Halfhill of Wellsville stemming from an accident in the Cemetery Hill Tuesday.

Mayor Daugherty continued the hearing until next Wednesday.

County Will Act On Welfare Levy

LISBON — Among three levy renewals facing Columbiana County voters Tuesday will be one of 55-100ths of a mill for child welfare for five years.

This tax brings the County Welfare Department $137,500 annually for children's care.

Donald P. Hepp, welfare director, said the county is caring for approximately 190 children and other young people at present.

Most of the money finances the foster homes program and provides clothing and medical and dental care for children in the homes.

The levy money is also used for the unmarried mothers program, operation of the Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home at East Palestine and institutional care for certain children under Welfare Department supervision.

The current levy will expire Dec. 31, Hepp pointed out. Only a majority affirmative vote is required for passage. Other countywide levy renewals on the ballot are 40-100ths of a mill for the county Tuberculosis Clinic and care of county TB patients and one-tenth of a mill for the county Mental Health Clinic.

Election To Be Tuesday

Gary Mayor Race Centers Around Negro Candidate

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Gary's mayoral election, scheduled to be held next Tuesday, now centers largely on a single issue—the Democratic candidate, Richard Gordon Hatcher, is a Negro.

"The vote is polarized on that point," said the incumbent, Democratic Mayor A. Martin Katz.

"The issues being talked about are not the real issue," said Mrs. Phyllis Spencer, a Negro assistant city attorney. "It's a question of color."

Hatcher's Republican opponent is Joseph B. Radigan, a partner in his family's furniture business.

Tuesday Hatcher asked a federal court in Hammond, Ind., to postpone the election on the ground that registration frauds have been perpetrated. In his petition, he said more than 5,000 Negroes were purged from voter rolls, while 4,000 fictitious whites have been registered. He named as defendants John Krupa, the Lake County Democratic chairman, and other party organizations.

Ugly overtones pervade the atmosphere in Gary, a steel-producing community of 180,000, on the eve of the election.

In addition to the charges of registration - fraud, predictions of election day violence have been voiced. A highly placed city official who asked not to be identified said, "Some of the merchants downtown are scared of what may happen if Hatcher loses."

Hatcher, 34, is a soft-spoken lawyer.

He has been a deputy prosecutor in Lake County Criminal Court, a member of the Gary City Council, and then its president.

He sponsored an open housing law and a political observer in Gary said, "He was death on crime as a prosecutor and a councilman."

In the Democratic primary last spring, Mayor Katz sought the nomination for a second term. There was a third candidate, Bernard Konrady. Hatcher received 20,000 votes to 16,000 for Katz and 13,000 for Konrady.

Almost immediately, Krupa began opposing Hatcher.

He says he told Hatcher, "Some day we'll elect a Negro mayor of Gary but you are not the right man."

In a conversation with this reporter, Krupa said, "He's been wheeling and dealing with characters whose patriotism is questionable. He's a militant Negro who scares people."

Krupa has used the word, "subversives," to describe some of Hatcher's supporters. He does not identify them. He also claims Hatcher "advocates Black Power."

Hatcher attributes Krupa's opposition to him to the fact that, "I ran as an independent for the city council. I haven't joined the machine. I'm certain that's a big part of it."

As for the accusation of being an extremist, Hatcher said, "I've already said I deplore extremsts on both the right and the left."

Radigan, the GOP candidate, is 46 and a native of Gary. He has not held elective office but he has served on numerous civic organizations during the last 15 years.

He said he does not believe racism is the predominant factor in the election.

"I would hope it is not," he said. "I hope we will get enough votes out of Midtown (the predominantly Negro section) to show that this is false."

Halloween Celebrations Turn Violent In 2 Cities

By The Associated Press

Halloween celebrations by crowds in predominantly Negro neighborhoods of New York City and Belle Glade, Fla., turned violent Tuesday night and ended with youths taunting police and throwing rocks at passing cars.

More than 75 law enforcement officers rushed to the Negro section in Belle Glade after a crowd of about 1,000 youths, many wearing Halloween masks, began tossing eggs and stones.

But the crowd dispersed after some 40 minutes and there were no injuries reported except for a bruised shoulder suffered by Police Chief Charles D. Goodlett. "It was a near riot," he said afterward.

At the height of the trouble in New York, more than 100 policemen including Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary, were on hand to deal with the crowd estimated at up to 600 youths.

Police said the trouble apparently began with youths holding a Halloween party in Montefiore cemetery. Before it ended tombstones were overturned, police cars damaged and one officer had suffered minor leg injuries.

The disturbance was quieted by 10 p.m.—two hours after it started—when police broke the crowd up into small groups and dispersed them down side streets. Five youths were arrested on various charges.

In Belle Glade, a farming community at the southern tip of Lake Okeechobee, two 17-year-old boys were arrested on charges of inciting a riot and some 20 others turned over to juvenile authorities. In the community of Dania, north of Miami, roving bands of Negro youths set fire to four vacant houses and two cars. When firemen arrived they shouted "Trick or treat, firemen." There were no immediate arrests.

In riot-conscious Newark, N.J., where the city administration imposed a 10 p.m. curfew on youths under 16 and increased the police patrol in anticipation of trouble, police reported no unusual incidents.

Fitch Seeks 4th Term

Levies, Mayor Race Due Decisions In Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Three new levies and a renewal of a fourth will be decided by voters in Tuesday's general election here.

A four-way contest for mayor is the other significant ballot issue.

Mayor Stanley Fitch, 45, of West End will be seeking his fourth term in the nonpartisan election, which will see the village's first four-year term filled.

OPPOSING Fitch, an employe of the Macomber Corp. of Canton, will be Dwayne Felton, Mrs. Rose Owens and James Pastore.

Felton, of the East End, is currently a Councilman and is employed at Titanium Metals in Toronto. Mrs. Owens, of E. Main St., operator of a produce store, ran for mayor in 1965. Pastore, of W. Main St., who operates a grocery store and dairy stand and works at Salem, is making his first political bid.

A proposed 2-mill levy for Woodland Cemetery is also on the ballot, along with a new fire protection levy and park levy.

The 1-mill fire protection levy would provide funds for replacement of outmoded hydrants. A similar levy was in effect a few years ago, but was defeated in 1966.

The half-mill levy would provide funds for developing new recreation sites for young people and others in the community.

A 1.7-mill renewal of a street lighting levy is up for consideration.

Mrs. Sarah Ahlborn of W. Main St., incumbent clerk-treasurer, is unopposed on the ballot.

TWO incumbent Councilman — Howard Ahlborn and Lawrence Earl — also are without opposition for the two posts to be filled. Ahlborn of W. Main St. is employed at the Eljer Co. in Salem, and Earl, of Jefferson St., works in Salem.

Seeking posts on the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs are Thomas Allmon of West End, an employe of the Summitville Tile Co.; Albert Brammer of W. Main St., tavern operator, and Henry VanRoyen of Schoolhouse Hill, a Crucible Steel Co. employe.

Incumbents Joseph Knight, Cecil Carter and Howard Goddard are not seeking re-election.

In Washington Township, a new 2-mill road levy is on the ballot. Donald J. Hirst, incumbent township trustee, is unopposed, for the one post, as is Goddard, clerk.

Political Club Seeking To Support Rockefeller

By The Associated Press

A political club that helped gain Republican presidential nominations for Thomas E. Dewey and Dwight D. Eisenhower wants to bestow the same favor on New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in 1968.

But Rockefeller said again Tuesday he isn't a candidate "and wouldn't be a candidate."

His statement came after the 1,500-member New York Young Republican Club said it will launch a draft Rockefeller campaign Nov. 8, no matter what the governor says. It was an early, enthusiastic backer of Dewey in 1948 and Eisenhower in 1952.

"The club's position," said Chairman Stanley B. Thomas of the group's board of directors, "is that the governor is the most qualified man in the United States to be president."

Another possible candidate for the GOP presidential nod meanwhile offered an alternative to President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Michigan Gov. George Romney told a Providence, R.I., news conference the United States should press for neutralization of the Southeast Asian nations involved in the Vietnam fighting and thereby "defuse the war."

And Sen. Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee whom both Romney and Rockefeller refused to support, predicted neither would end up as the party's 1968 candidate.

That honor, Goldwater forecast in a Miami speech, would go to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who did support the party's 1964 ticket.

In Sacramento, Calif., former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, who hints of mounting a third party presidential bid, drew thunderous applause from the conservative Comstock Club when he said the United States should be "a simple government of limited powers."

Wallace also claimed Negroes and whites get along better in Alabama than in most other places in the nation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department will take to the air more than ever before to carry first-class mail during the Christmas rush.

If it will get around traffic bottlenecks or avoid weather-caused delays in surface transportation, air transport may be used even on hops of less than 300 miles, the department told its transportation directors Tuesday.

Christmas cards will get the special treatment only if they carry a five-cent stamp.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars are protesting new burial policies at Arlington National Cemetery by refusing to participate with other veterans' organizations in Veterans Day ceremonies at the cemetery.

The Department of Defense announced in February that Arlington had almost no burial plots left and that interment there would be available only to Medal of Honor winners, veterans who held high public office, career military men and those killed on active duty.

VFW Commander Joseph A. Scerra announced Tuesday the VFW would not join other organizations in the Veterans Day observance Nov. 11. Scerra was following orders spelled out in a resolution adopted in August at the VFW national convention.

The VFW's position, a spokesman said, is that all veterans are equally entitled under present law to burial in Arlington or any other national cemetery, and that the Department of Defense has no authority to make Arlington a special preserve for certain selected veterans.

Auto Insurance Rates Increased By Nationwide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nationwide Insurance Co. cited climbing auto repair, medical and labor costs Tuesday as it announced its second policy rate increase of the year for Ohio drivers.

The Columbus-based company has policies on about 15 per cent of the insured cars in Ohio.

Nationwide filed for average increases of 6.9 per cent on liability coverage, 8.6 per cent on comprehensive and collision coverage, and 5.8 per cent on medical coverage.

The new rates, filed with the state Insurance Department, go into effect this month. They will apply on new policies written beginning today and on renewals beginning Nov. 20.

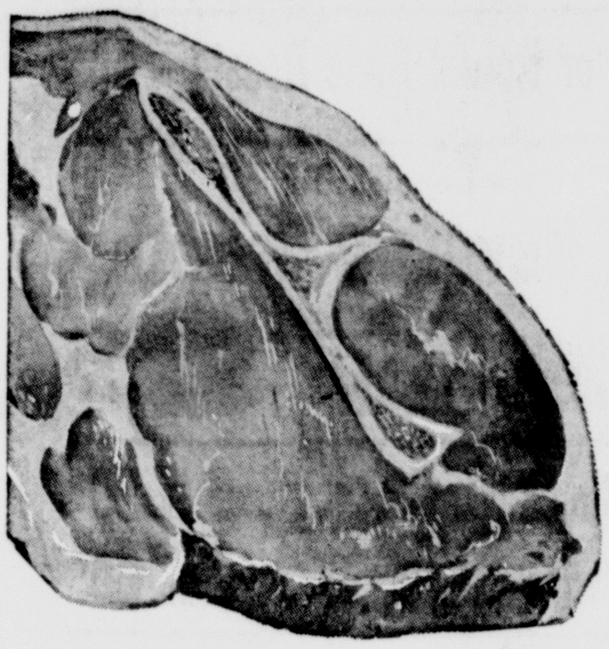

Nationwide increased liability, medical comprehensive rates Jan. 1. Another company, Allstate, announced an average statewide increase of 7 per cent recently that becomes effective next Monday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars are protesting new burial policies at Arlington National Cemetery by refusing to participate with other veterans' organizations in Veterans Day ceremonies at the cemetery.

The Department of Defense announced in February that Arlington had almost no burial plots left and that interment there would be available only to Medal of Honor winners, veterans who held high public office, career military men and those killed on active duty.

VFW Commander Joseph A. Scerra announced Tuesday the VFW would not join other organizations in the Veterans Day observance Nov. 11. Scerra was following orders spelled out in a resolution adopted in August at the VFW national convention.

The VFW's position, a spokesman said, is that all veterans are equally entitled under present law to burial in Arlington or any other national cemetery, and that the Department of Defense has no authority to make Arlington a special preserve for certain selected veterans.

Auto Insurance Rates Increased By Nationwide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nationwide Insurance Co. cited climbing auto repair, medical and labor costs Tuesday as it announced its second policy rate increase of the year for Ohio drivers.

The Columbus-based company has policies on about 15 per cent of the insured cars in Ohio.

Nationwide filed for average increases of 6.9 per cent on liability coverage, 8.6 per cent on comprehensive and collision coverage, and 5.8 per cent on medical coverage.

The new rates, filed with the state Insurance Department, go into effect this month. They will apply on new policies written beginning today and on renewals beginning Nov. 20.

Nationwide increased liability, medical comprehensive rates Jan. 1. Another company, Allstate, announced an average statewide increase of 7 per cent recently that becomes effective next Monday.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Everytime I threw out one of those nice coffee cans with its plastic cover, I felt it was wasteful.

Now I save each one, cover it with cantact paper and put it away in a box. When Christmas comes, I will decorate the cans with sequins, beads, braid, ribbons, gold seals, etc. Then, instead of wrapping presents, I will "can" all my small gifts.

Lingerie, costume jewelry, handkerchiefs, small toys, all can be popped in a can. The usual costly wrappings won't end up in the incinerator.

MRS. JAY CHERVIS

This is a darling way to send or give small Christmas presents. Just think of the many uses the recipient will have for those beautifully decorated coffee cans later on. Bet not a one will be thrown away.

Now is the time to start saving them. Christmas will be here before you can jingle a reindeer bell.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Many babies are said to have cradle cap because mothers are afraid of washing their baby's head.

I use a baby hairbrush and a gentle scrubbing motion and now don't even have to worry.

NANCY GIBSON

DEAR HELOISE: My family is mad for the garlic bread we get at our local Italian restaurant. They can't understand why I have not been able to duplicate it at home.

Even though my kitchen is stocked with fresh garlic, garlic juice and garlic salt, I either get too much or too little mixed with the soft butter.

Please tell me the secret to it all.

MRS. R. EVANS

I'm sure many of you have a special way to fix this bread, so why don't you pick up that pencil and write to me in care of this paper and let's see if we can't help Mrs. Evans.

Sure would love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

P.S. As Bugs Baer, the dean of humorists, once said: "There's no such thing as a little garlic."

DEAR HELOISE: Those dated kitchen calendar towels can be used! ! I had one with a painted rooster on it that matched my kitchen. I turned the end up (wrong side) covering the calendar, stitched up the sides and three or four rows down like a shoe bag.

This gave me a place to store note paper, pencils or clippings, etc. And now I can still keep my colorful, rooster on the wall.

PAULINE SCHMIDT

DEAR HELOISE: my daughter brought this hint home from kindergarten:

If a cardigan sweater or jacket has no loop to hang it up on, just put the top button hole over the hook.

RITA ANNE ZELLNER.

DEAR HELOISE: If you cut the corners off the sponge that is no longer clean enough to use in the kitchen sink, you can then easily tell the floor wiper from the dish swisher!

JANICE SWACK.

DEAR HELOISE: To send coins through the mail and have them seem even lighter than they are and not make bumps in the letter, try this:

Tape them to the corrugated side of an empty light bulb carton, fold over to the inside, tape edges, and cut to fit your envelope.

This really holds them securely and neatly while enroute.

MRS. Wm. SHERIDAN.

DEAR HELOISE: If your metal stove vent hood is yellow from smoke and grease, just take a rag and some bleach and wipe the grime right off. It cleans like magic!

RUTH RUTCHIK.

Classes On Sheep Shearing To Be Conducted Next Month

LISBON — The Wooster Area Sheep Improvement Association, in cooperation with the area extension center, will sponsor a junior sheep - shearing school Dec. 18-19, Paul H. Gipp, Columbiana County extension agent for agriculture, has announced.

Instruction will be given from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 4 p.m. both days in the research operations building at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in Wooster.

Enrollment will be limited to 24 students, the maximum number that can receive proper individual instruction and supervision for the two - day period. Preference will be given those who attended the school last March 27-28. The screening committee will give secon priority to 4-H'ers and Future Farmers of America with sheep projects.

Gipp said the school's prupose "is to teach young shpherds to harvest the wool crop at the opportune time and in the best manner, learn the proper method of handling sheep while shearing, remove the fleece in one piece free of second cuts, learn to shear with a machine so wool of uniform length is obtained, and develop leadership talents."

Gipp said young people interested in the course may contact him at the Cooperative Extension Office, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon; their vocational agriculture teacher, or Dr. Charles M. Martin, area extension agent for animal industry at the research and development center in Wooster.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean stained kid gloves?

A.—Ordinary cleaning fluid will usually do a good job, but if none is at hand, you can use some cuticle remover.

Q.—How can I remove candlewax drippings from a tabletop after they have hardened?

A.—First scrape as much of this as possible off with a wooden paddle, then remove any remaining residue by rubbing the spot lightly with cheesecloth moistened with cleaning fluid. Do this quickly, and follow with a dry cloth.

Cincinnati's Bus Drivers Go On Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—A public transit strike began here today after union bus drivers for the city's transit company voted Tuesday night to walk out.

The first transit strike in 54 years to hit the city began at one minute after midnight Tuesday after contracts of members of the Amalgamated Transit Union expired. Earlier Tuesday they voted down a contract offer by Cincinnati Transit.

They were establishing picket lines early today.

The refusal meant 70,000 adults dependent on public bus service would have to look for other means to get them to work and thousands of school students would have to seek other transportation to school, a city official said.

"We'll be in one hell of a mess," Utilities Director Wallace Power said.

The union members took a voice vote Tuesday night to refuse the contract and as a result, approximately 800 drivers and mechanics will not work today and nearly 360 buses will remain in the car barn.

Willis Gradison, expressing the opinoin of the three - man City Utilities Committee, said late Tuesday, "The public interest of Cincinnati requires continuous bus service."

He said he would introduce a measure in council today to submit the matter to binding arbitration and make the drivers return to work.

Officials of the Cincinnati Transit Co. labeled the walkout "illegal" and indicated legal action might be considered.

Ben Gettler, attorney for the company, said the walkout came as a "surprise."

He said union officials approved a contract proposal Monday night, terming it "the most substantial ever offered the union."

A spokesman said the proposal offered a wage increase of 44 cents over three years plus five cents an hour cost of living raise. Drivers were making $2.81 an hour.

Officials said the strike does not have any bearing upon operation of the Green Line Bus System in Kentucky or the Ohio Bus Line that runs between Cincinnati and Hamilton.

Gas Heater Fumes Blamed In 3 Deaths

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A gas space heater leaking fumes caused the deaths of two men and a woman whose bodies were found in a Toledo apartment Sunday, according to Lucas County Coroner Harry Mignerey.

The bodies of Lonnie Lee Anderson, 34; Joseph Britter, 47; and Bessie Goss, 43, all of Toledo, were found by a gas company employe investigating a complaint of strong gas odors.

Malta gained its independence in 1964.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Golf From Hawaii Via Space

Sports fans continue to benefit the most from the establishment of four TV satellites.

Hal Humphrey

They've seen championship prize fights and grand prix races via satellite and now this coming Saturday and Sunday NBC is bouncing a "live" transmission of the third annual Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament from the island of Oahu via the new Pacific 2 satellite launched Sept. 28.

From the scene of the tournament at Waialae Country Club, the picture signal is beamed to our Communications Satellite Corp.'s (Comsat) ground station at Paumalu on the other side of the island.

AN 85-FOOT DISH transmitter relays it to Pacific 2 which hovers over the equator 22,300 miles in space. From Pacific 2 it is received at the Comsat ground station at Brewster Flat, Wash., then sent via phone line to NBC's facilities at Burbank, Calif., where it is piped to the NBC network of stations.

All of this electronic wizardry naturally costs money. For the 2½-hour two-day coverage of the Hawaiian Open (Sat. 6:30-7:30 p.m.) the Comsat and AT&T charges come to approximately $30,000, which is peanuts for a network bringing a program to the U.S. mainland, but an almost prohibitive price for, say, a single Hawaiian TV station which might wish to bring a telecast from the mainland to its viewers in Hawaii.

SO FAR, the only "live" transmission our 50th state has received from the mainland was last year's Notre Dame-Michigan State football game. Apparently one of the TV stations there received enough local sponsorship to at least break even on it.

In the case of this week's golf classic, NBC has two sponsors to pick up the tab. Otherwise the TV coverage would have gone begging, because the network also has had to fly several tons of equipment, including color cameras, to Waialae Country Club. Color cameras in Honolulu still are rare.

Besides the underwriters of the Hawaiian Open putting up a $100,000 purse for the golfers, they also had to make sure most of golfdom's star players' would be on hand to insure that a network and sponsors would be interested.

Most of the top golfers accepted with the exception of Jack Nicklaus, who had a previous commitment in Australia.

"MANY OF the pro golfers' wives love Hawaii and want to come here, so that helped us," said one of the Waialae members.

Oahu's Chamber of Commerce boosters are ecstatic over this opportunity to show off the lush greenery of the island of Oahu to mainlanders via a TV network.

Aside from some brief TV news coverage beamed from Hawaii over the Pacfic 1 satellite (Lani Bird) last year when President Johnson conferred here with South Vetnam's then Premiere Ky, the Hawaiians haven't been able to take much advantage of their new TV link with the mainland.

Each of Comsat's satellites, Pacific 1 and Pacific 2, contains 240 communications channels, most of which presently are used for telephone and radio communications Pacific 2, incidentally, is equipped with rockets which would allow ground contollers to drift it over the Atlantic, in case our Early Bird satellites in that area were to fail or traffic required extra circuits.

WHILE TOURING the facilities at Comsat's Paumalu ground station some time ago I was told that the installation took $9 million to construct and equip. That is exactly the amount of money appropriated for the first year of operation for a Public TV Corp. in a bill now awaiting the President's signature.

I only bring this up to show that $9 million for a Public TV network is relatively very little when one considers that same amount is sunk into three structures (two antennae and one building) on a 240-acre field on the island of Oahu.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" was composed by Francis Scott Key in 1814, during the bombardment of Ft. McHenry, but it was not adopted as the official national anthem until President Herbert Hoover signed a congressional bill authorizing it as such on Mar. 3, 1931, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Smaller Portions Do Trick

A fresh incentive to slim down can inspire you to take action. The heroine in today's story is a perfect example.

Ida Jean Kain

This young woman was promoted to the receptionist's desk at our syndicate. In this capacity, she also handles your letters and leaflet requests. Special problem letters are forwarded to your dietitian, along with the success stories. Reading your letters day after day stimulated her to take action. Here is her note:

"I thought you would be interested in a story from the 'home front.' Since being on the receptionist's desk and 'out in the open on display,' I decided 160 pounds was too much to weigh. Reports from your reducers encouraged me to change my eating habits.

"I started four months ago. I cut my food to about half, and ate sparingly of sweets and starches. I went from 160 pounds to 138 pounds. (Before motherhood, I weighed 130 pounds). I am 5-foot-6. I changed from size 20 to a size 14. Now I need a maintenance pattern. I never want to go back to 160 pounds!" she concluded.

WONDERFUL! A loss of 22 pounds in four months is the perfect rate to reduce. The secret of keeping slim is to develop a built-in food regulator. This you can do by establishing a holding period in which you neither gain nor lose.

Smaller servings helped to lessen your food capacity. Never deliberately go back to the habit of eating until you get that full feeling. To do so would tend to up your "appestat."

During the holding stage, the character of your pattern is most important. Certain foods can be increased, but even so, the increase should be gradual. Which foods afford lasting satisfaction?

You will probably find it is lean meat. A curious nutritional fact will work in your favor. No one is able to eat enough lean meat alone to gain. It's the French fries, hot buttered buns and so on that boost calories. You can increase the meat serving, but lean only.

To fix good food habits, stick fairly close to the protective pattern and do not overeat at any one meal. Build each meal around a high - value protein-lean meat, fish, chicken or turkey (no skin) cottage cheese and eggs. "Creamed" cottage cheese is fat - free, it's moistened with milk.

A MODERATE amount of daily exercise, particularly during the holding period, is extremely important. Toned muscles discourage fatty deposit.

Also, with toned musculature, you look and feel svelte. This silken - slim feeling will help you to think like the slim, lissome, attractive woman you are. Keep the slim image — drum it into your dreams. Then you won't be tempted to slip back into overeating ways. You'll have a built-in food regulator. Happy day!

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Isometric Exercises. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Stab Wounds Found In Body Of Niece Of Ohio Senator

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Stab wounds have been found on the body of a young secretary — the niece of Ohio Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King—which was found by a schoolboy in a ditch near here.

Wood County Coroner Roger Peatee said Tuesday night a partial autopsy had determined that red-haired 20-year-old Karen Diane Kern of Sylvania was shot seven times and stabbed three times.

Authorities at first thought the victim suffered six bullet wounds.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Patricia Kern, is a sister of King, who also is presisdent of the Ohio AFL-CIO, one of the most powerful labor organizations in the state.

Peatee was awaiting the results of medical tests to determine if the secretary at Hillview Elementary School in Sylvania, near Toledo, was sexually assaulted.

Miss Kern's red compact car was found several hours after the body was discovered Monday night. The car was parked along Interstate 75, four miles from a rural area of Wood County where the nude body was found in an irrigation ditch.

Miss Kern was returning from a weekend visit with friends in Charleston, Ill., when last heard from.

She telephoned her mother from a service station at Beaverdam in Allen County southwest of here, saying she was having minor repairs done on her car, according to Sheriff Earl Rife.

A friend, Edward Gilmore, 18, also of Sylvania, received a similar call. Miss Kern said she would be delayed by the repairs.

An attendant at the service station told authorities that he fixed the car and that Miss Kern drove away alone.

Her clothes were found in a ditch near the body. Rife said her personal effects were found in the car and there was no sign of a struggle.

British Aide Points Attack At Publisher

LONDON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary George Brown was deep in controversy again today after telling the nation's biggest publisher "it is about time you shut up" and calling British newspapers "the most prostituted press in the world."

Brown turned on Lord Thomson of Fleet at a banquet the publisher gave for American executives Wednesday night, then later waded into a 10-minute row with newsmen covering the banquet.

Brown's outburst was apparently set off by a joke Thomson made introducing him. The foreign secretary put aside his prepared text to attack the Canadian-born publisher, apparently for a series of articles his London Sunday Times is running about Harold Philby, the former Foreign Office man who spied for the Soviet Union for 30 years until he defected to Moscow in 1963.

"You are doing—your papers are doing under your control—a very great disservice to this country and a very great disservice to the affairs which we ought to be controlling," Brown said.

"I am your guest but I must make this quite clear: I think you are overdoing it and I think it is about time you stopped.

"It is about time we stopped giving the Russians half a start on what we are doing. It is about time you shut up.

"If you don't want to be a Cyrus Eaton. . ." and here Brown went back to his prepared speech on "Britain in a Changing World." He made no further reference to Eaton, the American industrialist who has maintained close contacts with Kremlin leaders.

Thomson, who publishes a number of papers in the United States, took the attack with good humor.

He told his guests: "We don't always take George very seriously, and now you have a very good picture of the man who is foreign secretary of this great country, the Right Honorable George Brown."

When newsmen approached Brown for confirmation that his attack on Thomson had been prompted by the Philby disclosures, a 10-minute scene followed, terminated by Brown's calling the newsmen "the most prostituted press in the world," a quote from the late Labor party leader Aneurin Bevan.

Two Youngstown Men Jailed In Counterfeit Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A long legal battle by two Youngstown men to stay out of jail ended Tuesday and they began serving sentences on counterfeit charges imposed four years ago.

Vincent Serman, 41, a lawyer, and Lenine Strollo, 47, a former Poland Township tavern owner, were convicted of counterfeit money operations in U.S. District Court here in 1963. Judge Girard E. Kalfleisch sentenced Serman to 13 years and handed Strollo a nine-year term.

Testimony at their trial revealed they were principals in a gang that flooded Youngstown with $60,000 in counterfeit money.

Following their conviction, each posted $25,000 bond and began a legal fight to keep from serving the sentences. They took their case all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court which, in 1965, refused to hear the appeal.

Serman and Strollo then started all over again and appealed on a different issue. The Supreme Court last month once again refused to hear the appeal.

Britain took command of the strategic island of Malta in 1799 and made it a fortified outpost and dockyard for the British fleet.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I increase the efficiency of my carpet sweeper?

A.—By dampening the brushes of the sweeper slightly just before using it, they will do a much better job of picking up lint, dust, and the like.

Q.—How can I drill a hole in glass?

A.—Use a regular steel drill, and keep the point of contact saturated with camphorated oil or turpentine or mineral spirits. Don't exert too much pressure — let the drill do the work.

Q. — How can I clean copper, brass, and pewter?

A. — Apply a paste composed of equal parts of flour, vinegar, and salt, allow to remain on the metal for about an hour, then rub it off and wash the metal with warm water before polishing.

EYE SYMPTOMS MAY BE WARNINGS OF DANGER

They may indicate the eyes themselves need help or that conditions in the body are causing eye problems which are doing them serious harm. Eyesight is too important to neglect any signs of abnormal vision.

A sudden, severe pain in the eyes spreading over the head may be a sign of glaucoma, which can destroy vision in hours. Watch out for recurring dimming of vision, halos around lights, distortions of objects, double vision, excessive tears and blinking, red eyelids and unequal pupils. All these are symptoms which almost demand the immediate attention of a physician or ophthalmologist. When medication is needed, we can fill any prescription.

By HAL HUMPHREY

Golf From Hawaii Via Space

Sports fans continue to benefit the most from the establishment of four TV satellites.

They've seen championship prize fights and grand prix races via satellite and now this coming Saturday and Sunday NBC is bouncing a "live" transmission of the third annual Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament from the island of Oahu via the new Pacific 2 satellite launched Sept. 28.

Hal Humphrey

From the scene of the tournament at Waialae Country Club, the picture signal is beamed to our Communications Satellite Corp.'s (Comsat) ground station at Paumalu on the other side of the island.

AN 85-FOOT DISH transmitter relays it to Pacific 2 which hovers over the equator 22,300 miles in space. From Pacific 2 it is received at the Comsat ground station at Brewster Flat, Wash., then sent via phone line to NBC's facilities at Burbank, Calif., where it is piped to the NBC network of stations.

All of this electronic wizardy naturally costs money. For the 2½-hour two-day coverage of the Hawaiian Open (Sat. 6:30-7:30 p.m.) the Comsat and AT&T charges come to approximately $30,000, which is peanuts for a network bringing a program to the U.S. mainland, but an almost prohibitive price for, say, a single Hawaiian TV station which might wish to bring a telecast from the mainland to its viewers in Hawaii.

SO FAR, the only "live" transmission our 50th state has received from the mainland was last year's Notre Dame-Michigan State football game. Apparently one of the TV stations there received enough local sponsorship to at least break even on it.

In the case of this week's golf classic, NBC has two sponsors to pick up the tab. Otherwise the TV coverage would have gone begging, because the network also has had to fly several tons of equipment, including color cameras, to Waialae Country Club. Color cameras in Honolulu still are rare.

Besides the underwriters of the Hawaiian Open putting up a $100,000 purse for the golfers, they also had to make sure most of golfdom's star players' would be on hand to insure that a network and sponsors would be interested.

Most of the top golfers accepted with the exception of Jack Nicklaus, who had a previous commitment in Australia.

"MANY OF the pro golfers' wives love Hawaii and want to come here, so that helped us," said one of the Waialae members.

Oahu's Chamber of Commerce boosters are ecstatic over this opportunity to show off the lush greenery of the island of Oahu to mainlanders via a TV network.

Aside from some brief TV news coverage beamed from Hawaii over the Pacfic 1 satellite (Lani Bird) last year when President Johnson conferred here with South Vetnam's then Premiere Ky, the Hawaiians haven't been able to take much advantage of their new TV link with the mainland.

Each of Comsat's satellites, Pacific 1 and Pacific 2, contains 240 communications channels, most of which presently are used for telephone and radio communications Pacific 2, incidentally, is equipped with rockets which would allow ground contollers to drift it over the Atlantic, in case our Early Bird satellites in that area were to fail or traffic required extra circuits.

WHILE TOURING the facilities at Comsat's Paumalu ground station some time ago I was told that the installation took $9 million to construct and equip. That is exactly the amount of money appropriated for the first year of operation for a Public TV Corp. in a bill now awaiting the President's signature.

I only bring this up to show that $9 million for a Public TV network is relatively very little when one considers that same amount is sunk into three structures (two antennae and one building) on a 240-acre field on the island of Oahu.

Q.—How can I increase the efficiency of my carpet sweeper?

A.—By dampening the brushes of the sweeper slightly just before using it, they will do a much better job of picking up lint, dust, and the like.

Q.—How can I drill a hole in glass?

A.—Use a regular steel drill, and keep the point of contact saturated with camphorated oil or turpentine or mineral spirits. Don't exert too much pressure — let the drill do the work.

Q. — How can I clean copper, brass, and pewter?

A. — Apply a paste composed of equal parts of flour, vinegar, and salt, allow to remain on the metal for about an hour, then rub it off and wash the metal with warm water before polishing.

Keep In Trim

Smaller Portions Do Trick

A fresh incentive to slim down can inspire you to take action. The heroine in today's story is a perfect example.

Ida Jean Kain

This young woman was promoted to the receptionist's desk at our syndicate. In this capacity, she also handles your letters and leaflet requests. Special problem letters are forwarded to your dietitian, along with the success stories. Reading your letters day after day stimulated her to take action. Here is her note:

"I thought you would be interested in a story from the 'home front.' Since being on the receptionist's desk and 'out in the open on display,' I decided 160 pounds was too much to weigh. Reports from your reducers encouraged me to change my eating habits.

"I started four months ago. I cut my food to about half, and ate sparingly of sweets and starches. I went from 160 pounds to 138 pounds. (Before motherhood, I weighed 130 pounds). I am 5-foot-6. I changed from size 20 to a size 14. Now I need a maintenance pattern. I never want to go back to 160 pounds!" she concluded.

WONDERFUL! A loss of 22 pounds in four months is the perfect rate to reduce. The secret of keeping slim is to develop a built-in food regulator. This you can do by establishing a holding period in which you neither gain nor lose.

Smaller servings helped to lessen your food capacity. Never deliberately go back to the habit of eating until you get that full feeling. To do so would tend to up your "appestat."

During the holding stage, the character of your pattern is most important. Certain foods can be increased, but even so, the increase should be gradual. Which foods afford lasting satisfaction?

You will probably find it is lean meat. A curious nutritional fact will work in your favor. No one is able to eat enough lean meat alone to gain. It's the French fries, hot buttered buns and so on that boost calories. You can increase the meat serving, but lean only.

To fix good food habits, stick fairly close to the protective pattern and do not overeat at any one meal. Build each meal around a high - value protein-lean meat, fish, chicken or turkey (no skin) cottage cheese and eggs. "Creamed" cottage cheese is fat - free, it's moistened with milk.

A MODERATE amount of daily exercise, particularly during the holding period, is extremely important. Toned muscles discourage fatty deposit.

Also, with toned musculature, you look and feel svelte. This silken - slim feeling will help you to think like the slim, lissome, attractive woman you are. Keep the slim image — drum it into your dreams. Then you won't be tempted to slip back into overeating ways. You'll have a built-in food regulator. Happy day!

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Isometric Exercises. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Stab Wounds Found In Body Of Niece Of Ohio Senator

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Stab wounds have been found on the body of a young secretary — the niece of Ohio Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King—which was found by a schoolboy in a ditch near here.

Wood County Coroner Roger Peatee said Tuesday night a partial autopsy had determined that red-haired 20-year-old Karen Diane Kern of Sylvania was shot seven times and stabbed three times.

Authorities at first thought the victim suffered six bullet wounds.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Patricia Kern, is a sister of King, who also is presisdent of the Ohio AFL-CIO, one of the most powerful labor organizations in the state.

Peatee was awaiting the results of medical tests to determine if the secretary at Hillview Elementary School in Sylvania, near Toledo, was sexually assaulted.

Miss Kern's red compact car was found several hours after the body was discovered Monday night. The car was parked along Interstate 75, four miles from a rural area of Wood County where the nude body was found in an irrigation ditch.

Miss Kern was returning from a weekend visit with friends in Charleston, Ill., when last heard from.

She telephoned her mother from a service station at Beaverdam in Allen County southwest of here, saying she was having minor repairs done on her car, according to Sheriff Earl Rife.

A friend, Edward Gilmore, 18, also of Sylvania, received a similar call. Miss Kern said she would be delayed by the repairs.

An attendant at the service station told authorities that he fixed the car and that Miss Kern drove away alone.

Her clothes were found in a ditch near the body. Rife said her personal effects were found in the car and there was no sign of a struggle.

British Aide Points Attack At Publisher

LONDON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary George Brown was deep in controversy again today after telling the nation's biggest publisher "it is about time you shut up" and calling British newspapers "the most prostituted press in the world."

Brown turned on Lord Thomson of Fleet at a banquet the publisher gave for American executives Wednesday night, then later waded into a 10-minute row with newsmen covering the banquet.

Brown's outburst was apparently set off by a joke Thomson made introducing him. The foreign secretary put aside his prepared text to attack the Canadian-born publisher, apparently for a series of articles his London Sunday Times is running about Harold Philby, the former Foreign Office man who spied for the Soviet Union for 30 years until he defected to Moscow in 1963.

"You are doing—your papers are doing under your control—a very great disservice to this country and a very great disservice to the affairs which we ought to be controlling," Brown said.

"I am your guest but I must make this quite clear: I think you are overdoing it and I think it is about time you stopped.

"It is about time we stopped giving the Russians half a start on what we are doing. It is about time you shut up.

"If you don't want to be a Cyrus Eaton. . ." and here Brown went back to his prepared speech on "Britain in a Changing World." He made no further reference to Eaton, the American industrialist who has maintained close contacts with Kremlin leaders.

Thomson, who publishes a number of papers in the United States, took the attack with good humor.

He told his guests: "We don't always take George very seriously, and now you have a very good picture of the man who is foreign secretary of this great country, the Right Honorable George Brown."

When newsmen approached Brown for confirmation that his attack on Thomson had been prompted by the Philby disclosures, a 10-minute scene followed, terminated by Brown's calling the newsmen "the most prostituted press in the world," a quote from the late Labor party leader Aneurin Bevan.

Two Youngstown Men Jailed In Counterfeit Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A long legal battle by two Youngstown men to stay out of jail ended Tuesday and they began serving sentences on counterfeit charges imposed four years ago.

Vincent Serman, 41, a lawyer, and Lenine Strollo, 47, a former Poland Township tavern owner, were convicted of counterfeit money operations in U.S. District Court here in 1963. Judge Girard E. Kalfleisch sentenced Serman to 13 years and handed Strollo a nine-year term.

Testimony at their trial revealed they were principals in a gang that flooded Youngstown with $60,000 in counterfeit money.

Following their conviction, each posted $25,000 bond and began a legal fight to keep from serving the sentences. They took their case all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court which, in 1965, refused to hear the appeal.

Serman and Strollo then started all over again and appealed on a different issue. The Supreme Court last month once again refused to hear the appeal.

Britain took command of the strategic island of Malta in 1799 and made it a fortified outpost and dockyard for the British fleet.

EYE SYMPTOMS MAY BE WARNINGS OF DANGER
They may indicate the eyes themselves need help or that conditions in the body are causing eye problems which are doing them serious harm. Eyesight is too important to neglect any signs of abnormal vision.
A sudden, severe pain in the eyes spreading over the head may be a sign of glaucoma, which can destroy vision in hours. Watch out for recurring dimming of vision, halos around lights, distortions of objects, double vision, excessive tears and blinking, red eyelids and unequal pupils. All these are symptoms which almost demand the immediate attention of a physician or ophthalmologist. When medication is needed, we can fill any prescription.

Jackie Lands In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Looking fresh and cool in white, Mrs. John F. Kennedy stepped from an Italian airliner into Bangkok's 100-degree noonday heat and kissed the cheek of Washington newsman Charles Bartlett.

Mrs. Kennedy and Lord Harlech, the widowed former British ambassador to Washington, arrived from Rome to join Bartlett, a columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times, his wife, and Michael Forrestal, son of the late U.S. secretary of defense, for a trip to Cambodia and the ruins of Angkor Wat.

Although Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, broke relations with the United States in March 1965 and has repeatedly accused U.S. forces in Vietnam of violating his frontier, a U.S. Air Force plane will take Mrs. Kennedy and her party to Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, on Thursday.

Before returning to Bangkok Nov. 8, Mrs. Kennedy will dedicate a street named for her husband in the port of Sihanoukville as well as visit the famed temple ruins that are one of the most notable tourist attractions in Asia.

Mrs. Kennedy is scheduled to spend three days in Bangkok after her return.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean a suede jacket?

A.—Best of all is professional treatment. But if you want to try it yourself, one method that is often effective consists of rubbing the suede thoroughly with a mixture of equal parts fuller's earth and alum, then following with a good brushing.

SALINEVILLE — Two incumbent members of the Southern Local School District board of education are seeking re-election Nov. 7 in competition with four other candidates.

Edward Thompson of Jefferson St., Salineville, and Mrs. Lucille Huston of Alderlick Rd., near Wellsville, are comboard. The district includes Sapleting their first terms on the lineville, Highlandtown, No. 16, Wayne and Franklin School at Summitville.

The other candidates are Dominic Sabatino and Fred Johnson of Summitville, Glenn W. Duck of Route 39 near Wellsville and Arthur Shasteen of Steubenville Pike, south of Lisbon.

Thompson, an employe of the Madison Hardware in Salineville, is married and has two children. Mrs. Huston, former board clerk, is employed at the County Extension Office in Lisbon. Her husband, John, is a farmer.

Duck is employed at the Titanium Metals Corp., Toronto, is president of the No. 16 PTA, is married and has four daughters.

Johnson, president of the Summitville Tile Co., served on the former Franklin Local board before consolidation.

Jackie Lands In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Looking fresh and cool in white, Mrs. John F. Kennedy stepped from an Italian airliner into Bangkok's 100-degree noonday heat and kissed the cheek of Washington newsman Charles Bartlett.

Mrs. Kennedy and Lord Harlech, the widowed former British ambassador to Washington, arrived from Rome to join Bartlett, a columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times, his wife, and Michael Forrestal, son of the late U.S. secretary of defense, for a trip to Cambodia and the ruins of Angkor Wat.

Although Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, broke relations with the United States in March 1965 and has repeatedly accused U.S. forces in Vietnam of violating his frontier, a U.S. Air Force plane will take Mrs. Kennedy and her party to Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, on Thursday.

Before returning to Bangkok Nov. 8, Mrs. Kennedy will dedicate a street named for her husband in the port of Sihanoukville as well as visit the famed temple ruins that are one of the most notable tourist attractions in Asia.

Mrs. Kennedy is scheduled to spend three days in Bangkok after her return.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean a suede jacket?

A.—Best of all is professional treatment. But if you want to try it yourself, one method that is often effective consists of rubbing the suede thoroughly with a mixture of equal parts fuller's earth and alum, then following with a good brushing.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELECTRIC POWER

QUESTION: How does water make electricity?

ANSWER: Power produced by burning coal helped make the United States a great industrial nation. Coal produced steam to run railroads, power factories and generate electricity. Another great source of power is suggested by our picture of the white water pouring over Niagara Falls. Water power is sometimes referred to as "white coal," because it can do one of black coal's jobs, generate electricity, and because it looks so white foaming down over a dam. The cross section at upper right shows one way in which the force of "white coal" or falling water is used to generate electricity. A dam is built across a river gorge backing up a large body of water into a lake. Some of this water falls down through a part in the dam or power house built to conduct it. Its weight spins a turbine wheel which in turn spins a generator, creating electricity which is then stored or led off to be used for light or power.

Under Recently-Enacted Program

Veterans' Benefits Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays has pointed out that the Vietnam era and older veterans and dependents in Ohio's 18th Congressional District are expected to receive an increase of $543,940 in benefits from the Veterans Administration during the next 12 months.

The added payments go to veterans and their widows and children under various benefits provided by the Veterans Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 recently signed by President Johnson.

A MAJOR provision of the new G.I. Bill was a cost-of-living pension increase. For an estimated 3,710 Congressional District constituents, this will account for nearly $209,140 of the added benefits.

Hays estimated that additional readjustment assistance for approximately 118 eligible veterans will cost about $27,480, with the increase in educational and training benefits for more than 1,191 eligible veterans and dependents totaling approximately $307,320 in the first year of operation of the new G.I. Bill.

The increased benefits went into effect Oct. 1.

OTHER pension provisions of the new G.I. Bill, Hays explained:

Create a new "housebound" rate of $100 a month, in lieu of basic pension rate, for certain veterans under the old pension law.

Establish a new monthly allowance of $50 in addition to pension otherwise payable to widows of veterans of all wars if they are need of regular aid and attendance.

Presume permanent and total disability of veterans at age 65.

Presume the need of regular aid and attendance for pensioners in nursing homes.

—:—

THE VETERANS Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act also provides the range of benefits for veterans serving in the armed forces during the Vietnam era, beginning on Aug. 5, 1964, which have previously been authorized for veterans of the Korean Conflict, including:

Disability compensation at wartime rates.

Allowance (not to exceed $1,600) for the purchase of an automobile for eligible disabled veterans.

An increase in educational assistance allowances for full-time courses from $100 to $130 a month for a single veteran, $125 to $155 for a veteran with one dependent, $150 to $175 for two dependents, with an additional $10 for each dependent in excess of two. Proportionately smaller allowances will be paid for part-time training.

Full educational assistance allowance for "educationally disadvantaged" veterans so that they can complete high school without reducing their eligibility for advanced educational benefits.

A monthly allowance for on-the-job training for the first six months ranging from $90 a month for a single veteran to $100 a month for a veteran with two or more dependents. The allowances are reduced for succeeding six - month periods.

A monthly allowance for farm cooperative training covering institutional agricultural courses with a minimum of 12 clock hours per week in addition to related work on the farm. Allowances range from $105 a month for a single veteran to $145 a month for a veteran with two or more dependents, plus an additional $7 a month for each additional dependent.

Ninety per cent of the established charge for flight training for veterans with a private license (or the equivalent in flight training hours) who can pass the physical examination for a commercial pilot's license.

An increase from 23 to 26 in the age limit for children of certain deceased or totally and permanently disabled veterans entitled to war orphans' educational assistance from the Veterans Administration.

Hays said that veterans and their widows and children in his district may obtain detailed information on the benefits and services to which they may be entitled under the act from any VA office.

John Hancock was the first to sign the Declaration of Independence. This act made the use of "John Hancock," meaning signature, an expression in America.

Talks Fail In Cincinnati News Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Presses at the Cincinnati Enquirer and the Cincinnati Post & Times-Star remained idle today. Negotiations failed to halt the newspaper strike Tuesday.

Negotiations between the Cincinnati Publishers Association and Local 130 of the lithographers and photoengravers' union broke off at 1 a.m. today, but some progress was reported. The strike began Monday.

Talks were to resume at 2 p.m. today.

Representatives of the union submitted an economic - wage proposal to the association, but after deliberation the association declined to approve the proposal, a spokesman said.

"We aren't even close," John Gabbard, president of the engravers' local, said.

Larry Nash, spokesman for the publishers' association, commented, "We are still discussing issues" and repeated that he was still "optimistic" about the situation.

The bargaining did produce some results, Nash said, as two "key issues" were resolved. These were an agreement upon a contract expiration date of March 1, 1970 and a clause dealing with rights of other unions to honor picket lines.

Only 13 engravers are involved in the strike, but unions honoring the picket lines have made publication of the papers impossible.

Editorial members of the Guild at the Post voted Tuesday to honor picket lines but the editorial staff of the morning Enquirer decided to work until the group's lawyer submits a proposal. They said individuals are free to honor picket lines.

The old agreement called for a salary of $161.50 for a 37½-hour work week. The contract expired March 1 and they had been working without a contract.

Veterans' Benefits Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays has pointed out that the Vietnam era and older veterans and dependents in Ohio's 18th Congressional District are expected to receive an increase of $543,940 in benefits from the Veterans Administration during the next 12 months.

The added payments go to veterans and their widows and children under various benefits provided by the Veterans Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 recently signed by President Johnson.

A MAJOR provision of the new G.I. Bill was a cost-of-living pension increase. For an estimated 3,710 Congressional District constituents, this will account for nearly $209,140 of the added benefits.

Hays estimated that additional readjustment assistance for approximately 118 eligible veterans will cost about $27,480, with the increase in educational and training benefits for more than 1,191 eligible veterans and dependents totaling approximately $307,320 in the first year of operation of the new G.I. Bill.

The increased benefits went into effect Oct. 1.

OTHER pension provisions of the new G.I. Bill, Hays explained:

Create a new "housebound" rate of $100 a month, in lieu of basic pension rate, for certain veterans under the old pension law.

Establish a new monthly allowance of $50 in addition to pension otherwise payable to widows of veterans of all wars if they are need of regular aid and attendance.

Presume permanent and total disability of veterans at age 65.

Presume the need of regular aid and attendance for pensioners in nursing homes.

—:—

THE VETERANS Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act also provides the range of benefits for veterans serving in the armed forces during the Vietnam era, beginning on Aug. 5, 1964, which have previously been authorized for veterans of the Korean Conflict, including:

Disability compensation at wartime rates.

Disability pension for veterans and death pension for widows and children.

Allowance (not to exceed $1,600) for the purchase of an automobile for eligible disabled veterans.

An increase in educational assistance allowances for full-time courses from $100 to $130 a month for a single veteran, $125 to $155 for a veteran with one dependent, $150 to $175 for two dependents, with an additional $10 for each dependent in excess of two. Proportionately smaller allowances will be paid for part-time training.

Full educational assistance allowance for "educationally disadvantaged" veterans so that they can complete high school without reducing their eligibility for advanced educational benefits.

A monthly allowance for on-the-job training for the first six months ranging from $80 a month for a single veteran to $100 a month for a veteran with two or more dependents. The allowances are reduced for succeeding six - month periods.

A monthly allowance for farm cooperative training covering institutional agricultural courses with a minimum of 12 clock hours per week in addition to related work on the farm. Allowances range from $105 a month for a single veteran to $145 a month for a veteran with two or more dependents, plus an additional $7 a month for each additional dependent.

Ninety per cent of the established charge for flight training for veterans with a private license (or the equivalent in flight training hours) who can pass the physical examination for a commercial pilot's license.

An increase from 23 to 26 in the age limit for children of certain deceased or totally and permanently disabled veterans entitled to war orphans' educational assistance from the Veterans Administration.

Hays said that veterans and their widows and children in his district may obtain detailed information on the benefits and services to which they may be entitled under the act from any VA office.

John Hancock was the first to sign the Declaration of Independence. This act made the use of "John Hancock," meaning signature, an expression in America.
